NANCIE FURGANG and ANNETTE KALANDROS,

Complainant,

v.

NICOLE CHAVEZ, State Representative, House District 31,

Respondent.

COMPLAINT

Attachment to the Commission's Complaint Form

SUMMARY

State Representative Nicole Chavez used her office to help her husband's lobbying clients. She is now using it to help her own new business.

Rep. Chavez is married to Roberto Ramirez, a lobbyist with the firm Alarid Consulting. The firm represents the companies building Project Jupiter, the data center campus in Santa Teresa. On March 2, 2026, Rep. Chavez wrote to state environmental regulators on House of Representatives letterhead. She told them she was writing "in official support" of Project Jupiter's air quality permits and urged them to approve the permits. One month earlier, she had sworn in her own financial disclosure that the Project Jupiter companies were her husband's lobbying clients. Her letter did not mention that.

Her financial disclosures have gaps of their own. The firm took on the first Project Jupiter company in January 2025. The disclosure Rep. Chavez filed eleven days later left that company out, and it stayed out of her filings for a full year.

Separately, Rep. Chavez left her job running Medicare sales for Presbyterian in June 2026 and started a company that sells Medicare enrollment and consulting services to insurance agencies and health plans. She is now using her legislative title, her legislative email, and her legislative office to recruit insurance agents and vendors to "Representative Chavez's Medicare Annual Enrollment Fair" while advertising the event on a LinkedIn page for her private employment.

This complaint asks the Commission to investigate four violations of the Governmental Conduct Act and the Financial Disclosure Act.

PARTIES AND JURISDICTION

Complainant, Nancie Furgang and Annette Kalandros, 1242 Rockrose NE, Albuquerque, 87122, (505) 217-4554 have personally reviewed the public records attached as exhibits and has actual knowledge of the facts stated in this complaint.

1. Respondent Nicole Chavez is the State Representative for House District 31 in Albuquerque. She took office on January 1, 2025 and is a candidate in the November 3, 2026 general election. Her legislative mailing address is 8100 Wyoming Blvd. NE, Suite M4, Box 139, Albuquerque, NM 87113-1923, and her legislative email address is Nicole.Chavez@nmlegis.gov. Exhibit 1 (Rep. Chavez's March 2, 2026 letter to the Environmental Improvement Board).
2. The Commission enforces the Governmental Conduct Act and the Financial Disclosure Act against legislators. NMSA 1978, § 10-16G-9(A). The sections of the Governmental Conduct Act at issue here apply to legislators by their own terms. NMSA 1978, §§ 10-16-3, 10-16-9.
3. The complaint is timely. The earliest conduct at issue took place on January 31, 2025, which is within the two-year period for filing. NMSA 1978, § 10-16G-15(A).
4. This complaint does not ask the Commission to review any vote,¹ debate, or committee action. It concerns a letter to an executive agency, sworn financial disclosures, and the use of legislative resources for a private business.

FACTS

A. Rep. Chavez's husband lobbies for the Project Jupiter companies through Alarid Consulting.

5. Upon information and belief, Rep. Chavez married Roberto Ramirez in December, 2024. She named him as her spouse in a financial disclosure she signed under penalty of perjury. Exhibit 2 (Rep. Chavez's 2026 Financial Disclosure Report, filed February 2, 2026), p. 1.
6. Mr. Ramirez is a registered lobbyist. He has been registered as a paid lobbyist for Alarid Consulting since January 1, 2021. In his registration he describes the matters he works on for the firm as "Any and all items related to Alarid Consulting." Exhibit 3 (Secretary of State lobbyist record for Roberto A. Ramirez, all years), p. 1.

¹ This Complaint does address Rep. Chavez's failure to disclose her conflict of interest before a vote that benefitted her household, but does not ask the Commission to take action based upon that vote. See ¶ 33, infra.

7. Alarid Consulting is a lobbying firm. Vanessa Alarid is its owner and its authorizing officer. In 2025 the firm had four registered lobbyists, including Ms. Alarid and Mr. Ramirez. Exhibit 4 (Secretary of State lobbyist employer record for Alarid Consulting, 2025); Exhibit 5 (Sen. Antonio Maestas's 2025 Financial Disclosure Report, filed January 31, 2025), pp. 1-2.
8. Rep. Chavez has reported the same thing. Her 2025 financial disclosure lists Alarid Consulting as her husband's employer, gives his position as "Consultant," and describes the business as "Government Relations." Exhibit 6 (Rep. Chavez's 2025 Financial Disclosure Report, filed January 31, 2025), p. 2.
9. BorderPlex Digital Assets, LLC and Yucca Growth Infrastructure, LLC are companies behind Project Jupiter, a data center campus under construction in Doña Ana County. Exhibit 7 (Santa Fe New Mexican and Searchlight New Mexico, "Oracle discloses $3.44 million in spending promoting Project Jupiter," September 17, 2026); Exhibit 8 (State Ethics Commission press release, September 16, 2026), p. 1.
10. Both companies hired Alarid Consulting's lobbyists. BorderPlex hired Ms. Alarid effective January 20, 2025 and Mr. Ramirez effective February 1, 2025. Yucca hired both of them effective January 1, 2026. The Secretary of State's records list each of them as compensated for this work. Exhibit 9 (Secretary of State lobbyist employer record for BorderPlex Digital Assets, LLC, 2025); Exhibit 10 (Secretary of State lobbyist employer record for Yucca Growth Infrastructure, LLC, 2026); Ex. 3, p. 2; Exhibit 11 (Secretary of State lobbyist record for Vanessa M. Alarid, selected pages), pp. 4-5.
11. The two companies share an authorizing officer. Harvey Powers is listed as the authorizing officer on both lobbyist employer registrations. Yucca's contact email address is at the domain forgejupiter.com. Ex. 9; Ex. 10.
12. Rep. Chavez's 2026 financial disclosure confirms the relationship. It lists "BorderPlex Digital Assets, LLC" and "Yucca Growth Infrastructure, LLC" as lobbying clients, each "represented by" Alarid Consulting. Ex. 2, p. 2.

B. "Acoma, LLC" and Yucca Growth Infrastructure are the same company.

13. Rep. Chavez's letter supports the air quality permit applications for "Project Jupiter (Acoma, LLC)." Ex. 1.
14. Acoma, LLC was a name used by Yucca Growth Infrastructure. In April 2026, after the Pueblo of Acoma objected, the developers said they "will stop using the name Acoma LLC" and that "the company will now use the name Yucca Growth Infrastructure." Exhibit 12 (Source New Mexico, "NM Project Jupiter data center developers rename company after Pueblo of Acoma criticism," April 21, 2026), pp. 1-2.

15. A company that changes its name is still the same company. The same article describes Yucca Growth Infrastructure as the name of Acoma LLC's "parent company." That description makes no difference here, for two reasons.
16. First, this Commission has already described the permit applications as Yucca's. The Commission's September 16, 2026 release refers to "Yucca Growth Infrastructure's air quality permit application" and states that "Yucca Growth Infrastructure submitted air quality permit applications to the NMED as part of the permitting process for Project Jupiter." Ex. 8, p. 1.
17. Second, the Lobbyist Regulation Act looks to whose interests a lobbyist represents and not to the name on a filing. The Act defines a "lobbyist's employer" as "the person whose interests are being represented and by whom a lobbyist is directly or indirectly retained, compensated or employed." It defines "person" to include any "organization or group of persons who are voluntarily acting in concert." NMSA 1978, § 2-11-2(F), (H).
18. Yucca Growth Infrastructure registered with the Secretary of State as Mr. Ramirez's employer under that Act. By doing so, Yucca identified itself as the person whose interests Mr. Ramirez is paid to represent. Yucca's interest before the State of New Mexico is Project Jupiter and the permits the project needs. Whether the permit applications carry the name Acoma, LLC or the name Yucca Growth Infrastructure, the applicant is the person Mr. Ramirez represents.
19. When Rep. Chavez urged regulators to approve the permits for "Acoma, LLC," she urged them to approve permits for her husband's client.

C. Mr. Ramirez's work for the Project Jupiter companies began before anyone disclosed it.

20. The Lobbyist Regulation Act requires a lobbyist's registration to include "a brief description of the matters in reference to which the service is to be rendered." NMSA 1978, § 2-11-3(D)(3). For every year from 2021 through 2025, Mr. Ramirez's description of his work for Alarid Consulting was "Any and all items related to Alarid Consulting." Ex. 3, pp. 1-2.
21. Alarid Consulting's business is representing clients. Each of the firm's clients is an item related to Alarid Consulting. By his own sworn registration, Mr. Ramirez's paid work covered every matter the firm handled.
22. BorderPlex became one of the firm's matters no later than January 20, 2025, when it hired Ms. Alarid. From that day, BorderPlex was within the work Mr. Ramirez was registered and paid to do. BorderPlex had also "indirectly retained" him through the firm, which is all the Act's definition of a lobbyist's employer requires. Ex. 9; Ex. 11, p. 4.

23. Mr. Ramirez's separate registration for BorderPlex did not begin until February 1, 2025. Rep. Chavez did not disclose BorderPlex as his client until February 2, 2026. Ex. 3, p. 2; Ex. 2, p. 2.
24. The same reasoning applies to Yucca Growth Infrastructure. Yucca has been registered with the State since August 2025, but neither Mr. Ramirez nor Ms. Alarid registered as its lobbyist until January 1, 2026. Any work Alarid Consulting did for Yucca before that date was also within Mr. Ramirez's registration for "any and all items." The public records do not show when that work began, and Complainant asks the Commission to find out. Ex. 12, p. 2; Ex. 10.

D. Borderplex's legislative efforts.

25. BorderPlex's legislative packet for "Project Nucleus," dated February 2025, listed a microgrid self-sourced power bill as one of the project's legislative priorities. That bill was Senate Bill 418, and after it died, its provisions minus the tax credit were added to House Bill 93. Senator Michael Padilla, the sponsor of the BorderPlex amendment, has acknowledged meeting with BorderPlex in mid-February 2025. See Santa Fe New Mexican, "Behind-the-scenes deals in New Mexico paved the road to Project Jupiter," (May 31, 2026), attached as Exhibit 13.
26. A February 25, 2025 MOU shows BorderPlex was already planning a large microgrid that would sell power and infrastructure to local utilities, and the state committed to advancing policies and legislation supporting the campus. See Press Release: Governor announces partnership with BorderPlex Digital (February 25, 2025), attached as Exhibit 14. That is the arrangement subsections A and B of the amendment authorize. The governor's same-day press release described the campus as including microgrid power generation. Id. After passage, Sen. Padilla said the law enabled Project Jupiter. See El Paso Matters, "Tech giants Open AI, Oracle behind $165 billion data center campus near El Paso," (September 25, 2025), attached as Exhibit 15, p. 13.

E. What Rep. Chavez disclosed, and what she left out, while BorderPlex was benefitting.

27. Rep. Chavez filed her 2025 Financial Disclosure Report on January 31, 2025 at 2:30 p.m. That was eleven days after BorderPlex hired Alarid Consulting. Ex. 6, p. 1.
28. The 2025 report shows that Rep. Chavez understood what the law required. She listed Alarid Consulting as her husband's employer. She reported "Government Relations" as his area of specialization. She listed nine lobbying clients by name and address, each "represented by" Alarid Consulting. Ex. 6, pp. 2-3.
29. The 2025 report does not list BorderPlex. Id.

30. Rep. Chavez was not the only legislator whose disclosure left BorderPlex out. State Senator Antonio "Moe" Maestas is married to Vanessa Alarid. He filed his 2025 Financial Disclosure Report the same day, at 5:35 p.m. His report identifies Alarid Consulting as his wife's business, lists seventeen of its clients, and includes an internet link labeled "Vanessa Alarid's Employees" that links to Ms. Alarid's 2022 clients. It does not list BorderPlex, which had hired his wife eleven days earlier. Ex. 5, pp. 1-4.
31. Sen. Maestas is not a respondent in this complaint. His report matters because it shows that BorderPlex was missing from the 2025 disclosures of both legislators married to lobbyists at the firm BorderPlex had just hired. Ex. 5, pp. 2-3; Ex. 6, pp. 2-3.
32. On information and belief, Rep. Chavez never amended her 2025 report. As a result, nothing she filed in 2025 identified BorderPlex as her husband's client. That year included the 2025 legislative session where House Bill 93, with the Project Jupiter amendment – passed without Rep. Chavez disclosing her household's interest in the legislation. According to news reports, a $10,000 contribution from BorderPlex was made to her campaign that year. Ex. 7; See <https://sg001-harmony.sliq.net/00293/Harmony/en/PowerBrowser/PowerBrowserV3/20250321/-1/77174#ccPanel> at 8:23:21 to 8:27:09 (House concurring to Senate amendment exempting microgrids, no disclosure of conflict of interest from Rep. Chavez prior to vote).
33. It was not until Rep. Chavez filed her 2026 Financial Disclosure Report on February 2, 2026, that she disclosed BorderPlex and Yucca as her husband's lobbying clients. Rep. Chavez therefore indisputably knew, one month before her March 2, 2026 letter, that her husband lobbied for both companies. Ex. 2, pp. 1-2.
34. The 2026 report asks filers to describe any other financial interest that they have reason to believe "may be affected by your official acts." Rep. Chavez left that item blank. Ex. 2, p. 3.

E. The March 2, 2026 letter.

35. The letter is dated March 2, 2026. It is on the letterhead of the New Mexico House of Representatives, which carries the Great Seal of the State of New Mexico, Rep. Chavez's name and district, her committee assignments, and her legislative email address. It is addressed to the New Mexico Environmental Improvement Board in care of the New Mexico Environment Department. On information and belief, Rep. Chavez wrote or authorized the letter and it was submitted to the Environment Department as a comment on the permit applications. Ex. 1.
36. The letter begins: "As a member of the New Mexico House of Representatives, I write in official support of the air quality permit applications for Project Jupiter." It ends: "For these reasons, I respectfully urge approval of the air quality permits for Project Jupiter." It is signed "Nicole Chavez, State Representative, New Mexico House of Representatives." Ex. 1.

37. The letter does not say that Rep. Chavez's husband is a paid lobbyist for the applicant.
38. The permit decision was the target of an expensive influence campaign. This Commission has reported that Oracle spent $3,444,500 on an advertising campaign "for the purpose of attempting to influence officials at the New Mexico Environment Department" to approve the same permit applications. Ex. 8, pp. 1-2.
39. Project Jupiter is in Doña Ana County. Rep. Chavez represents a district in Bernalillo County. Ex. 7; Ex. 1.

F. Rep. Chavez's Medicare business and the enrollment fair.

40. Rep. Chavez's career has been in Medicare plan sales. From February 2019 to June 2026 she was Director of Health Plan Sales for Medicare, Outreach and Retention at Presbyterian Healthcare Services. Exhibit 16 (Rep. Chavez's LinkedIn profile and work history, captured October 7 and 8, 2026).
41. Rep. Chavez holds an active New Mexico insurance producer license for life and for accident and health or sickness insurance. The license record lists appointments with Presbyterian Health Plan, Inc. and Presbyterian Insurance Company, Inc. Exhibit 17 (National Association of Insurance Commissioners licensee lookup, National Producer No. 8784477); Ex. 2, p. 3.
42. On June 11, 2026, Rep. Chavez posted on LinkedIn that "all of my teams are in need of new opportunities." She described 21 people who had worked for Presbyterian in Medicare sales, broker relations, outreach, and retention. She wrote: "With AEP quickly approaching and more than 30,000 New Mexico seniors needing to enroll in new coverage, these experienced professionals are exactly the kind of talent healthcare organizations, FMO's and agencies need. If your organization is hiring, please reach out. I would be honored to make introductions and provide recommendations." Exhibit 18 (Rep. Chavez's LinkedIn post of June 11, 2026, with comments), p. 1.
43. Insurance agencies answered her publicly. The chief executive of a Medicare agency replied that "we are looking to grow our agent team there." The owner of another agency replied: "We definitely have more people to follow up on than we have agents to do that work." Id., p. 1.
44. Rep. Chavez then went into business for herself. Her LinkedIn profile lists her as "Healthcare Consultant" at Chavez Health Strategies, LLC, self-employed, beginning in July 2026. She organized the company with the Secretary of State on August 14, 2026

- and is its registered agent. Ex. 16; Exhibit 19 (Secretary of State business record for Chavez Health Strategies, LLC).
45. Rep. Chavez describes the company's services as "healthcare consulting, strategic planning, business development, marketing and branding, community engagement, and Medicare and ACA enrollment services." She says she partners with "individuals, healthcare organizations, agencies, FMOs, health plans, providers, businesses, and community partners." Ex. 16.
 46. Rep. Chavez is recruiting that same industry to an event she is running through her legislative office. A flyer addressed to "Medicare Agents and Vendors" under the words "We Need You!" announces that "Representative Nicole Chavez is hosting a Medicare Annual Enrollment Fair" on October 17, 2026. It invites "Medicare vendors and provider organizations" to take part and tells them: "Space is limited. Reserve your table today and join us in empowering seniors with the information and support they need." To sign up, the flyer gives the telephone number (505) 946-5631 and the email address Nicole.chavez@nmlegis.gov. Exhibit 20 (flyer recruiting Medicare agents and vendors for the October 17, 2026 fair).
 47. On October 2, 2026, Rep. Chavez promoted the event on LinkedIn under the heading "Healthcare Consultant at Chavez Health Strategies, LLC." She wrote: "Proud to sponsor this Medicare Open Enrollment Fair for Seniors to help New Mexicans navigate changes to their Medicare coverage. With more than 30,000 seniors needing to select a new plan, we'll have 30+ independent insurance agents available to answer questions and provide one-on-one assistance." Exhibit 21 (Rep. Chavez's LinkedIn post of October 2, 2026, with the event flyer).
 48. The flyer for the public is titled "Representative Chavez's Medicare Annual Enrollment Fair for Seniors." It sets the event for Saturday, October 17, 2026 at the CNM Workforce Training Center in Albuquerque. Under "Questions? Contact our office," it gives the same telephone number and the same legislative email address. Id.
 49. That telephone number is the one the Legislature publishes for Rep. Chavez's district legislative aide, a state-paid employee. Exhibit 22 (Rep. Chavez's member page on the New Mexico Legislature's website).
 50. Neither flyer and neither post tells the public, or the agents and vendors being recruited, that Rep. Chavez owns a business that sells Medicare enrollment and consulting services to that industry.
 51. The LinkedIn profile where Rep. Chavez posted these flyers only lists her personal employment history; it is not a LinkedIn profile for her legislative position, and does not list her legislative position. Ex. 16.

VIOLATIONS

Violation 1: Rep. Chavez assisted her husband's lobbying client in a matter before a state agency.

The law: A legislator may not help a private party in a matter before a state agency unless the help is unpaid:

"Except as provided in Subsection C of this section, a legislator shall not appear for, represent or assist another person in a matter before a state agency, unless that appearance, representation or assistance is provided without compensation."

NMSA 1978, § 10-16-9(B).

The violation: Each part of the rule is met.

Rep. Chavez assisted another person. Her letter asked a state agency to grant permit applications filed by a private company. A limited liability company is a "person." NMSA 1978, § 12-2A-3(E).

The matter was before a state agency. The permit applications were pending before the New Mexico Environment Department, and the letter was addressed to the Environmental Improvement Board. Both are state agencies. NMSA 1978, § 10-16-2(K).

The assistance was not unpaid. The applicant was paying for lobbying, and the money went to Rep. Chavez's household. The Secretary of State's records list her husband as a compensated lobbyist for Yucca Growth Infrastructure and for BorderPlex. The Lobbyist Regulation Act defines compensation to include "any money, per diem, salary, fee or portion thereof" received for lobbying services, and it covers a lobbyist who is "directly or indirectly" retained. NMSA 1978, § 2-11-2(A), (F). Money that passes through Alarid Consulting on its way to Mr. Ramirez is still compensation, and money received by a legislator's spouse belongs to the legislator too.

In New Mexico, what either spouse earns during the marriage is community property, and each spouse owns it. NMSA 1978, §§ 40-3-8(B), 40-3-12(A). The Governmental Conduct Act itself treats a spouse's employment as the official's own financial interest. NMSA 1978, § 10-16-2(E), (F). Rep. Chavez had a personal financial stake in the fees the Project Jupiter companies paid for her husband's lobbying when she put her office behind their permit applications. The statute asks whether the assistance "is provided without compensation." It does not ask whose name is on the check.

Rep. Chavez knew. One month before the letter, she swore that BorderPlex and Yucca Growth Infrastructure were her husband's lobbying clients.

Even a legislator who is a lawyer or other professional, and who may represent paying clients before agencies, may not "make references to the legislator's legislative capacity" or "use legislative stationery, legislative email or any other indicia of the legislator's legislative capacity." NMSA 1978, § 10-16-9(C). Rep. Chavez's letter did all of those things.

Supporting facts: Paragraphs 6 through 38.

Violation 2: Rep. Chavez used her office to pursue private interests and did not disclose her conflict of interest.

The law: A legislator "shall use the powers and resources of public office only to advance the public interest and not to obtain personal benefits or pursue private interests." Legislators "shall conduct themselves in a manner that justifies the confidence placed in them by the people." And "[f]ull disclosure of real or potential conflicts of interest shall be a guiding principle for determining appropriate conduct." NMSA 1978, § 10-16-3(A), (B), (C).

The violation: Apart from Violation 1, Rep. Chavez used the resources of her office to advance a private interest. She used her title, House letterhead, and the state seal. She called her support "official." She did this to ask a regulator to grant permits to a company that pays for her husband's lobbying. Her household had a direct financial interest in keeping the Project Jupiter companies as clients.

She also disclosed nothing to the people who needed to know. The agency deciding the permits, and the public reading the comments, had no way to know that the legislator offering "official support" was married to the applicant's lobbyist. A line in a financial disclosure filed with the Secretary of State a month earlier is not disclosure to the agency or to the public reading the permit record. It shows only that Rep. Chavez indisputably knew about the conflict when she wrote.

The Legislature's own ethics guidance points the same way. It tells members to "use official legislative stationery, which is stationery that contains the state seal, only for matters that relate to the conduct of legislative business," and to "refrain from using official legislative stationery to write letters to state agencies on behalf of constituents who are immediate family members." Legislative Council Service, New Mexico Legislative Ethics Guide, p. 17 (September 2026).

Supporting facts: Paragraphs 6 through 38.

Violation 3: Rep. Chavez filed incomplete financial disclosures.

The law: Every legislator must file a sworn financial disclosure statement each January. The statement must include the name and address of the legislator's, and legislator's spouse's, employer, and all sources of gross income of more than five thousand dollars ($5,000). If the legislator's spouse is a registered lobbyist, that must be disclosed, along with the names and addresses of all lobbying clients, including the clients of any other lobbyists in the same business, for the last two years. NMSA 1978, § 10-16A-3(A), (D)(1), (D)(2).

The violation: Mr. Ramirez was a registered lobbyist at Alarid Consulting whose work included “any and all items related to Alarid Consulting.” The law therefore required Rep. Chavez to disclose all of the firm's lobbying clients. Her 2025 report shows she knew that, because she listed nine of them and attributed each one to the firm.

The 2025 report left out BorderPlex. The firm had been hired by BorderPlex eleven days before she filed, and her husband's registration covered "any and all items related to Alarid Consulting." Rep. Chavez's own practice shows that clients taken on in the year of filing must be listed: her 2026 report, filed February 2, 2026, lists Yucca Growth Infrastructure, a client only since January 1, 2026.

Supporting facts: Paragraphs 6 through 35.

Violation 4: Rep. Chavez is using her office to benefit her own Medicare business.

The law: The same public trust provisions quoted in Violation 2. NMSA 1978, § 10-16-3(A), (C).

The violation: Within weeks of leaving Presbyterian, Rep. Chavez started a company whose business includes Medicare enrollment services and whose customers are insurance agencies, marketing organizations, and health plans. She is now using her legislative title, her legislative email address, and her state-paid district office to bring that same industry together, more than thirty insurance agents by her own count, in front of the seniors who must choose new coverage. The event carries her office's name. She promotes it under her business name, using a platform otherwise exclusively used for her private business interests.

Helping constituents understand their Medicare options is a public purpose. The problem is the undisclosed overlap between the event and her business. On information and belief, the event builds business relationships and visibility for Chavez Health Strategies, LLC among the agents, agencies, and carriers it seeks as clients, and Rep. Chavez has used state-paid staff time and state communications to produce it. A legislator who owns a Medicare enrollment and consulting business may not use the resources of her office to organize that industry around an event from which her business stands to gain. At a minimum she must disclose her interest to the public she invites and to the vendors she recruits.

Supporting facts: Paragraphs 39 through 50.

WHAT THE COMMISSION SHOULD EXAMINE

Complainant does not have access to the following information and asks the Commission to obtain it.

- Whether Mr. Ramirez, Ms. Alarid, or anyone acting for BorderPlex, Yucca Growth Infrastructure, or Oracle asked Rep. Chavez to send the March 2, 2026 letter, supplied its text, or submitted it to the Environment Department.
- What Mr. Ramirez has been paid, directly or through Alarid Consulting, for work for BorderPlex and Yucca Growth Infrastructure, and whether any of his pay depends on the outcome of the permit proceeding.
- When Alarid Consulting and Mr. Ramirez first performed work for BorderPlex and for Yucca Growth Infrastructure, and whether that work began before each of them registered.
- A complete list of Alarid Consulting's clients in 2024, 2025, and 2026, and Mr. Ramirez's income from lobbying in each year.
- Whether Rep. Chavez ever sought to amend her 2025 Financial Disclosure Report.
- Whether Chavez Health Strategies, LLC has, or has sought, a business relationship with any agent, agency, marketing organization, or carrier taking part in the October 17, 2026 event, and whether it will receive leads, referrals, fees, or commissions from the event.
- Who paid for the event, and how much state-paid staff time and state resources were used to plan and promote it.

RELIEF REQUESTED

Complainant asks the Commission to:

- investigate these allegations and find that Rep. Chavez violated Sections 10-16-9(B), 10-16-3(A), (B), and (C), and 10-16A-3(D);
- seek the civil penalties the law allows for each violation, under NMSA 1978, §§ 10-16-18(B) and 10-16A-8(B);
- send its findings to the House of Representatives, under NMSA 1978, § 10-16-14;
- direct Rep. Chavez to file complete, amended financial disclosure statements;
- direct Rep. Chavez to disclose her husband's lobbying work in any further communication with a state agency about Project Jupiter, and to stop using legislative staff, legislative email, and other state resources for events connected with her private business; and
- grant any other relief the Commission finds appropriate.

Re: Support for Air Quality Permit Applications for Project Jupiter (Acoma, LLC)

Members of the Environmental Improvement Board,

As a member of the New Mexico House of Representatives, I write in official support of the air quality permit applications for Project Jupiter.

New Mexico must compete for large-scale investment that brings long-term economic strength to our state. Project Jupiter represents a significant opportunity to create jobs, expand our tax base, and position New Mexico as a leader in advanced technology and infrastructure development.

The project is expected to generate thousands of construction jobs and approximately 1,500 permanent positions once operational. These jobs will support families statewide and create demand for local contractors, suppliers, and small businesses. Major private investment of this scale strengthens state and local revenues, supporting funding for schools, public safety, infrastructure, and essential public services.

Strong economic development is necessary to ensure stable communities, upward mobility for working families, and long-term fiscal strength for state government. Projects like this help diversify our economy and reduce reliance on a narrow revenue base.

Project Jupiter is being reviewed within New Mexico's established regulatory framework. The proposed microgrid structure, natural gas generation supported by battery storage, and evaluation of geothermal potential reflect an effort to provide reliable energy while complying with state standards. Economic growth and environmental responsibility must advance together.

For these reasons, I respectfully urge approval of the air quality permits for Project Jupiter.

Sincerely,

Nicole Chavez
State Representative
New Mexico House of Representatives

Oracle discloses $3.44 million in spending promoting Project Jupiter

By Clara Bates and Julia Gentin
September 17, 2026

A tech giant behind data center Project Jupiter spent over $3.4 million on a promotional push — possibly the largest such ever in New Mexico — earlier this year as it sought to influence the state Environment Department to approve an air quality permit, according to records made public Wednesday.

Oracle — one of the main companies behind the massive data center under construction in Doña Ana County — disclosed its expenditures voluntarily and registered its advertising campaign as a result of a State Ethics Commission investigation.

The $3.44 million, spent between January and April, all went to the national Republican political consulting and advertising firm BrabenderCox for media production and buys and various consulting and polling-related purposes, according to Oracle's expenditure report, dated Sept. 11. In a Wednesday news release announcing Oracle had voluntarily come into compliance with state disclosure law, the commission called it “likely the largest lobbying advertising campaign ever disclosed in New Mexico.”

In an email, Oracle spokesperson Michael Egbert wrote the company has “worked cooperatively” with the ethics commission and disclosed its advertising campaign as requested.

“From the outset, Oracle has been transparent that it funded the Project Jupiter Together campaign and has publicly communicated about the project and its potential benefits for New Mexico,” Egbert wrote. “The campaign continues to reach thousands of New Mexicans who had not previously heard about Project Jupiter and its plans, as well as thousands who are excited about the opportunities the project can bring to their community and economy.”

The ethics commission also reached a settlement agreement last month with Elevate New Mexico, the secretive organization behind another extensive advertising campaign supporting Project Jupiter. The limited liability company registered in Virginia received nearly $3.7 million in contributions, all from Yucca Growth Infrastructure LLC — the developers behind Project Jupiter.

New Mexico’s Lobbyist Regulation Act requires organizations conducting lobbying advertising campaigns to register with the secretary of state and disclose their spending. The sustained marketing campaign overlapped with the Environment Department’s public comment period for the related to an air quality permit — which, according to the commission’s investigation, that was no coincidence.

The commission “collected evidence tending to show that Oracle conducted a multi-faceted advertising campaign for the purpose of attempting to influence officials at the New Mexico Environment Department to approve Yucca Growth Infrastructure’s air quality permit application, which is necessary for Project Jupiter to proceed,” Wednesday’s release states.

The advertising push included a website, projectjupitertogether.com, with a form visitors could add their names to to submit supportive public comment, along with ads on TV, radio and social media, a “statewide canvassing operation” with paid canvassers soliciting supportive public comment and paid ads through social media influencers directing viewers to the website.

Project Jupiter’s air quality permits are still uncertain: The New Mexico Supreme Court last month paused state regulatory proceedings for air quality and water use permits for the project, in response to petitions from environmental groups claiming a lack of due process.

Egbert on Wednesday touted the project’s benefits, calling it a “generation investment ... that is expected to deliver $4.7 billion in economic benefits, create 7,000 construction jobs and support 1,500 ongoing jobs in the region.”

“We believe New Mexicans should have access to accurate information about the project, and we will continue to engage openly with communities and comply with applicable disclosure requirements,” he wrote.

Campaign cash

Elected officials throughout New Mexico have become more vocally critical of Project Jupiter in recent months, raising concerns about projected emissions and water use even as groups and executives connected to the data center have been making generous political contributions.

National companies and individuals with ties to Project Jupiter have contributed more than $87,000 to the campaign of Democratic gubernatorial candidate Deb Haaland, who despite this has been a critic of data centers and has said she supports a moratorium on their construction.

Oracle America Inc. and BorderPlex Digital Assets — another company representing the developers behind Project Jupiter — have contributed $46,000 in 2025 and 2026 to The Speaker Fund, a political committee affiliated with House Speaker Javier Martínez that acts as a major backer of other Democratic House candidates, as well as another $10,000 to Martínez's campaign account.

“The Speaker's Fund has helped House Democratic candidates run and win — ensuring that the people we elect to the Roundhouse represent the values of hardworking New Mexicans,” Martínez said in a statement Wednesday. “Donors who believe in universal childcare, affordable healthcare, and protecting the rights of women, immigrants and LGBTQ+ people have contributed to our movement.”

Several Democratic lawmakers have said they plan to push a statewide data center moratorium during the 2027 session, and Martínez indicated the contributions would not soften the caucus's stance.

“New Mexicans have expressed their concerns about data centers, and we've heard them loud and clear,” he said. “House Democrats are working diligently on legislation to protect our precious water, our land, and our communities.”

Other major Democratic recipients of BorderPlex donations this election cycle, at $10,000 each, were Rep. Nathan Small, D-Las Cruces, and Sens. Benny Shendo, D-Jemez Pueblo, and Moe Maestas, D-Albuquerque.

Overall, Oracle and BorderPlex have given more than $147,000 to state-level Democratic candidates and committees during the current election cycle and a little more than $51,000 to Republicans. The biggest Republican beneficiaries have been Rep. Nicole Chavez, who represents a competitive Albuquerque district, and Sen. Larry Scott, R-Hobbs, each of whom received $10,000 contributions from Borderplex in 2025.

PRESS RELEASE

Oracle registers and discloses $3.44 million Project Jupiter lobbying advertising campaign

Albuquerque, NM, September 16, 2026 – Following a State Ethics Commission investigation of an advertising campaign for Project Jupiter and request for voluntary compliance, Oracle America, Inc. has come into compliance with Section 2-11-6(I) of New Mexico’s Lobbyist Regulation Act by registering its advertising campaign for the purpose of lobbying and disclosing the expenditures for that campaign.

The Commission collected evidence tending to show that Oracle conducted a multi-faceted advertising campaign for the purpose of attempting to influence officials at the New Mexico Environment Department (“NMED”) to approve Yucca Growth Infrastructure’s air quality permit application, which is necessary for Project Jupiter to proceed.

Yucca Growth Infrastructure submitted air quality permit applications to the NMED as part of the permitting process for Project Jupiter. Throughout the permitting process, Oracle has conducted an advertising campaign that has included:

- A website, www.projectjupitertogether.com, paid for by Oracle, which includes a fillable form, allowing visitors to submit supportive public comments to the NMED;

- television and radio advertisements on New Mexico broadcast channels directing viewers and listeners to www.projectjupitertogether.com;
- digital advertisements on social media platforms directing users to www.projectjupitertogether.com;
- a statewide canvassing operation in which paid canvassers carrying tablets solicited supportive public comments for submission to NMED; and
- paid advertisements through New Mexican “influencers” on social media platforms, including TikTok and Instagram, directing users to www.projectjupitertogether.com.

After the Commission sought voluntary compliance—a statutory prerequisite before taking coercive action under the Lobbyist Regulation Act—Oracle registered its advertising campaign and disclosed spending $3,444,500 on their campaign. According to New Mexico’s Campaign Finance System, Oracle’s campaign is the largest lobbying advertising campaign reported since 2021, the earliest year for which records are available through the system and is likely the largest lobbying advertising campaign ever disclosed in New Mexico.

The report identifies Brabender Cox as the sole recipient of Oracle’s expenditures, totaling $3,444,500, which Oracle reported was for media production, media buys, polling, and general consulting.

Under the Lobbyist Regulation Act, organizations conducting lobbying advertising campaigns must disclose contributions, pledges to contribute, expenditures, and commitments to expend for the advertising campaign.

NM Project Jupiter data center developers rename company after Pueblo of Acoma criticism

BY DANIELLE PROKOP - APRIL 21, 2026 6:07 AM

📷 Pueblo of Acoma Gov. Charles Riley (center) criticized the developers of a proposed data center for using the pueblo's name, prompting a change announced on April 20, 2026. Pictured here with Cathy Riley and U.S. Rep. Gabe Vasquez (D-NM) at a town hall earlier in the month. (Danielle Prokop/Source NM)

Following censure from the Pueblo of Acoma, the developers of data center Project Jupiter said they will stop using the name Acoma LLC, officials confirmed to Source NM.

Over the weekend, Pueblo of Acoma Gov. Charles Riley published a commentary in the Albuquerque Journal that castigated the data center developers for using the name Acoma LLC without permission. In addition, attorneys for the Pueblo of Acoma sent an April 20 letter to developers expressing “profound concern and disappointment” about the use of the name, and urged developers to change it.

Project Jupiter developers agreed and told Source NM on Monday the company will now use the name Yucca Growth Infrastructure, Acoma LLC’s parent company’s name, which has been registered with the state since August 2025, according to the Secretary of State’s online directory.

“We heard the Acoma Pueblo people and we listened,” Bryson Hull, a spokesperson for Yucca Growth Infrastructure, wrote in a statement. “No offense was intended and we apologize for any it caused. Out of respect, we will use a different name going forward.”

Riley told Source NM he was relieved the name will be changed.

“It’s good news for Acoma and our name. To be honest, what the company is trying to do does not reflect Acoma values,” Riley said. “We hold dear the land, try to take care of it and oppose all those things that hurt the environment, the land and hurt people.”

Riley said he has ongoing concerns about the data center’s impact including the estimated emissions impacts on the surrounding communities, which already have degraded air quality.

“We’re glad to hear that the company has changed course as far as our name, but it really doesn’t address the bigger issues affecting the water, land and the people impacted by the project,” Riley said.

As our industry continues to adapt to recent Medicare Advantage changes, all of my teams are in need of new opportunities.

I want to first recognize my talented teams, between these 21 individuals, they represented an incredible 252 years of combined service working for Presbyterian, helping New Mexico seniors navigate their healthcare coverage.

Their expertise includes:

- Medicare Sales
- Group Account Management
- Broker Relations
- Community Outreach
- Retention
- Administrative Support

With AEP quickly approaching and more than 30,000 New Mexico seniors needing to enroll in new coverage, these experienced professionals are exactly the kind of talent healthcare organizations, FMO's and agencies need.

If your organization is hiring, please reach out. I would be honored to make introductions and provide recommendations.

To my amazing team: THANK YOU for your dedication, professionalism, and unwavering commitment to New Mexico's seniors. Any organization would be fortunate to have you.
