Le Royan Stars in FLC's Production of
"You're a Good Man, Charlie Brown"

A scene from FLC's production of "You're a Good Man, Charlie Brown" with Caleb Helm of Williamsonville, center, playing the title character.

Natalie Mox of Henrietta plays the character Lucy as she watches James Maloney of Seneca Falls, call as Schroeder, playing a piano in the musical "You're a Good Man, Charlie Brown."

BY LAMUEL FRIEDL & SIMEONE ZERILLO
Finger Lakes Community College's annual production of the family-friendly musical "You're a Good Man, Charlie Brown" is set to open on Thursday, Nov. 21 and Friday, Nov. 22 and 23 p.m. on Saturday, Nov. 23 in the main campus auditorium. Tickets range from $15 to $45 for general admission and $10 for students and non-FLC students. Entry is free for children 5 and under. The show runs for two hours with an intermission. The characters will visit with the audience after the show.

The musical, based on Charles Schulz's Peanuts comic strip, was first performed in New York City in 1967 and revised in 1989. The show follows Charlie Brown's struggle in finding out what it means to be a good man and how to be a good father. The story is a heartwarming and appropriate musical for younger children.

FLC students: Natalie Mox of Henrietta is Lucy, Elizabeth Garbido of LeRoy is Frieda and Woodstock, Phyllis Rivers of Medina as Peppermint Patty, Everett Cook of Clinton Springs as Snoopy, James Maloney of Seneca Falls as Schroeder, Jaqueline Wright of Rochester as Linus, Pearl Walker of Springwater as Sally Brown, and Caleb Helm of Williamsonville as Charlie Brown.

The production team includes Professor Beth Johnson as stage director, Zach Brown as scene designer, and Sarah Stindler as costume designer.

The Le Roy Weekend Gazette included the accounts of three football games and an interview with the Le Roy who is playing the starring roles of Woodstock and Brenda in this production.

When asked what audiences and practices for the show had this to say: "For auditions, I had to prepare a song and sing it a cappella, which is a little scary, but in the end, it turned out ok. I also got to read some lines for various characters from the show. It's a fun time to be on stage and try some bold character choices." She continued by saying "Practices consisted of working through scenes, character analysis, and voice rehearsals where we just sang through the music and the lyrics."

When asked what her favorite part of being involved with the production was, she said "The show is a really cute one to put on for other people. Most people know that and love the peanut character, so it's fun to bring that to the audience. I also love the people I work with and the special bonding process that happens with the cast and crew."

If you have an opportunity to see this show, make sure to go out and support Elizabeth and the entire cast of "You're a Good Man, Charlie Brown."

In 1916, an unusual story about a Thanksgiving turkey appeared in the LeRoy Gazette. It seems that a LeRoy boy, who lived in LeRoy, bought a live turkey for the traditional Thanksgiving dinner and brought it home and put it in the woodshed. He planned to "disappear" it, but the turkey was moved, and the gizzard, head, and liver are in the woodshed, and the turkey is in the neck, which can be boiled.

It seems like the DPW has most of the leaves up, but we will continue as always on our own. This year we lost a very valuable member from a machine he drove from someone putting stuff in a pile that caused it to break. Please in the future list put leaves in the bins. These break down effort for a lot of people and the town. These break down effort for a lot of people and the town. These break down effort for a lot of people and the town.

you have put in me to be your mayor for the last dozen years. The board of the LeRoy Historical Society, Mr. Pontillo, and Mr. Bonaquisti have all do a great job overseeing the daily operations of the Village. Ellen Carmel, Katie Eick and Sharon Jones for running the Village offices. Greg Kollogg the Chief of Police and his staff who keep us safe. Paul Lathan Jr. and the DPW for the maintaining of the village. Steve Carroll and his staff at the waste water treatment plant who are the best in the business and do much more. THANK YOU!
