ROOSEVELT WINS IN LANDSLIDE

State Gives Democrats Record Vote

Glass, Nine Candidates for House Are Victorious

By George Prince Arnold

Virginia's Democrats turned out in droves yesterday to give President Roosevelt the greatest majority the State has ever given any candidate for the Presidency. Joining in the national Democratic landslide, they re-elected Senator Glass by an overwhelming majority, and elected all nine of the Old Dominion's Democratic candidates to Congress.

In amazing contrast with the dry eight years ago, when the State left its traditional party moorings, Democratic leaders watched the mounting returns in stunned realization that they were witnessing something far bigger than they had expected—and something for which they could not claim full credit.

Vote Astonishes Politicians

They had predicted that Roosevelt would carry the State by 80,000, never dreaming that he could approach the majority of 114,000 he rolled up over Hoover in 1932. With 111 of the 1704 precincts still to be heard from, the President already had a majority of more than 130,000, 16,000 more than the total given him on his election to office, and this unheard-of majority was steadily rising.

The eagerness of Virginia to re-elect their President and guarantee four more years of the New Deal had brought out the greatest vote in the history of the State. The previous high was recorded in the Smith-Hoover fight of 1928, when the warmth of the campaign brought out 303,358 voters. With 111 precincts to come in, they voted yesterday to the number of 316,001. And of this total, Roosevelt received 223,444, more than 70 per cent. Landon's vote was 92,462, Lonke 102, Thomas 104, Browder 138, and Alken 11.

Democrats Jubilant

Democratic leaders here, nearly frantic with joy over the smashing Virginia victory, were lifted into the seventh heaven of ecstasy when James A. Farley, National Democratic Committeeman, speaking over the telephone to Horace Edwards, State Democratic campaign director, conceded to Landon only the States of Maine and Vermont. All the others, he said, were "in the bag" for the President, except possibly Kansas.

"The great Democratic victory which has reached the proportions of an unprecedented landslide," said the jubilant Edwards immediately thereafter, "is a growing tribute to President Roosevelt and an unqualified endorsement of his policies. In Virginia the victory has been made possible by the untiring efforts of our thousands of Democratic workers throughout the State who have given unstintingly of their time and energies to the campaign. . . . The results have demonstrated that Virginia, the birthplace of liberal democratic government, is still true to the tradition of liberalism so well epitomized by a great Democratic leader, Thomas Jefferson. Under the leadership of Franklin Delano Roosevelt, Virginia marches on with her sister States to a greater destiny."

Glass Overwhelming Victor

Clarence Ahall, State Republican campaign director, was not at his headquarters last night. Senator Glass, who had no major party opposition, scored an overwhelming victory over his Socialist and Communist opponents, George Robben and Donald Hurm. The movement to "scratch" him as a re-

President Leads Foe in 45 States

Returns Show 519 Electoral Votes for New Deal, Against 12 for Governor Landon

TOPEKA, KAN., Nov. 3—(WEDNESDAY)—(AP)—Governor Alf M. Landon conceded the re-election of President Roosevelt early today.

In a message, given to the press in a hotel after the Republican nominee had retired for the night, Landon congratulated Roosevelt as follows:

"THE PRESIDENT, HYDE PARK, NEW YORK.
"The nation has spoken. Every American will accept the verdict, and work for the common cause of the good of our country. That is the spirit of democracy. You have my sincere congratulations."
"ALF M. LANDON."

(By The Associated Press)

The election tides were running swift and strong toward Roosevelt early today.

So impressive was the President's lead—he was ahead in no less than 45 States—with 519 electoral votes—that Democratic leaders claimed the most sweeping electoral victory in history.

The great States of New York, Pennsylvania, Illinois and Ohio—a bloc whose weight is usually decisive—were helping pile up the Democratic ticket's impressive margin of leadership. Westward to California, the story was the same.

The totals turned out by busy election tellers were giving Landon the lead in Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont—with 12 electoral votes. And even in New Hampshire, the Republican margin was far from conclusive.

President Predicts Record

Surrounded by friends at his Hyde Park home, the President happily scanned the returns, and told a group of his neighbors that it looked to him like the biggest sweep of all time. At Topeka, Governor Landon entertained a party with coffee and doughnuts, but said nothing for publication.

The Eastern industrial States, with the city vote predominating, piled up big totals for Roosevelt. New York State, led by New York City, amassed a Democratic total nearly double that for Landon, and the vote was close in the usually Republican rural sections.

Old Republican Pennsylvania, which has voted for Republican presidential aspirants ever since the War Between the States, gave Roosevelt a big advantage. Philadelphia went overwhelmingly for him; Harrisburg, ordinarily a Republican stronghold, voted Democratic, too.

In New Jersey the available returns favored Roosevelt by nearly four to one. Connecticut, which went for Hoover in 1932, voted the Democratic ticket a 100,000 margin, with almost the entire State accounted for.

Landon led in Massachusetts for a short time, but his margin fell as the returns accumulated until finally Roosevelt held a comfortable lead. Landon led for a time in Rhode Island, also. An analysis of the returns convinced the Providence Journal that the ultimate count would show Roosevelt carrying the State by 30,000.

Big Majority In Senate Won By Democrats

Majority in House Still in Doubt; G.O.P. at Disadvantage

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3—(AP)—Earlier returns tonight indicated an overwhelming Democratic majority in the Senate, but the count was too close in many States to present a definite indication of the membership of the House.

Attention centered during the early hours on the Senate, where the Democrats, starting out with 47 carry-overs, quickly elected eight more from the Solid South, giving them a total of 55. With 90 seats, 40 is a Senate majority.

In the Senate Democrats elected 11, Republicans one and 24 seats were in doubt at a late hour last night.

Democrats Lead in House Race

In the House the Democrats ran up a lead of 101 to 7 against the Republicans. Up to late tonight no returns had been recorded, except the two Republican gains in Maine's September election.

"The full membership of the House was at stake in this year's elections, however. For the Republicans to elect a majority of that chamber, a heavy turnover would be necessary. Democrats in the last Congress 308 House members as compared with 100 Republicans, although some predicted such an outcome."

Three Democratic senatorial candidates—Pat Harrison of Mississippi and Richard B. Russell Jr. of Georgia, incumbents, and Allen J. Ellender of Louisiana—were unopposed and won

Literary Digest Editor 'Astounded' at Result

NEW YORK, Nov. 3—(AP)—With a chiuco in his voice, Wilfred J. Funk, editor-in-chief of the Literary Digest, which forecast Governor Landon's election, said tonight, "I'm simply astounded at what is apparently a landslide for Mr. Roosevelt."

"The laugh," he said, "was to show he could 'take it.'"
"It's beyond comprehension to explain away the Digest poll," he said. "I couldn't possibly do that now. That will take time—and a lot of pencils and paper and figuring."

The Literary Digest, weekly news magazine which predicted the winner in the three previous presidential elections, last week gave Governor Landon 379 electoral votes from 32 States to 161 electoral votes from 16 States for President Roosevelt.
It represented a Landon victory of about 64 per cent.

Empire State Gives Her Son 600,000 Lead

Landon's Upstate Vote Is Smothered by Roosevelt

NEW YORK, Nov. 4—(AP)—With more than half of New York State's votes counted, President Roosevelt held a 600,000 plurality over Governor Landon at midnight (Eastern Standard Time).

"The totals for 6,328 of the State's 8,660 precincts were: Roosevelt 2,578,136, Landon 1,618,697. An upsurge of Republican votes outside of New York City sent Governor Landon into the lead in upstate counties but the President maintained a three-to-one ratio in the metropolis."

Governor Lehman Wins

The upstate count, with 2,533 districts out of a total of 5,151 was: Roosevelt 704,151; Landon 734,263. In New York City 2,150 districts out of 3,799 were: Roosevelt 983,439; Landon 341,468.

Governor Herbert H. Lehman, running on the Democratic-American Labor ticket, was leading Supreme Court Justice William F. Bleckley of Yonkers by 1,431,053 to 1,271,201. Justice Bleckley conceded his defeat early today and said he was sending a telegram of congratulations to Governor Lehman.

Continued Prohibition Inducted in Oklahoma

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 3—(AP)—Citizens of Oklahoma, one of the few remaining "dry" States in the nation, apparently decided in the voting booths today they desired to retain prohibition.

A proposed constitutional amendment to repeal the State's prohibition law and set up a commission appointed by the Governor to control sales of liquor through State warehouses and retail stores, was behind by a two-to-one vote when one-third of the State's 3,421 precincts reported.

With 1,142 precincts reported the vote was 71,263 for; 119,391 against.

Nation's Chief Given Ovation At Hyde Park

President Sees Biggest 'Sweep' in History of Country

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Nov. 3—(AP)—President Roosevelt asserted tonight on the basis of returns before 11 o'clock it "looks as if we are going to have one of the largest sweeps ever heard of in the history of the United States."

Addressing several thousand torch-bearing neighbors from the front of his mother's home, the President stood in a light drizzle and said while he could not "say anything official" he appeared that the "sweep" was covering every section—the South, the coast, the mountain States and New England.

Crowd Cheers

A band played "Happy Days Are Here Again" as the crowd cheered and photographers clicked away with cameras.

When the picture taking had proceeded for several minutes, the President, resting on the arm of his son Franklin Jr., urged more speed, saying: "Hurry it up. I've got to get back and get the returns from California."

His mother, wife, daughter Anna and Ida Jean Kahn, two of his four sons, stood on the porch with him.

"Four more happy years with Roosevelt," a voice came from the crowd spread out over the broad lawn and prolonged cheering followed.

"I am very happy to feel that a great number of the people seem to wish to have the President carry on the work which he has begun in the last few years," said Mrs. Roosevelt.

"However," she smiled, "the returns aren't quite complete yet."
The President's 82-year-old mother, Mrs. James Roosevelt Sr., who stood

Times-Dispatch Poll Accurate

On the basis of returns early this morning, Governor Landon was leading in only three States—Maine, Vermont and New Hampshire—which were the precise States ranked as "sure for Landon" in the poll of the American Institute of Public Opinion. This weekly feature, printed every Sunday in The Times-Dispatch, forecast an overwhelming Roosevelt victory, predicting that he might poll 519 electoral votes—the President's exact standing this morning.

Illinois proved the first indicator of Mid-Western sentiment. Returns from Chicago quickly showed the President an overwhelmingly victorious in the metropolitan area and for the State as a whole, he was holding a lead of well more than two to one.

Missouri, Indiana, Ohio, Iowa also were reporting leads for Roosevelt, while their neighboring State of Kansas, home of Governor Landon, provided one of the election's touches of the spectacular. The Governor and the President ran a touch-and-go race, with the latter clinging to a narrow plurality.

California Increases Lead

Returns from California were late arriving, but they also showed the Roosevelt-Garner ticket ahead. Oregon, and Washington, with returns fragmentary, also gave the Democrats a comfortable advantage.

The solid South was in early of course with a unanimous electoral vote for the Democratic ticket.

Of the three States remaining in the Landon column early this morning, one appeared to be wobbling. Governor Landon early had taken the lead in New Hampshire, but with the State half counted, President Roosevelt was gaining and the remaining margin hardly was enough for comfort.

It appeared possible that the Democratic tide also had imperiled the chances of some of the best known of the Republican minority in the Senate.

With returns still inconclusive, Senator Hastings Roosevelt, was trailing in Delaware, Senator Norris, Republican, supporter, held a lead in Nebraska, and Senator Barbour, Republican, was behind in New Jersey. Henry Cabot Lodge was leading in his three-corner race for senator in Massachusetts.

Democratic Governors Ahead

The early morning returns show the Democrats leading for Governor in 21 States, the Republicans in 10.
