We have had (3) Inmates in the past few weeks to set Fire to themselves.

Our Assistant Warden has talked to Ashley Belcher in the Wise County Commonwealth's Attorneys Office, she has stated that she will prosecute these inmate's for their actions.

When you have time to discuss this more with the Warden and AW please let us know.

Thank you all.

Yeah, sounds good. But, the first thing we need to figure out is why? Do they think they will get transferred? If so, we need to make sure they don't.... obviously they think they can gain something from doing that. We need to make sure they know they won't gain anything....but making them pay money is good too

We just had two more inmates burn themselves. Two GP inmates from B6. They had their property packed and ready to go.

As you know, stopping this is tough because we don't know when it will occur. I believe on Monday, we pull policy and start charging the inmates thousands of dollars for the hospital and medical treatment. Once we iron through this, we can send the word through the inmate population that they're going to be charged thousands for their medical due to intentional manipulation.

Just my thoughts on how to prevent this kind of behavior.

We have been talking about this all morning, i do believe they are trying to manipulate a transfer, or just a trip to MCV for whatever reason. As far as preventing further burns, I spoke to the commonwealth attorneys office this morning about prosecuting these inmates for setting a fire in their cell. We will charge these inmates with 104 and if found guilty, they will be charged restitution and have to pay for the hospital visit as well as the transportation costs. [REDACTED]

What can we do to prevent further burn injuries? Do we believe this is a manipulation of transfer?

Thank you!

I was talking to the Major and there have been several inmates that have set fires and burnt themselves. They know they'll have to get to VCU. One is admitted now that we brought down at the end of last week and two more have to come this week. Not sure the motive except- contact visit(not sure if that would happen) which we should make sure doesn't happen, lesser security on the ward- more privileges/freedom- not 100% what is allowed. I know the staff there are well aware of the nature/level of inmate but just a thought from the Major from a discussion we had.
