

The Camden hotspot

An affluent neighborhood north of Camden (in red) was the epicenter of South Carolina's first documented coronavirus outbreak — an area of spacious homes and heavy socializing. Numbers represent the median home value for each area.

