

Student share of education funding

Virginia students shoulder thousands of dollars more for the cost of higher education than the national average. The State Higher Education Finance analyzed the student share of total education revenue at public institutions.

Source: State Higher Education Finance

Lee Enterprises graphic