

The Carole Weinstein Author Series supports the literary arts by bringing both new and well-known authors to the Library of Virginia. The series focuses on Virginia authors and Virginia subjects across all genres and is made possible through support from the Carole Weinstein Endowment for Virginia Authors.

MICHAEL W. TWITTY

Recipes from the American South

Tues., Oct. 28 | 6:00–7:30 p.m.
Library of Virginia Lecture Hall | Free

A book signing will follow the talk.

Registration is required:
lva-virginia.libcal.com/event/15187764

Join us for a conversation between culinary historian Leni Sorensen and award-winning author and culinary historian Michael W. Twitty from his new book, “Recipes From the American South.” Building on the foundation of his James Beard Award–winning memoir, “The Cooking Gene,” Twitty once again brings his unparalleled scholarship, lived experience and eloquent storytelling to his exploration of the South.

