

TELLING Pennsylvania STORIES

THEN & NOW

Since the first Pennsylvania newspaper began publishing in 1719, local news organizations have documented the people, events and ideas that shaped this commonwealth and the nation.

From hand-set type and printing presses to today's digital platforms and mobile devices, Pennsylvania news media continues to evolve, while remaining committed to informing communities and strengthening democracy.

As America marks its 250th anniversary, local journalism is proud to help celebrate the past, present and future of the commonwealth.
