DELEGATE JAMES MOYLAN TO SEEK RE-ELECTION

(Hagatna, Guam) This morning at 11am, Delegate James Moylan will be filing his official candidate package with the Guam Election Commission, signaling his intention to seek re-election as Guam's Congressional Representative to the United States House of Representatives.

Delegate Moylan, who was first elected in 2022, and is serving his first term as Guam's Representative, is a two-term member of the Guam Legislature (35th and 36th). Prior to his time as an elected official, he spent nearly 25 years in the insurance, healthcare, and financial services industry, including as a general agent and small business owner. Jim, as he is known within the community, also worked in law enforcement, as a parole officer with the Guam Department of Corrections and served his island and nation as a Second Lieutenant in the Guam Army National Guard.

"It has been an honor to serve our island in the capacity of Guam's Delegate, and it is one that I hold near and dear to the heart. We hit the ground running from day one, ensuring that Guam's voices were heard in the nation's capital, and that every effort to push our community's issues were pursued. In just our first year, we were able to secure over $3.2 billion in economic activity for Guam, obtain a long-awaited extension of the H-2B visa which is vital for our economy, solved hundreds of constituent cases including regulatory concerns, while laying the groundwork for a variety of issues affecting everyone from veterans to the business community," stated Delegate Moylan.

"We came in at a point where Guam's image was tarnished in an ethics controversy, which meant the trust among our colleagues on both sides of the aisle had to have been earned, and we did so immediately. This resulted in three congressional delegation visits, including a historic field hearing on Guam. Our office has also opened the discussions on a variety of long-awaited issues from seeking a study to address the pros and cons of Guam being a part of the US Customs zone as it relates to the cost of goods, Medicare Portability, adding the Philippines to the Guam-CNMI visa waiver program, timelines for veterans to secure their disability ratings, and so much more. Our work has only begun, and I seek re-election, because we need to continue building on the foundation, we just set over the past 16 months. In Congress, continuity is critical, and continuing our work is good for Guam," added Delegate Moylan.

Delegate Moylan is a graduate of John F. Kennedy High School, the University of Guam, and is a proud father of Abby and Krissy Moylan.
