Summary: The baseball program promotes a culture which emphasizes, “Hard, Smart, Together.” What this means to members of the team is to hustle at all times, do what is right, help those around you and emotionally lift each other up. The vast majority of the players described the culture as a brotherhood or a family. Multiple players and families indicated that they specifically moved their family to the HHS zone for the baseball team and the strong reputation of the coaches and program.

Almost all players were accompanied by a parent or parents; several parents participated virtually or by phone. [REDACTED]

A large black rectangular redaction box covers the majority of the page, obscuring all text and graphics. The box is positioned centrally, extending from the top margin to the bottom margin and across most of the page width. On the left side of the page, there is a vertical column of small, dark, rectangular marks, possibly representing a binding or a list of items, which are not obscured by the redaction box.
