PURPOSE/VISION

An opportunity for community members to engage and talk with providers and representatives knowledgeable and involved in disaster response and recovery measures in how to better prepare for events that pose risks. Sometimes we don't know, what we don't know. This clinic will provide a navigated and supported opportunity for individuals to complete their own PRINTED personal preparedness plan based on considerations for their individual needs.

EVENT OVERVIEW

To help you prepare for a disaster, this comprehensive workshop provides an opportunity to engage with disaster response experts and representatives.

Our Clinic workshop will be engaging with individuals and small groups at specific subject matter workstations/areas. On arrival, our participants will be provided a Personal Preparedness Plan (P3) Workbook and assigned a Navigator (volunteer) to assist them in the process of thinking and working to build their own personal preparedness plan and to develop follow-up action items identified throughout the process (e.g. inquire about obtaining insurance; develop an emergency kit specific to their needs; check with DME provider about additional back-up batteries for DME devices; inquire with Medicaid providers about potential to get back-up generator based on personal health circumstances; have candid conversations with caregivers and support networks to better plan for emergencies, etc...).
