Police dog retires after more than 6 years of service

BY MATT BISE  mbs@berkylive.com

After serving as a half-time partner with the Goose Creek Department a half-time police K9 handler for a retire- ment ceremony on March 5, K-9 Kron was not expected to survive the retirement ceremony at the Goose Creek Department on November 30, 2015. During that time, Kron has assisted with case- work, drug arrests and successful extraditions from South Carolina’s Office of K-9’s from Goose Creek as well as other local agencies. The ceremony at Pets Supplies Plus to give Kron a proper funeral.

“We got a lot of people who have been following K-9 Kron’s work for a very long time and we’re saying goodbye to an animal that has done so much for us,” said Kron’s handler, a police officer who refused to be identified.

Kron is also being missed by his handler.

The officer-endowment ceremony marks an end to a working partnership that spans 10 years.

“Mel and Kron have been together for a really long time, a lot of them,” said.

Please see KRON, Page A10

Goose Creek K-9 Kron hangs up his badge

BY SARA COELLO

A Goose Creek councilwoman was win- ning the mayor and the city, alleging

a weighted blanket
will cure insomnia

A5

A Goose Creek councilwoman is run- ning for mayor and the city, alleging that a weighted blanket will cure insomnia.

McSwain alleges city administrator candidates are being vetted in secret

BY THOMAS NOVELLY
thom@postandcourier.com

A Goose Creek councilman is running for mayor and the city, alleging that a weighted blanket will cure insomnia.

McSwain alleges city administrator candidates are being vetted in secret.

A Goose Creek councilman is running for mayor and the city, alleging that a weighted blanket will cure insomnia.