

CONGRATULATIONS
to the following Cold Hollow Career Center students that were recognized for their

PROFESSIONALISM EMPLOYABILITY SKILLS!

AUTOMOTIVE TECHNOLOGY AWARD
	Hayden Hilliker ----- Hayden is on time, gets himself ready without prompting, and has already developed good PPE habits in the shop.
	Daniel Murphy ----- Daniel shows up on time everyday, has his computer with him, and gets right to work. He has finished a large portion of his required safety and IRC training already, and is always looking to fill his time productively.

Continue to next page

BUSINESS LEADERSHIP AWARDS
	Ethan Bosley ----- Ethan takes his responsibilities seriously. He shows up on time, prepared, and ready to go. He meets expectations with attention to detail, and can be counted on to work efficiently. Ethan takes his professional image seriously. Ayla Elomri ----- Ayla is diligent about accountability. She communicates scheduling changes, follows up and follows through, even when there are disruptions and changes in her schedule. At the Workforce in Motion event she went above and beyond, making connections, and seeking out opportunities for growth. Lakota Hayes ----- Lakota can be counted on to show up and attend to the tasks at hand. Even when there are challenges, she perseveres and holds herself accountable to getting things done, accessing support, and meeting expectations. She has also demonstrated her understanding of professionalism through thoughtful reflection of workplace challenges.

Continue to next page

CONSTRUCTION TECHNOLOGY AWARDS
	Luke Lumbra ----- Luke has shown exceptional professionalism this past month. Always prepared, punctual, and ready to contribute. Their ability to work well with others, paired with a mature and respectful demeanor, highly deserving of the Professionalism Award.
	Hunter Thresher ----- Hunter has demonstrated consistent professionalism, consistently arriving prepared and on time. Their critical thinking skills shine through their curiosity, analytical approach, and strong situational awareness. They communicate with maturity and remain open to feedback, making them an excellent candidate for the Employability Award.

Continue to next page

FORESTRY + NATURAL RESOURCES
	Waylon Marshall ----- Waylon shows up every day on time and is prepared to do whatever the tasks for the day are. He has a positive attitude no matter what is asked of him and tries to spread that positive attitude to as many classmates as possible.
	Sullivan King ----- Sullivan shows up with a positive attitude ready to get to work. If he is not gonna be attending class for the day, he lets me know well ahead of time. Sullivan has also learned time in place and knows when to tow the line and behave in a respectful professional manner.

Continue to next page

HUMAN SERVICES + TEACHER PREP
	Wyatt Rocheleau ----- Wyatt is prepared for class every day, is accountable for all of his work, has completed all of his IRCs that are expected at this time and has stepped into an internship role with both professionalism and enthusiasm. His mentor teacher has expressed how impressed she is with his work in the classroom, and the way in which he approaches students.
	Anissa Longley ----- Anissa has exemplified the characteristics of professionalism in the first 6 weeks of school. She consistently communicates all necessary information, asks for resources as needed, participates fully in class and manages her work expectations with finesse. I see Anissa setting important career and post-secondary goals already, and working toward them.

Continue to next page

MEDICAL CAREERS EXPLORATION AWARDS

Maeve Schofield

Maeve consistently demonstrates the qualities of a true healthcare professional. She arrives each day on time, prepared, and ready to make the most of every opportunity. Her reliability and positive presence make her an excellent example of professionalism to those around her.

Madison DeRosia

Madison is a true quiet leader who leads through her actions, consistency, and dedication. She demonstrates professionalism every day; she is diligent with her work, stays focused and on task, and consistently gives her best effort.