

Student Title IX Advisory Council

The Student Title IX Advisory Council is charged with providing ongoing input and recommendations to the Title IX Coordinator, assisting professional staff in implementing educational initiatives, acting as a liaison between the student body and Eckerd staff, specifically the Title IX Office and the Dean of Students, and offering a peer resource to reporting and responding parties in Title IX cases.

The Student Advisory Council responsibilities are as follows:

- strategize how to improve Title IX processes and procedures within federal guidelines and regulations, to make them more accessible to students and establish greater confidence in outcomes;
- provide regular feedback about campus culture to the Title IX Office and the Dean of Students;
- assist staff in providing educational initiatives and programs to the student population;
- support students and help with knowledge of process, when requested by students engaged in the process;
- offer a student perspective on the Title IX website, process and policies;
- act as a liaison group to the Title IX Office and the Dean of Students; and
- engage in training the better to understand campus processes and trauma-informed support so that members will be adequately prepared to provide input, offer support and make appropriate referrals.

Faculty Title IX Advisory Council

The Faculty Title IX Advisory Council responsibilities are as follows:

- become educated in and conversant with the requirements and processes of Title IX and Title VII as they apply to faculty and students, including training related to updates and revisions as they emerge from the Department of Education;
- consult with and advise the Title IX Coordinator regarding educational and training opportunities for all faculty on matters related to Title IX and Title VII. In particular, work with the Title IX Coordinator and at times with the Student Council on training and education directed toward prevention efforts;
- provide support and guidance to faculty trying to understand their roles and responsibilities under Title IX and Title VII and work to define appropriate faculty-student interaction guidelines, including guidelines for social media interaction, study abroad classes, and faculty-student research travel; and
- work closely with the Title IX Coordinator, Office of Human Resources, Dean of Faculty, Dean of Students, and the Student Title IX Advisory Council to build a campus culture of care, nonviolence, and advocacy services.
