Here are five things you can do right now,
as outlined by Prevent Child Abuse America:

- ✗ Reach Out. Be a friend to a parent, or support a program that helps families in your community.
- ✗ Raise the Issue. Educate yourself and others about the issues.
- ✗ Remember the Risk Factors. Stress, alcohol, drugs, isolation or health issues can often increase the risk of child abuse.
- ✗ Recognize the Warning Signs. Behavior problems, poor hygiene and unexplained injuries are some potential signs of abuse or neglect.
- ✗ Report Suspected Abuse or Neglect. Dial information or contact your department of social services, listed under government agencies in the phone book, to find out how. If you think a child is in immediate danger, call the police right away.
