SPECIAL GUEST SPEAKER ANNA SEATON HUNTINGTON

Anna Seaton Huntington is the manager of grants and individual giving at First Peoples Fund, a national nonprofit that takes an arts and culture approach to breaking the cycle of poverty in Native communities. She has previously served as the vice president of advancement for the Women's Foundation of Minnesota, executive director of Arts Rapid City and community engagement manager for a major public art project in downtown Rapid City, South Dakota. She has a bachelor's degree in English from Harvard University and master's in journalism from Columbia University. Anna is a two-time Olympic rower and bronze medalist, and was a member of the first women's team to compete for the America's Cup, an experience she chronicled in the book "Making Waves." Her freelance journalism about women's sports has appeared in publications ranging from The New York Times to Glamour. A Kansas native, Anna is an avid hiker, kayaker and swimmer. Her proudest achievement by far is raising two children with her husband, Stewart.
