AP sources: Twins hire Shelton as manager

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — The Minnesota Twins have picked former bench coach Derek Shelton as their new manager, a person with knowledge of the decision confirmed Wednesday night.

The person spoke to The Associated Press on condition of anonymity because the team had not announced the hire. Major League Baseball encourages clubs to avoid spotlighting big moves during the World Series.

Shelton served as manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates for five-plus vears with an overall record of 306-440 before he was fired on May 8, just 40 games into this season. The 55-year-old was the bench coach for the Twins in 2018 and 2019 under two different managers, Paul Molitor and Rocco Baldelli. With the under-funded Pirates, Shelton never finished higher than fourth place in the NL Central or better than 76-86.

Baldelli was fired the day after the regular season ended with a 527-505 record over seven years, plus 3-8 in the postseason. The Twins won three AL Central titles under Baldelli, including their 101-61 finish in 2019 when the rookie skipper won the AL Manager of the Year award, but they made the playoffs only once in his last five seasons and frequently struggled to shepherd their top prospects into becoming consistent contributors.

New York Yankees hitting coach James Rowson, who held that role for the Twins under both Molitor and Former Pittsburgh Pirates manager Derek Shelton was hired to be the new manager of the Minnesota Twins.

Baldelli before leaving to become bench coach of the Miami Marlins in 2020, was also one of the finalists. According to multiple reports, former Seattle Mariners manager Scott Servais and current Chicago Cubs bench coach Ryan Flaherty were in the mix, too. The Twins are one of nine MLB teams who have changed managers this year.

Shelton, who was well-regarded within the Twins organization and a close friend to Baldelli, will take over a team that spiraled to a 70-92 finish after the front office decided to use the leverage of the deadline to maximize the incoming talent and traded 10 players off the major league roster in a stunningly aggressive teardown.

The Twins traded their five best relievers, from closer Jhoan Duran on down, and left the final 54 games to a ragtag group that had eight blown saves in 18 opportunities during that span. The conversion rate of 44.4% ranked second-worst in the majors over the final two months.

The Twins are 82-119 over their last 201 games for a .408 winning percentage, and that includes a 13game winning streak this season.

Attendance has swooned at Target Field. The Twins finished with their lowest total for 81 home games (a little more than 1.7 million tickets sold) in a non-pandemic season since 2000 when they played at the cramped and dingy Metrodome and went 69-93.

Fans mostly have directed their disdain toward ownership, with deep frustration over cost cutting that came after the 2023 breakthrough Baldelli led with the end of a record 18-game postseason losing streak and the club's first win of a playoff series in 21 years.

Executive chair Joe Pohlad and his family members put the franchise up for sale in 2024, but decided in August to keep control and bring on two new investment groups for an infusion of cash to help pay down debt.

Patriots deal safety Dugger to Steelers

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Pittsburgh Steelers have acquired safety Kyle Dugger from New England in hopes of giving the back end of the secondary another experienced option with starter DeShon Elliott out indefinitely with a knee

Pittsburgh sent a sixth-round pick in the 2026 draft to New England in exchange for Dugger and a seventh-round selection.

Dugger, a second-round choice by the Patriots in 2020, had 17 tackles in seven games with New England this season. The six-year veteran has nine career interceptions, including a pair of Pick-6s in 2022.

Elliott injured his right knee in the second half of Pittsburgh's 35-25 loss to Green Bay on Sunday night. Dugger joins a safety group that includes Chuck Clark and Jabrill Peppers.

Pittsburgh's secondary is struggling. The Steelers are dead last in the NFL against the pass and have surrendered over 700 yards in their last two games to Cincinnati's Joe Flacco and Green Bay's Jordan

Things won't get any easier for Pittsburgh this weekend when AFC South-leading Indianapolis (7-1) and the NFL's top offense visit Acrisure

No. 6 Duke keeps its frequent perch as favorite in AC

Jon Scheyer inherited a seemingly impossible task at Duke in following retired Hall of Fame coaching great Mike Krzyzewski. Yet the sixth-ranked Blue Devils have kept on winning.

They're starting this year as Atlantic Coast Conference favorite again.

The Blue Devils are coming off a 35-win season that included reaching the Final Four, while the 38-year-old Scheyer became the first coach to twice win the ACC Tournament in his first three seasons. The Blue Devils lost all five starters from that team — including Associated Press national player of the year and No. 1 overall NBA draft pick Cooper Flagg — but added the No. 1-ranked recruiting class and stand as the preseason pick to win a league race featuring No. 11 Louisville and 25th-ranked rival North Carolina.

This is the 10th time in 13 years that Duke is the ACC favorite. Winning the ACC will depend on integrating a recruiting class headlined Evans and Maliq Brown.

of the year lead to a performance we are not satisfied with," Smith said.

"The first goal is to be ready for

"I think if you keep putting yourself in that position of being in that moment, being right there, it's only a matter of time before you break through," Scheyer said of the program's status as frequent national-title contender. "And I feel that's where our program is."

The Cardinals lost to the Blue Devils in last year's ACC final and reached March Madness in Pat Kelsey's first season. It was quick rise from a twoyear wilderness under Kenny Payne: 12 wins, 52 losses, a 5-35 record in ACC regular-season play.

Louisville is Duke's top challenger, with Kelsey having retooled his roster through the transfer portal.

"We don't talk about the past. We don't talk about the future," Kelsey said. "Our sole focus is excellence in the now."

But the 6-foot-6 guard by power forward Cameron Boozer returned to college basketball for his — 247Sports' No. 3-ranked recruit senior season and transferred to N.C. State, where he is preseason ACC player of the year under new coach

"The second goal is to have a great experience we can build on moving forward, because we aim to be back in 2026, and not as an "out-of-nowhere" surprise."

North Clarion has a strong tradition of sending runners to Hershey to compete in the state meet and this year is no different as the program had five runners qualify from the D-9 Class 1A meet.,

Leading the way are a pair of three-time qualifiers in senior Jackson Nicewonger and junior Abby Hastings. Nicewonger earned his spot after

The league returns two top-tier scorers in Notre Dame point guard Markus Burton (league-best 21.3 points) and Syracuse guard J.J. Starling (seventh at 17.8).

Top transfers

Beyond the Wolfpack's Williams, the Cardinals added three of 247Sports' top 20 transfers in Ryan Conwell, Isaac McKneely and Adrian Wooley — all 6-4 guards who shot better than 40% on 3-pointers

Conwell averaged 16.5 points at Xavier and will play for his fourth school in as many seasons. McKneely averaged 14.4 points at Virginia, while Wooley (18.8) was Conference USA freshman of the year at Kennesaw State.

North Carolina added 7-footer Henri Veesaar, who left Arizona to join a Tar Heels team that desperately needs reliable frontcourt play.

Top freshmen

Nicewonger finished in 150th place (19:06) in 2023 and placed 68th last year (18:15) while Hastings finished 115th in 2023 (22:56) and placed 45th last year (21:36).

After reaching the state meet last season, sophomore Evie Carroll qualified again this year after finishing 16th at the D-9 meet (21:49). She placed 96th last year at states (22:34), though, her best time this year is 21:12.

Nikolas Khamenia.

UNC will lean on forward Caleb Wilson, a two-way talent with athleticism and length. Wilson joins Boozer and Louisville point guard Mikel Brown Jr. as high-end NBA talents considered to be possible one-and-done prospects.

Notre Dame also landed a Mc-Donald's all-American in guard Jalen Haralson, the Fighting Irish's highest-ranked prospect in the modern era.

New coaches

The league has four new coaches: Wade, Florida State's Luke Loucks, Miami's Jai Lucas and Virginia's Ryan Odom.

The 42-year-old Wade is back in the power-conference ranks after his ouster from LSU amid NCAA trouble. He won big in two seasons at McNeese and replaces the fired Kevin Keatts.

Loucks, 35, arrives from years in the NBA to take over at his alma mater for longtime coach Leonard Hamilton.

Lucas, 36, left the Duke staff to take over the Hurricanes, who coach Jim Larrañaga step aside last Blace Easlon and Ethan Hastings will be continuing their impressive freshman seasons at Hershey as the two talented youngsters went back and forth with their finishes for most of the season, until Ethan had an injury and was pulled for three weeks.

We are looking forward to seeing all of our athletes end their season on a high note with strong performances at Hershey." North Clarion coach Roxanne McFarland said. "God willing, we are hoping to bring home some medals, but either way, we are thankful for this experi-

December and finished out under interim coach Bill Courtney.

Odom, 51, takes over a Virginia program that lost longtime coach Tony Bennett to retirement shortly before last season. The former VCU coach grew up in Charlottesville around the program while his father, Dave, was an assistant in the 1980s.

Shorter schedule

The ACC will have an 18-game league slate, down from 20 games, as the league tries to reverse a downward trend of NCAA bids (four last year). The move is designed to give ACC teams two more spots to schedule quality nonconference matchups that could bolster postseason résumés. The ACC had moved to 20 games in 2019-20 with the arrival of the ESPN-partnered ACC Network.

Preseason picks

Champion: Duke; 2) Louisville; 3) UNC; 4) N.C. State; 5) Virginia; 6) SMU; 7) Clemson; 8) Miami; 9) Syracuse; 10) Notre Dame; 11) Wake Forest; 12) Virginia Tech; 13) Georgia Tech; 14) Pittsburgh; 15) FSU; 16) California; 17) Stanford; 18) Boston College.

ence and opportunity."

Central Clarion will have both its boys and girls teams competing in Hershey in Class 1A races after each captured a district title last weekend.

Competing for the boys team are Hayden Weber, Jackson Baker, Drake Edmonds, Joshua Turner, Jonas Wilshire, AJ Mecusker and Rvan Rinker.

Representing the girls for the Wildcats are Adisen Jackson, Hannah Love, Eliza Datko, Julianna Schwabenbauer, Reise Jackson, Livia McGinley and Dana Coulson.
