

The Historic Altria Theater
Hosts 9th Annual

Best of Richmond AWARDS

Several hundred business owners and their employees, joined by many of the staff of the Richmond Times Dispatch, flocked to the historic Altria Theater on Thursday of last week, to celebrate the results, and the achievements they represent, of the RTD's annual BEST of Richmond contest. That contest not only gives readers of the newspaper, but everyone who cares about the businesses that make Richmond fabulous, a chance to vote for their favorites. It's a tradition that many have come to adore, and look forward to.

The historic Altria Theater in the heart of the City formed the perfect backdrop for the celebration, that included live music and a myriad of other forms of entertainment. The choice to partner with the theater was no coincidence, but rather by design, explained Regional Marketing Director for the RTD Billy Garland.

"We were so very excited to host this year's BEST event at the historic Altria Theater," Garland said. "Each year when we host this event, we start our search for a venue with one goal - finding a location that is truly iconic for the city of Richmond. From the moment I walked into the Altria the first time, I knew that this was the right venue for this year."

It is safe to say that The Altria Theater has been a staple in Richmond, with a storied history.

"The theater opened in 1927 as The Mosque Theater and was built as a temple for the American Masonic Society of The Shriners," Director of Sales and Marketing for Altria Brittany Griffith said. "From the very start, this iconic building was the place to be for the best musical and theatrical entertainment in the City of Richmond," Griffith said. "And that has never changed."

Griffith also said that in the almost 100 years the theater has stood across from Monroe Park, many have celebrated other milestones, like proms and graduation ceremonies, further cementing the theater as a true community-facing establishment.

The initial design included, among other things, 42 hotel rooms, four lounges and a swimming pool in the basement. The City purchased the theater in 1940, and a renovation in the mid-nineties restored the theater to its former splendor.

"Last year, we hosted around 130 commercial performances, ranging from Broadway shows to rock concerts," Griffith said. "But that did not include private events."

For those seeking an exquisite location for a private event, on stage, in the theater or in the iconic ballroom, The Altria Theater promises an event to remember, said Director of Private Events Sarah Douglas.

"First of all, this theater has an amazing WOW-factor," Douglas said. "It's such a beautiful place with such rich history. Those who come here for private events can experience an exclusive behind-the-scenes look. That alone is special," Douglas said.

Celebrating a private event in an iconic venue sounds amazing. But what Douglas and her team are able to accommodate makes the experience unforgettable.

"Simply put, we take care of everything," Douglas said. "You can consider us a one-stop-shop. We customize every event, and we work with our clients to make sure their vision comes to life. We can offer advice on themes, will take care of any catering needs, connect with third-party vendors and we have an amazing and experienced staff to pull that off. It's all about the experience of the event, whether a business meeting or conference using the stage or a fundraising gala in the ballroom."

In many ways, Douglas said, she is not only the Director of Private Events, but a consultant who will guide her clients through each event, from the first phone call, to turning off the lights at the end of the night.

"I get to be the 12th man on the team," she said. "I am very proud of the way we partner with our clients so they can focus the impact and purpose of their event."

Hosting The BEST of Richmond event was exciting to both Griffith and Douglas.

"We are really proud of the businesses that make Richmond so wonderful," Griffith said. "We know there's a lot of hard work that goes into making a business work, and we are proud that we were able to offer The Altria as a venue for that important celebration."

Douglas agreed.

"The BEST is about celebrating this community of Richmonders. What better way to do that at the venue that has meant so much to that same community for so long. We are proud we could give the businesses what they so rightly deserve; our spotlight."

‘The BEST celebrates excellence, and supports local business’

Name: Kelly Till

Job Title: President, Richmond Times Dispatch, Lee Enterprises Virginia

Why should a business decide to be a part of The Best?

I think that participating in “The Best” can offer several benefits to a business:

1. Visibility and Recognition: Winning or even being nominated can significantly boost a business’s visibility and reputation. It serves as third-party validation and can help them stand out in a crowded market.

2. Marketing and Promotion: Contest participation provides opportunities for marketing and promotion. A business can use the contest logo, badges, or awards on your website, social media, and marketing materials to showcase their brand.

3. Customer Engagement: Encouraging your customers to vote can strengthen the relationship with them. It’s a way to involve your customers in promoting your business.

4. Competitive Advantage: Winning “The Best” can differentiate a business from competitors.

5. Boost in Sales: The recognition from “The Best” can lead to increased sales and revenue. Customers often trust businesses that have won “The Best” or received public recognition.

6. Networking Opportunities: “The Best” event is a great way to network with peers, sponsors, and potential customers and collaborators.

7. Employee Morale: Recognition can boost employee morale and pride in their workplace, leading to increased productivity and job satisfaction.

What makes you proud to be part of The Best each year?
I am proud of our ‘The Best’ because we are showcasing the best Richmond has to offer. We take pride in our involvement because we are celebrating excellence, supporting local businesses and creating a positive impact.

Can you share some of the feedback you have received from businesses over the years?

Feedback typically includes expressions of gratitude, pride, and the positive impact that winning or being nominated in “The Best” has on their businesses.

Do you feel that the community looks forward to The Best each year? If so, why?

I feel our community looks forward to “The Best” each year because it’s been a longstanding tradition. When people can vote for their favorite restaurant, store, service provider, and more, it generates excitement.

BUSINESS SPOTLIGHT

‘We are precision haircutters’

Business: Cutz for Guys

Category: Best Barbershop

Q&A with: Tammy Record

Job Title: Founder, District Manager, Stylist

Tammy, for those who are not familiar with Cutz for Guys, can you explain what services you offer?

Cutz for Guys specializes in haircuts for men and boys. We are a full-service salon offering straight razor neck shaves, messaging shampoos, beard grooming and much more.

You founded Cutz for Guys in 2011 with your sister Tracy. What led the both of you to go into business together?

Cutz was a dream of mine. I wrote a business plan for it in 1994. After working in a coed salon, I realized men’s cuts were my specialty. I wanted to create a place where stylists would be paid well and treated with care. We have been awarded “top workplace” 3 years in a row by our staff, and that means the world to me! My sister owns an accounting company that primarily works with small businesses. So she helped me with that end of getting things going.

What makes this sister duo so strong?

My sister does the payroll and business portion of Cutz for Guys, and I do everything else.

What can you tell us about the growth of the business in the past 12 years? And how many locations does Cutz for Guys have?

We have three locations: Short Pump, Midlothian, and Westchester & Mechanicsville. We are blessed to have 65 talented stylists! Most have been with me for years.

Can you share your vision on what good customer service should look like?

Our clients are so very kind, generous and courteous and they make our job easy! Our focus is our clients when they are in the store and that is what makes a good customer service.

What three words would you pick to describe your team members, and why?

Talented, kind and smart! Most of my staff has been with me for years. I feel so blessed!

What makes a good stylist?

We are precision haircutters. My staff has years of education and experience. They also have real relationships with our clients; they’re often sharing stories about their clients and what’s happening in their lives, the good and the bad. We have a company GroupMe, and often-times stylist are asking for prayers for our clients. Our clients are part of the Cutz family.

What does The Best contest mean to you?

Being voted the best by our clients means the world to me! Owning a small business is very hard work and things like this contests make it all worthwhile. I especially love that my staff feel like what they do matter.

With Text-To-Vote (TTV), we try to make voting as easy as possible. You tried TTV this year. What are your thoughts?

Love the Text-to-Vote! It makes things easier for everyone.

What is your favorite holiday destination? And why?

Cruises are my favorite. In fact, I was able to take the staff on a cruise for our 10-year anniversary.

Is there a movie you can watch time and time again?

I enjoy action and adventure movies. But my all-time favorite has to be Bridesmaids!

What’s in store for the future of Cutz for Guys?

We have just added another station to our Short Pump and Midlothian location to keep the wait times down. Not sure what else the future holds. I know this: I would like take my staff on a cruise again for our 15 year anniversary!

Getting involved with The Best is ‘a super simple process’

Name: Stephen Summerell

Job Title: Regional Advertising Sales Manager

Stephen, for those who are not familiar, can you explain what The Best is, and how it works?

“The Best” is our annual reader’s choice contest. We give our audience and readership a chance to nominate and vote on their favorite businesses and services in over 120 categories from best auto dealer to their favorite restaurant and many others. (Side note: we are always looking for new categories so send your suggestions to sales@richmond.com.) The contest starts in early May with a three-week window for nominations. After the close of that three-week window, the nominations are tallied and the Top 5 businesses in each category, based on their total number of nominations, move on to the next phase which we call our voting phase. The voting phase starts in mid-July and runs for close to three weeks. At the end of the voting phase, votes are tallied and winners are announced at our Best Fest event in late September and our Winners Special Section publishes soon after in the RTD. As a sales leader, I would be remiss if I didn’t mention we have nomination, voting and winners packages that are available for sale in each of those phases—reach out to sales@richmond.com or your account executive for details.

How long has the Richmond Times-Dispatch been running this contest?

2023 is our ninth year!

If a business wants to be nominated, what do they need to do?

It’s a super simple process. At the start of the nomination phase in May, a business, or fan of the business, simply writes in the business name on our contest page at Go.Richmond.com/the-best. Once the name of the business is written in, it will populate as a nominee.

Did you vote this year? And how did your favorites businesses do?

I have a twofold answer to those questions. I’m rooting for all businesses that were nominated and voted on for this year’s contest. Without their participation, and the participation of people that support their business or service, we wouldn’t have much of a contest. By the way, we had some fantastic nomination and vote totals this year and we hope to grow that in future years. Technically, as an employee of the RTD, I am not supposed to vote in the contest, but I will often use the results from the contest to find a new place to eat or a new place to visit, based on the recommendation of our audience.

BUSINESS SPOTLIGHT

The globe-trotting newsman of the Richmond morning airwaves

Name: John Reid

Category: Best Radio Morning Show

John, for those who are not familiar with your work, can you explain what you do?

Our morning show (The John Reid Show) is a unique place where we try to give listeners all the news that people are talking about each day with some behind the scenes perspective. I’m lucky to have lived and worked in Richmond for decades and know many of the players in this town. I’m also happy to share my insights from years in business and politics.

Can you briefly explain how you prepare for each broadcast? What does your day look like?

The day starts with an alarm clock at 4am and I make a point of checking several local and national news sites online. From there I make a list of about 10 topics I will try to cover or at least mention over the course of the four hour show. As soon as the broadcast is over I meet with our producer and start planning the show for the next day. Sometimes that means calls and emails late into the night.

You returned to Richmond in 2017 to join WRVA. How would you describe the past 6 years?

The last six years have been exciting on radio but distressing to see my hometown struggling. I decided during the Covid situation and the riots that I wanted my show to be a place where reasonable freedom-loving people could get solid info and also push back on some very bad political decisions.

How important, in your view, is local journalism?

Local journalists who stick around for years are important to hold everyone accountable and to offer perspectives that new folks simply won’t have. It’s worrisome that so many local voices have retired or left the job. The state capital deserves a robust press corps.

What makes Richmond such a great place to work in?

Richmond is a great news city politically and culturally. Never a boring day here. Wish there was less crime!

As a journalist, you have covered local, national and international stories. Is there a specific story that you’ll always remember?

I’ve enjoyed covering elections and inaugurations and culture, but the sniper story was probably the most compelling and scary story I tracked back in my TV days at channel 8. Everyone, including reporters, was worried that they would be the next chosen victim.

What brings you the greatest fulfillment in your work?

I am so thankful to be able to speak boldly for what I think are reasonable policies and dynamic ideas for this community. So many people tell me that they think I am their voice to express outrage at bad decisions and a path forward too. I am blessed for this opportunity at this moment in our history.

Do you have a guilty pleasure, and if so, can you share that?

I really enjoy the theater and try to see as many shows as I can. Musicals are usually stirring and inspiring so I enjoy those the most.

In previous roles, you have traveled to over 100 countries, and you have visited all seven continents. What’s the most enchanting place you’ve ever visited, and why?

I love to explore new places and just finished a two-week trip to Eastern Europe. It’s a great education to meet and see people in so many other places- and to try to understand their history and art and life. It’s one reason I have been so upset about the loss of the statues in Richmond. I’ve seen great works of art overseas that tell very upsetting and controversial stories about controversial people. These are important and I hate that we are allowing our cultural heritage to be erased. Maddening to me!

Finally, what would you like to say to your listeners or RTD readers who voted for you in the category “Best Local Morning Radio Show”?

I’m so honored to have been nominated for best morning radio show every year and to have won over the last few years. I don’t take it for granted and I am so thankful for everyone who trusts me and listens to me on the radio every morning.

RICHMOND TIMES-DISPATCH SPOTLIGHT

Ushering a growing BEST contest into the future

Name: Billy Garland

Job Title: Regional Marketing Director for the Richmond Times Dispatch

What is your role with the newspaper, and what is your role with The Best?

I am the Regional Marketing Director for the Richmond Times-Dispatch. I oversee our internal marketing, sales enablement and events. Within my events role every year, I get the honor of putting together our signature event, the BEST event.

What can you tell us about audience engagement through the years?

Engagement over the years has continued to grow exponentially! In 2023 alone we saw 52.3% increase in the number of nominations we received, a 35.5% increase in total votes cast and our event has grown by over 200 guests compared to 2022.

A relatively new way to vote is called Text-To-Vote. Can you explain how that works? And what are the benefits?

Text-To-Vote is, without a doubt, my favorite new feature in our BEST contest! Launched in 2022, TTV allows our readers and our contestants' customers to simply text a code from their cell phone each day to have their vote counted. This can either prevent the voter from having to go online to cast their vote, or give them an avenue to cast an additional vote each day! The name of the game is "ease of access" and TTV makes voting easier than ever before!

When the results are announced, where can folks see those?

Great question! We initially announce our winners at our annual BEST event. Attendees, who are generally representing a competing business, get an early look at the results! Then the results are also released in a special Winners Section the following Sunday. This year the section will be released on September 24th. Additionally we host all of the results at Richmond.com.

BUSINESS SPOTLIGHT

Comprehensive dental care with a personal touch

Business: Virginia Family Dentistry

Categories: The Best Dental Practice, The Best Orthodontic Practice & The Best Customer Service

Q&A with: Desiree Tunnell

Job Title: Marketing Director

Desiree, for those who are not familiar with Virginia Family Dentistry, can you explain what you have to offer?

Virginia Family Dentistry is a multi-specialty group dental practice located solely in the Richmond area. We were founded in 1974 off of Forest Hill Ave. We have since grown to 16 locations with over 64 providers to serve our patients oral needs at every age and stage of life.

VFD is known to be a multi-specialty practice. Can you explain what that means?

Multi-Specialty means that we are not just a general dentist. Our practice has multiple general dentists who work alongside dental specialists to create comprehensive treatment plans for our patients. Specialists include: Pediatric Dentists (specialize in children age 0-12), Orthodontists (braces, Invisalign, and smileup), Periodontists (gum disease and dental implants), Endodontists (root canals) and Prosthodontists (dentures). This means patients don't have to leave the practice for treatment - and often, the specialists and general dentists work in the same office. It's not uncommon to have multiple doctors consulting on a patients' oral care.

Can you give us some insight into the history of VFD? When was it founded, and how has the organization grown over the years?

We were founded in 1974 by Dr. Baxter Perkinson and his business partner, Gilbert Roberts. Instead of reaching a capacity of patients and not accepting new patients, they decided to add providers as our patient base grew. They added partner dentists and new locations throughout the years. In the 90's they decided to add specialists - orthodontics and periodontics first, as an added convenience for our patients. We continued adding specialists and new providers to ensure our patients received comprehensive care and to make coordinating appointments easier. We have grown through the years to our current size of 16 locations throughout the Richmond area and 65 providers.

What sets you apart from other dental practices in the area?

We have a unique model in the area in that we are an entirely locally and dentist-owned group practice. We were the first dental practice to incorporate specialists alongside general dentists to give our patients the best and most convenient care possible. Being dentist-owned means that the care of our patients is always at the forefront of what we do.

With 16 locations in the greater Richmond area, how many people work at Virginia Family Dentistry? 475

Without giving away too much, VFD has done exceptionally well in our annual The Best contest. How important is The Best to VFD?

It means a lot to us to be recognized by the community for the exceptional level of care that we aim to provide to our patients. We always want to be an active partner in the communities we serve and we're really thankful that the community in turn recognizes us as a 'best' company in the Richmond area.

Can you share your vision on what good customer service looks like?

We were founded on the belief that the most important thing a dentist can do is treat their patients well. We strive to treat all of our patients just as we would our family. That means we treat our patients with respect and we don't push treatments they don't need.

What's in store for the future of Virginia Family Dentistry?

We will continue to be at the forefront of dental care and technology via continued training of doctors and staff while maintaining our personalized touch. We'll stay locally owned and operated with the patient's best interests at heart.

RICHMOND TIMES-DISPATCH SPOTLIGHT

'Consumers make decisions based on our results'

Name: Ken Henry

Job Title: Vice President of Advertising

What can businesses win if they are voted The Best in a category? Businesses can win bragging rights to promote themselves as the best for what they do amongst their peers for an entire year, and beyond!!

Is it safe to say that businesses who participate in The Best enhance their brand?

Absolutely! When our Best results are made public it's a huge brand builder for the businesses, because they've been voted the Best not by us, but by the people who live in the communities they serve. When consumers are in the market for products and services some of them rely on the Best results when making the decision on whom to hire or buy products and services from. It's like having the best review ever and having it seen by thousands of your best potential customers!
