Blackwater River Blueway

Pigg River Blueway

Safety First and Foremost

There are hazards on the Pigg and the Blackwater. Fatalities have occurred. Dangers include fallen trees, logjams, dams and other obstacles. Know your river section before you go. Make sure the water level is not too high and be aware of how changing weather conditions might affect river safety.

You should never float alone. Always paddle with others. Always carry a life jacket and wear it when in doubt. Learn how to handle your craft by paddling with knowledgeable boaters.

Respect the River & Property

- No glass containers on river trips.
- Take out everything you carry with you, especially empty drink cans and plastic bottles.
