

FAMILY MEDIA AGREEMENT

TEENS

- I will not give out my personal information to strangers, like my age, last name, address or phone number
- I will not meet someone in real life that I met online
- I will block and report any creepy messages from people I don't know
- I will tell my parents or an adult I trust if anything happens online that makes me uncomfortable
- I will only share my password with my parents
- I will use privacy controls and discuss with my parents when I want to create a social networking profile
- I will not put anything on my profile that I wouldn't want my parents, teachers, college admissions officers or future bosses to see
- I agree not to bully anyone online or on my cell phone by sending pictures, spreading gossip, setting up fake profiles or saying cruel things about people
- I know that not everything I read or see is true and I will think about whether a source is credible
- I agree not to use technology to cheat in games or on schoolwork
- I recognize that to my parents, my safety is more important than anything else

PARENTS

- I will try to embrace my child's world and understand social networking, online gaming, IM and sites that my child likes to use
- I will learn how to use social media, own my own digital reputation and "friend" my child
- I will learn about privacy controls and how to use them
- I will know my child's online identifiers
- I will monitor my child's cellphone use on a regular basis
- I will set media limits for my child based on behavior
- I will have consequences for violations to the media limits
- I recognize that technology changes every day, so I will talk to my child about digital safety on a regular basis
- I will recognize that media is a big part of my child's life even if I don't always understand why
