Working Hard for Southwest VA

PLEASE STAND WITH ME AND VOTE NO!

On April 21st, Virginians will vote on a constitutional amendment that most people still know very little about and many consider illegal – and that’s not an accident. The ballot language is written in a way that sounds harmless, even helpful, but it leaves out the most important fact: this amendment would give politicians the power to redraw our congressional maps mid-decade. It is extremely important that you vote!

In 2020, Virginians overwhelmingly approved an independent redistricting process to take politics out of map-drawing. Now, just a few years later, the General Assembly is trying to reverse that decision – without clearly telling voters what the amendment actually does.

The ballot says the amendment will “restore fairness” and allow the state legislature to “temporarily adopt new districts.” What it doesn’t say is this would undo voter-approved reforms and put politicians back in charge.

Regardless of a party, Virginians deserve honesty at the ballot box. Ballot language should inform voters, not mislead them.

I urge you to please read beyond the surface, understand what’s at stake, and vote NO on this illegal amendment. Protect transparency. Protect Voter intent. And keep redistricting out of the hands of politicians. Early voting has already started. Please vote now or on April 21st at your local voter registrar’s office.
