

Suing for book fees

This is the number of small claims cases in 2020, by month, that Indiana school districts filed against parents to collect unpaid book or other fees. The figures do not include cases that collection agencies may have pursued.

