

Brown Burro Cafe

The best Mexican food in the area

by Bill Bruner

Staff writer

Brown Burro Café has become the place for locals and tourists alike. The restaurant, owned by George and Judy Davis, began as a much smaller restaurant 17 years ago. The Davis's have doubled the size of their dining room and added the building for the Cream and Stream ice cream shop that is open in the summertime.

The Brown Burro Cafe is beloved by the community and the Davis's are grateful for all the support they have received from the locals and tourists. They pride themselves on great customer service and believe their staff, who have been with them for many years, are their best ambassadors.

The restaurant serves the best Mexican food in the area. "We've had many people tell us our food is better than some of the places in Denver," George Davis said.

They have recently done some remodeling to the restrooms.

The restaurant employs six employees during the winter months and as many as 18 in the summer months. The Brown Burro is currently open 6 a.m. until 2 p.m. Wednesday through Sunday.

In addition to the Brown Burro Cafe, the Davis's own the Cream and Stream ice cream parlor next door. The ice cream parlor is open usually from May through October and serves fresh ingredients all made in Colorado.

If you have not had the chance to eat at the Brown Burro Cafe, try it out today. The Brown Burro is open from 6 a.m. till 2 p.m. Wednesday through Sunday. They are located at 706 Main Street (Colorado Highway 9) Fairplay. Their Facebook page is <https://www.facebook.com/Brown-Burro-Cafe-112429298779633/>.
