

MEMORANDUM

From: Scott R. Drury

Re: “Shakedown Street”

As set forth in the timeline on the following page, beginning in or about late spring 2016 and continuing until at least mid-October 2016, in Chicago, Illinois and Springfield, Illinois, Michael J. Madigan engaged in what I perceived to be a scheme to obtain a large campaign contribution from Friends of Scott Drury in return for the passage of child-protection legislation on which I was working. While Madigan, through a spokesperson, takes issue with the above-described conduct, the timeline and records tell the true story.

TIMELINE OF EVENTS WITH CORROBORATING RECORDS

DATE	TIME	DESCRIPTION	CORROBORATING RECORDS
In or about late spring 2016		Madigan's counsel – Heather Wier Vaught – informs Drury on the House floor that Madigan would like to work with Drury on his legislative proposal to protect the privacy of school children's electronic data.
7/7/2016 – 8/17/2016		Emails between Drury and Madigan's counsel to find time to discuss data privacy legislation	Email
10/7/2016	9:15 am	Email from Drury to Madigan's counsel inquiring into status of data privacy legislation	Email
10/7/2016	10:10 am	Email from Madigan's counsel to Drury stating that Drury should have received a draft, "I'll get it to you ASAP." Drury had not received any draft.	Email
10/7/2016	11:34 am	About an hour after the above-described email chain, Madigan leaves a voicemail on Drury's cell phone: "Scott, this is Mike Madigan. Would you please give me a call at 773-[REDACTED]. 773-[REDACTED]. Thank you." Drury still did not receive any draft of the legislation.	Voice message (saved)
10/7/2016	1:58 pm; 2:02 pm	Drury and Madigan talk by phone. Madigan invites Drury to dinner on October 18, 2016 at the Union League Club in Chicago. Drury still did not receive any draft of the legislation.	Phone records

DATE	TIME	DESCRIPTION	CORROBORATING RECORDS
10/7/2016 – 10/18/2016		Drury did not receive any draft of the legislation.
10/18/2016	6:30 pm	Drury and Madigan meet at Union League Club.	Phone records
10/18/2016		During dinner, Madigan inquires into status of Drury's data privacy bill. Drury informs Madigan that he had been discussing it with Madigan's staff but had not received a draft. Madigan switches topics and requests 20% of Drury's campaign fund and notes – "For you, that's a lot of money." Madigan states that he knows Drury can't contribute directly to Madigan – asks Drury to run the money through LIFT PAC – headed by Daniel Biss. Madigan gives Drury a memo regarding LIFT PAC. Madigan tells Drury he can welcomed back into the Democratic Party. Madigan states he will look into the status data privacy legislation. Drury does not commit to anything.	LIFT PAC memo
10/19/2016	9:44 am	Drury calls Madigan and tells him that Drury does not trade legislation for campaign contributions and wants to make sure that is absolutely clear. Madigan states he doesn't do that either.	Phone records
10/21/2016	4:09 pm	Madigan's staff finally sends Drury a draft of the student data privacy legislation.	Email
10/27/2016	2:37 pm	Madigan leaves Drury message	Voice message

DATE	TIME	DESCRIPTION	CORROBORATING RECORDS
10/27/2017	3:04 pm	Drury returns Madigan's call. Madigan asks if Drury will give the requested 20% of his campaign fund. Drury tells Madigan he will not contribute to LIFT PAC. Drury says he is going to support other Democrats. Madigan says he will provide Drury with a list of the Democrats Drury can support. Drury says he will support Democrats of his choosing. Madigan says: "How is that helpful to me?" Drury tells Madigan not to send the list.	Phone records
10/27/2017	7:59 pm	Email from Tim Mapes to Drury attaching a list of "recommended" contributions for Drury to make. List totals $56,000.	Email and memo
		Drury ultimately decides – on his own – to contribute to Personal PAC and the Gun Violence Prevention PAC because those are causes he and his supporters believe in.	Board of Elections filings
		The legislation never passed	