

TODAY I CONQUERED
CANCER AND SURGERY.
TOMORROW,
MED SCHOOL.

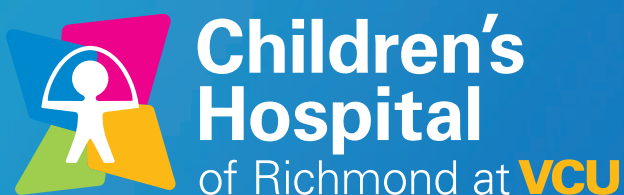

Andi, age 5

WE PLAY TO WIN

Andi loves bows, pearls and all things princess. She also adores the surgeon who saved her life during her battle with kidney cancer. When she's not playing princess, Andi's in her pink scrubs and stethoscope - dreaming of someday becoming a surgeon too. Our relentless dedication to helping kids like Andi thrive is why the American College of Surgeons recently awarded us the highest level of certification for children's surgical care.

We're proud to be one of only 10 children's hospitals on the east coast with this elite verification - not for the shiny badge - but for what it means for kids who turn to us for expert, compassionate surgical care. That's what playing to win is all about.
