

Study may halt growth in Church Creek basin

The city of Charleston is considering a nine-month moratorium on new development in this West Ashley area while it studies its drainage systems. Neighborhoods in the Church Creek basin suffered severe flooding in 2015 and 2016.

Moratorium area
 Church Creek drainage basin

