

Citizens await movement in Cherry Street Trail

Hilary Dorsey
Staff Writer

The Classic Ridge Trail Access Campaign (TAC) proposed and presented to the Manzanita City Council in May 2020 to permit use of a new public walking trail, the South Cherry Trail, where existing right-of-way exists from Cherry Street west to Ocean Road. The trail would be for walking and would provide beach access and an evacuation route for numerous residents of the Classic Ridge area.

The city had closed the public right-of-way at Ocean Way, south of Cherry to the beach. Many neighbors had used the route to the beach.

"The fencing and blockage of all access to and from Classic Ridge to the beach on April 26, 2020 has caused extreme concern and hardship for those in Classic Ridge and an urgent solution is essential," the proposal to the city stated.

Mayor Mike Scott had stated in a previous letter to the TAC that his hope would be that an answer and path forward could be developed no later than the first quarter of 2021.

The city had agreed in a special council meeting Jan. 14, 2021 to post no trespassing signs on the right-of-way to prevent a tort claim from a neighbor. The proposed trail is in view of his yard.

Stan Myers, a resident of Classic Ridge, said the city has not moved forward on the trail. Several citizens voiced this concern during a city council meeting Sept. 8. Chris Robinson, who has a home on Cherry Street, said the residents had access to the beach for decades.

"Until the city blocked the access, we and our neighbors enjoyed that," Robinson said. "I'm asking the city to work with us to establish a trail."

Citizen Patrick Murphy said the concern is getting a timeframe and there has been proven historic use of the trail.

"The number of people being cut off for beach access versus the number of people who are threatened by that beach access; it just seems weird to me that the city council hasn't addressed this earlier," Murphy said.

City Manager Leila Aman gave an update on the trail during the Sept. 8 meeting.

"There's a lot of feelings and a lot of things that have happened with this project," Aman said.

The city created a Master Trail Plan that includes the proposed South Cherry Trail. Aman said the city is intending to have a trail committee once the city has the capacity to manage it. Any trail that gets developed will go through the process that has been set up with the Master Trail Plan, which includes an appointment of a committee, the establishment of criteria, the evaluation of trails in response to that criteria, and prioritization based on those criteria, and the ability of funding.

"I'll be working with the council to establish when that committee will be started," Aman said.

Aman added that she would need at least six months to get the committee underway, as the city has other demanding priorities right now.

Residents in the Classic Ridge neighborhood have posted signs in their yards, supporting the trail. Myers said the citizens are asking for movement forward in the project and a reasonable timeline.

"While it is public right-of-way, it is extremely constrained," Aman said. "There are a number of issues related to that."

Aman said she shared these details with the technical advisory group and walked through those details.

There is an adjacent build going on a 1.4-acre sand dune next to the right-of-way, owned by citizen Randy Jertberg. Myers said Jertberg has agreed to an adjacent easement on his property to expand the width of the trail to make it less steep and easier to walk.

Myers said the campaign has agreed to fund the trail. He said they have all the solutions but no leader in the City of Manzanita, leaving citizens disappointed. Citizens who once were able to walk to the beach now have to drive.

Aman said there are a lot of things that need to be done to develop a trail, including dune management, a comprehensive storm water management plan and more. The Cherry Street Trail will be considered as part of the larger plan in the committee once it is formed.

Myers, Robinson, Murphy and over 100 other neighbors and supporters of the Cherry Trail proposal have waited over a year since the proposal was initiated for responses of other information needed by the city and for the development of a Master Trail Plan.

The group had provided a comprehensive proposal as requested by the city including involving a professional trail-building organization lead the build, addressed ADA issues, have arranged for a geotechnical report asking the city to provide scope for the report, and have replied to all questions by the city and agree to fund the entire project including ongoing maintenance, Myers said.

The city hired a trails consultant group to evaluate the proposal with recommendations that has not been completed as the former city manager inserted the Master Trail Plan requirement, Myers added. The same consultant completed the Master Trail Plan and suggested a trail committee be formed.

"This group can appreciate the other priorities the new city manager has and look forward to working with her on the solution to this beach access problem and are hoping that they can be represented in this new committee which will be appointed by the mayor," Myers said.

COVID-19 Update Tillamook County at 23 deaths

Hilary Dorsey
Staff Writer

Tillamook County Health Department reported during a Tillamook County Board of Commissioners meeting Wednesday, Sept. 15, 51 COVID-19 cases for the weekend case count between Sept. 10 and Sept. 12. For the 7-day case count, from Sept. 5 through Sept. 11, there were 150 cases. For the 14-day case count, there were 304 cases from Aug. 29 through Sept. 11.

"There are different causes for breakthrough cases," Administrator Marlene Putman said. "Really the causes are multi-factorial. They can include such things as an individual's immune system and the amount of virus that's in an individual's body."

As of Wednesday, Sept. 15, the death toll is at 23. As of press time, the health department had not provided information on whether the two new cases were unvaccinated or vaccinated individuals. On Sept. 14, the county stood at 21 deaths, with 17 of those unvaccinated individuals, three with no vaccine record and one fully vaccinated individual.

"With the COVID-19 surge across the state, Oregon Health Authority notes that an associated increase in COVID-19 related fatalities will and has occurred and will continue to do so," Putman said. "Oregon Health Sciences University has forecast that they expect this peak in COVID-19 related deaths to reach that peak actually by mid-September."

Putman said they hope and expect a decrease shortly after the peak.

Putman said Tillamook County has 77 hospitalizations, as of Sept. 15. Test positivity is currently at 16 percent, a slight decrease from the previous week, which was 16.6 percent.

Oregon Health Authority confirmed outbreaks, as of Sept. 15, at Fred Meyer with 30 cases, Tillamook Youth Correctional Facility with 30 cases, Stimson Lumber with 20 cases, Tillamook County Creamery Association with 14 cases, Tillamook County Smoker with 13 cases, Adventist Health with six cases, Hampton Lumber Company with six cases, and Tillamook County Transportation District with five cases.

"For ICU beds in our region, we have about 6 percent capacity," Putman said.

Monoclonal antibody therapy is available in Tillamook County. The antibodies can be effective at decreasing hospitalization rates and severity. The FDA has authorized the therapy for emergency use for eligible people, such as those who are considered high risk for developing severe symptoms with COVID-19.

"If you test positive for COVID-19 or have symptoms, talk to your health care provider right away," Putman said of the treatment. "This treatment must be given as soon as possible, or within 10 days, of getting a symptom. These treatments require provider referral after a positive test."

Locally, the treatment is given at Adventist Health Tillamook, Putman added.

The health department encourages people to follow mask requirements, wash hands frequently and make a plan to get a COVID-19 vaccine as soon as possible if able.

Putman said an average of 300 people are being tested a week. Drive up

NKN going to in-person learning

Hilary Dorsey
Staff Writer

Neah-Kah-Nie School District announced Monday, Sept. 20, plans to return to in-person learning Monday, Sept. 27. Tillamook School District began in-person learning Sept. 7, while Neah-Kah-Nie School District and Nestucca Valley School District began with distance learning. Nestucca Valley School District began in-person learning with a staggered return schedule beginning Monday, Sept. 20, with limited in-person learning.

Tillamook School District Superintendent Curt Shelley spoke during a school board meeting Monday, Sept. 13, about COVID-19 protocols at the schools.

"I cannot tell you how excited I was in June to take these masks off," Shelley said. I can't tell you how much more excited I was last Monday to welcome over 2,000 students into our building."

Shelley said if you are wearing a mask correctly, you do not have to isolate if you are a close contact, unless you test positive for COVID-19 or develop symptoms.

"We have a shortage in teachers," Shelley said.

Shelley told the Headlight Herald that since in-service in late August, the district has had 13 staff resignations, which include one certified teacher who transferred to another district and 12 classified employees. Of those 12 employees, six of them resigned as a result of vaccination requirements. The recent classified incentive, effective for one year, will increase classified salaries by 10 percent.

The school district has implemented many new things this school year, including vision screening, encouraging vaccinations, wearing masks and more.

"If we have the safety protocols in our schools, we can mitigate COVID," Shelley said. "We do have some issues and we do have some positive cases."

Shelley added that the district has not had a tremendous increase in cases since opening school.

Employees need to be fully vaccinated by Oct. 18 in K-12 schools. Shelley said he understands the frustration with the governor's mandate but employees have choice within the mandate. Employees can either be fully vaccinated by Oct. 18 or file a religious or medical exemption.

Due to a downward trend in test positivity in the county, Neah-Kah-Nie School District and Nestucca Valley School District are making plans to transition to in-person learning. Both districts began the school year with distance learning.

On Sept. 15, Neah-Kah-Nie School District announced in a letter to the community, that on Monday, Sept. 20, Neah-Kah-Nie School District and health officials will discuss the most current COVID-19 data and make a decision on whether to continue with distance learning or transition to in-person learning. If the district moves to in-person learning, the plan is for a Monday through Friday schedule. School administrators will continue to develop a plan to serve students who will be in quarantine.

New report details medical debt in Oregon

Hilary Dorsey
Staff Writer

OSPIRG released a report Thursday, Sept. 9, detailing medical debt in Oregon and how it can lead Oregonians to bankruptcy. The report, "Unhealthy Debt: Medical costs and bankruptcies in Oregon," states at least 60 percent of Oregon's consumer bankruptcies included medical debt in 2019.

In a press conference Sept. 9, health care advocates discussed the medical debt situation and offered ways to address the problem.

Maribeth Guarino, health care advocate with OSPIRG, said the nonprofit advocacy group looked at 8,000 bankruptcy filings in 2019. The report gives insight into the burden of medical debt.

"This report shows that high health care costs are not a problem limited to a single geographic area or economic demographic," Guarino said. "It's everywhere and we have to do something about it."

The report examined nearly $30 million in medical debt, Guarino added.

"Our report shows that the average medical debt was $2,362," Guarino said. "Over 600 people had $10,000 or more in medical debt."

Medical costs are increasing. In a poll released last May by OSPIRG, 30 percent of Oregon voters reported seeing an increase in their medical costs in the last 12 months.

"We desperately need to enact policies to address healthcare skyrocketing costs," Guarino said. "For example, we could provide a public health insurance option that provides consumers a low cost health insurance choice. We can also lower prescription drug costs so that care or treatment is not cost-prohibitive."

Caitlin Costello, a student at Portland State University, got health insurance seven years ago and broke her elbow shortly after.

"I had gone without insurance for almost eight years," Costello said of growing up. "It really formed the way my family worked for a long time. We avoided anything that increased risk for medical bills."

While in college, Costello could not afford insurance at first. She was able to get insurance seven years ago before her injury.

"I was still in the same mentality as before," Costello said. "I refused an ambulance, I waited almost three hours for family to come get me."

Costello said she knew it would be worse to pay for 'extras' or 'luxuries.' She refused pain medication upon arrival. During the entire process, she asked about cost and whether it was covered by insurance.

Costello said her medical bills accumulated to $20,000 with $4,000 she had to pay out of pocket.

"At the time, I was living paycheck to paycheck and desperately trying to get out of my situation," Costello said.

Costello is in school full time now and has health insurance. She said she appreciates the school has options but even those are not readily available.

Guarino said the next step for OSPIRG is sharing the report with every lawmaker they can. View the report at <https://bit.ly/3C3UfaO>

Manzanita City Council affirms Emergency Preparedness Month

Hilary Dorsey
Staff Writer

Manzanita City Council proclaimed during a meeting Wednesday, Sept. 8, the month of September as Emergency Preparedness Month. According to the proclamation, Emergency Preparedness Month provides an opportunity for residents of Manzanita to be prepared for any kind of emergency.

The Emergency Volunteer Corps of Nehalem Bay (EVCNB) was created to promote a culture of preparedness for all the residents of Manzanita and the Nehalem Bay area, the proclamation states. Taking steps toward personal preparedness and ensuring households, school, businesses and community organizations are prepared for a disaster can reduce fatalities and economic devastation following a crisis.

Mayor Mike Scott read the proclamation. He stated the proclamation is something the city has done for many years.

“Continuing efforts to enhance preparedness in the Nehalem Bay region has proven invaluable to the area’s response to previously unexpected crises, including tornadoes and a pandemic,” Scott read from the proclamation.

All residents are urged to make preparedness a priority, Scott read. Scott proclaimed September 2021 Emergency Preparedness Month.

Council President Linda Kozlowski said the city has put aside $10,000 per year that is going towards mass care, taking care of individuals after a major emergency. The next council meeting will begin the process of getting support from the council. The city is also looking a temporary emergency operations center.

“Several years ago, we had the opportunity to work with an all-classical radio station in the city of Portland,” Kozlowski said. “They needed a place for a transformer on the coast and the City of Manzanita allowed them to put their transformer on city property.”

In exchange for that, the radio station agreed that Manzanita could use the broadcasting station to broadcast emergency information, Kozlowski added. Emergency Volunteer Corps of Nehalem Bay runs tests announcements on KQMI-FM (88.9) every first and third Wednesday of the month at 11 a.m.

“In spite of COVID and no in-person meetings, we have gained ground in our mission,” said Brad Hart, of EVCNB. “Since last year, we have added one cluster, covering much of the area south of Laneda. This makes for a total of five groups preparing their neighborhoods for emergencies in Manzanita and 11 throughout the Nehalem Bay region.”

The sale of emergency go-bags is now an online pre-order and pickup. Over 100 bags have been sold through this process.

“The pandemic has and continues to have a tremendous impact in our communities,” Hart said. “Through our Medical Reserve Corps (MRC), Community Emergency Response Team (CERT) and other volunteers, EVCNB logged over 4,000 hours from January through June of this year, planning and delivering vaccinations in clinics throughout the county.”

Hart said in an emergency, it is important to be able to activate emergency teams. EVCNB is currently developing a custom app for alerts and activation of resources.

Preparation and drills are currently underway leading up to the Cascadia Rising exercise in June 2022. The exercise series will be a four-day exercise in which emergency operations centers will activate to coordinated simulated field response operations.

EVCNB hosts community webinar

The Emergency Volunteer Corps of Nehalem Bay will host a community webinar -- “Living with Wildfires: Perspectives from Oregon Leaders” -- live, online Thursday, Sep. 30 at 1 p.m.

With Oregon experiencing a record-breaking 2020 wildfire season, an early start to this year’s season, and a longer-than-normal drought period, including a 99°F June day in the Nehalem Bay Area, the possibility of more-frequent and bigger events in the future concerns both citizens and governmental agencies.

“Living with Wildfires” will feature wildfire management experts and state legislators discussing what is being done and can be done in the future to better protect the citizens and communities of Oregon.

The webinar is free, but advance registration is required to participate and can be done on Volunteer Corp. website -- evcnb.org -- through the “Register Now” link in the orange banner across the top.

Participants will include Doug Grafe, Oregon Department of Forestry (ODF) Chief of Fire Protection; Travis Medema, Oregon Chief Deputy State Fire Marshal; Mark Labhart, Retired Tillamook County Commissioner and ODF Incident and Area Commander; Dave Hunnicutt, President Oregon Property Owners Association; State Representative Paul Evans, District 20 (Monmouth); and State Senator Betsy Johnson, District 16 (Scappoose).

Rinehart Clinic is becoming Nehalem Bay Health Center & Pharmacy

Rinehart Clinic's board of directors is pleased to announce its decision to change the name of Rinehart Clinic to Nehalem Bay Health Center & Pharmacy.

The board began discussions about a name change after a strategic planning session early in 2020, during which the board and staff discussed aspirations for the future of Rinehart Clinic. The idea of a name change has come up several times since the clinic's former Medical Director, Dr. Harry Rinehart, retired in 2015. The board's vision was to select a name that describes the clinic's place in the community – not only the services it provides (health care and pharmacy), but also its physical location – in the hopes of drawing new patients and customers who may not be familiar with the Rinehart Clinic & Pharmacy.

To help guide the discussion, a community survey was conducted earlier this year to obtain feedback from staff, patients, customers, donors, and other community members. The board of directors appreciates everyone who took the time to respond. The board members gave careful consideration to all of the opinions provided in making their final decision.

"Our goal is to build on the clinic's foundational principles of providing compassionate, quality care to all who need it. As we become known throughout the region as the Nehalem Bay Health Center & Pharmacy, the other board members and I envision this new name as an opportunity to reach even more people with our integrated health care services," said Paul Erlebach, president of the Rinehart Clinic Board of Directors.

The Rinehart Clinic has a long legacy of providing compassionate, innovative care for the people of North Tillamook County and beyond. The clinic would not exist if not for Dr. Harry Rinehart and the generations of the Rinehart family doctors before him who set the stage for the type of compassionate community care Rinehart Clinic delivers. The new name is a nod to the history of the Rinehart Clinic; when Dr. Rinehart originally opened his own practice in 1994 at the current location, it was named Nehalem Bay Medical Clinic.

COVID

This is 70.76 percent of the 12-plus population and 61.91 percent of the total population. A total of 14,744 residents are considered fully vaccinated, with 63.51 percent of the 12 years and older population vaccinated and 55.57 percent of the total population vaccinated.

Emergency Preparedness Coordinator Ed Colson said for those needing to be fully vaccinated by Oct. 18 – all Oregon health care workers as well as teachers, educators and staff in K-12 schools – can still receive the single dose Johnson & Johnson vaccine by Oct. 4 in order to be considered fully vaccinated by Oct. 18.

Vaccine drop-in clinics are offered from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Tuesdays and Thursdays at the convention center at the fairgrounds.
