(Staff Photo)

U. OF R. STUDENTS WATCH DIGGING AFTER SKELETONS ARE UNEARTHED ON CAMPUS
Designated Point Is Where Workmen Widening Road Made Discovery Today

Railmen Ask 30 Per Cent Salary Boost

Brotherhoods Say Men At Big Disadvantage

CHICAGO, Oct. 31 — (AP) Spokesmen for five railroad brotherhoods who have been negotiating rules changes with the nation's railroads since October 7, today demanded that the railroads set aside those negotiations temporarily and give immediate consideration to demands for a 30 per cent wage increase.

The brotherhoods, representing some 350,000 engineers, firemen, conductors, trainmen, switchmen and yardmen, served their wage demands, including a $3-a-day minimum increase, on the railroads September 30. The demands included a provision that any increases granted be made retroactive to Nov. 1, 1947.

STATEMENT ISSUED

A statement issued by the five brotherhoods today said:

"Hundreds of thousands of Human Bones Unearthed At U. of R.

A small pile of bones, believed to be the skeletons of slaves buried more than 100 years ago, were unearthed at about noon today by a crew of workmen on the University of Richmond campus.

A university spokesman immediately came up with this explanation: according to tradition it has long been believed bodies of slaves were buried in the neighborhood of the university.

The skeletons uncovered today apparently were the remains of just two persons, who will remain forever nameless.

Apparently they had been given a Christian burial as pieces of rotted wood indicated the bodies originally had been buried in wooden coffins.

The bones were reinterred almost immediately a few hundred feet away.

The workmen who made the discovery were engaged in widening the road which borders the university lake on the Richmond College campus.

Hungarian Anti-Red's Arrest Asked

Immunity Waiver Asked by Prosecutor

BUDAPEST, Hungary, Oct. 31, (AP) The Hungarian people's attorney asked Parliament today to waive the immunity and provide for the "provincial arrest" of Zoltan Pfeiffer, a Parliament member and leader of the anti-Communist Hungarian Independence party.

All Budapest newspapers said the charge against Pfeiffer was aiding one Janos Orban to escape "legal penalty" for using "forged documents" covering his whereabouts.

Meanwhile, a well-informed Hungarian said he had heard "from a member of the political police" that the arrest of Miss Elizabeth P. Pallos, American citizen and secretary of the Associated Press bureau in Budapest, was "connected with Pfeiffer party affairs."

INCOMMUNCADO

Miss Pallos has been held in-