

Assistant County Administrator Faces Felony DUI and Hit-and-Run Charges in Del Norte County; Arraignment Held July 15

E. SCHWARZ

For Country Media, Inc.

Randolph (Randy) Hooper, Assistant County Administrative Officer for Del Norte, appeared in court for arraignment on July 15 in connection with felony charges stemming from an April 19, 2025, vehicle collision near Sand Mine Road and U.S. Highway 101. The incident resulted in a two-car crash with minor injuries to the other driver and led to charges of felony driving under the influence (DUI) and felony hit and run.

Presiding Judge Sara Olson acknowledged at the hearing that she was not familiar with the specifics of the case and requested additional time to review the police report and hear from the defense before further decisions could be made. During the appearance, both prosecution and defense indicated a willingness to explore possible plea arrangements.

Among the options discussed were participation in a first offender DUI education program, mandatory attendance at three Alcoholics Anonymous meetings per week for six months, and additional diversion programs typical for first-time DUI offenses.

At the time of his arrest Hooper given a breathalyzer by California Highway Patrol, (CHP), followed by a blood test which determined his blood alcohol was .18%. Legal limit for Driving Under the Influence (DUI) is .08%

Discussions on possible plea arrangements were interrupted when the victim, Megan Posta, age 35, of the collision—appearing remotely—objected to the potential dismissal of the hit-and-run charge. The victim's statement prompted Judge Olson, as well as counsel for both sides, to decide that the hit-and-run charge would remain part of the case at this stage.

The court scheduled a preliminary hearing for August 26, 2025. At that time, Judge Olson expects to reach a decision based on her review of the evidence and potential plea agreements. Plea decisions could be entered prior to the preliminary hearing date.

Hooper was arrested and booked into Del Norte County Jail following the incident and released on a $225,000 bond. A public records search shows no prior criminal history for Hooper in Del Norte County. He remains in his administrative role with the county pending the outcome of legal proceedings.

Hooper was unwilling to comment based on the advice of his attorneys.

BY ROGER GITLIN

Country Media, Inc.

Two-term District 4 Supervisor Clyde Eller has passed away. Eller was 89.

Supervisor Eller was living with his family in Sacramento until he succumbed. He suffered from long-term Alzheimer's Dementia and passed away in his sleep, July 8th.

Eller owned and operated the Ft. Dick Market for over four decades and was elected to the Board for two, 4 year terms in 1994 and 1998.

According to his son Kenny, Clyde was a highly-principled elected county legislator who never wavered on core issues. "I am the man I am today because of my Dad," said Kenny. He was one of a kind. "Clyde Eller was raised in humble beginnings in rural Humboldt County. One of five siblings, Clyde graduated high-school in 1953, married the love of his life, Dawn and for seventy years, the couple shared their lives. Clyde served honorably in the US Army, and returned to college to earn his Master's Degree in Clinical Psychology. In 1981, Clyde bought the Ft. Dick Market from his uncle. Clyde and Dawn operated the highly successful market.

Kenny remembers his calling to help his fellow Del Norte residents...and he did it so well.

Kenny reminisces Clyde was one of a kind. He successfully ran for the Board of Supervisors twice. His reputation for integrity and honesty was above reproach.

Posthumously, thank you for your service Supervisor Clyde Eller (1935-2025). You were indeed one of a kind.

GUEST COMMENTARY - Opinion by Samuel Strait

Harbor Commissioner’s Lawyer says Triplicate is Bias

Having read the article produced by the Triplicate’s Editor titled “Harbor Commissioner Sues Herself”, July 10,2025, I must admit, I am a bit puzzled. I’d heard Commissioner Nehmer had filed with the court but was waiting for the details to learn what her complaint was all about. I respect Annie Nehmer as a person, but clearly her legal acumen needs a bit more development. I would think in the legal profession there would be a way to sue someone without including yourself!

As to the complaint of “bias” by the Triplicate regarding her situation with the Harbor Commission perhaps her newly acquired lawyer can shed some light. No word of bias, or any word for that matter has come from Nehmer, herself.

After reading Editor Gitlin’s account several times, I find nothing screaming “bias” throughout the entire article. It is a simple rendering of facts surrounding Nehmer’s disagreements with her fellow commissioners based on Gitlin’s attendance and observations at recent Crescent City Harbor Commission meetings.

If there is anything factually incorrect in the article, Commissioner Annie Nehmer has had ample opportunity to correct the article’s deficiencies on page two of the Triplicate in any one of a number of succeeding issues of the Triplicate. Unfortunately, Commissioner Nehmer hasn’t so much as hinted she could provide evidence of such “false information” or bias in the Triplicate’s reporting.

If past mistakes in the Triplicate are any indication of Editor Gitlin practices, a notice of correction is readily found in succeeding issues of the Triplicate. Rather than having Commissioner Nehmer’s lawyer complain about nonexistent bias, perhaps the Commissioner herself would entertain the notion of an interview or an op ed of 750 words on page two of the Triplicate to explain exactly where such bias is located. I believe the offer is still open.

Whispering in the ear of “Jessica Cejnar Andrews” with claims of bias will not change the facts reported in the Triplicate. Miss Cejnar is wasting her time thinking she has any credibility with the Triplicate and its content. Should she have actually attended a Crescent City Harbor Commission meeting in the recent past, she could have a glimmer of a chance of being credible, but she hasn’t. Living in Hawaii makes “executive news director”, Jessica Cejnar Andrews just another opinion, abet a distance one at that.

Until Commissioner Nehmer can shed light on her convoluted behavior while a sitting commissioner on the Harbor Commission, we all will wonder just what she thinks she is going to accomplish by adding to the Harbor’s financial woes other than the harbor’s early demise. Clearly, she is acquainted with the precarious nature of the harbor’s financial health. Mounting legal bills will do nothing but make the situation worse.

Having seen the Commissioner’s court filing and the presiding judge’s response, I can’t help but believe there is more to the story than Brown Act violations. Since Commissioner Nehmer has failed to fill in the gaps, her legal filings appear more reactionary to Harbormaster Rademaker than sound and principled leadership.

In an earlier opinion article, written “Will the Children Please Leave the Room!”, July 10th in the Triplicate, it was very clearly stated, given the needs of the harbor, the antics between commissioners should cease immediately. There is no time for the commission to carry on in a disruptive fashion if the harbor is to turn its future around.

Crescent City has already endured decades of dysfunction at the harbor and should not be forced to experience more of the same. The current commission desperately needs to come together and begin to act like the mature adults elected to serve on the Commission. No one should be thinking they always get what they want, because the world doesn’t work for the satisfaction of a single person.

There is no bias directed at Commissioner Nehmer by the Triplicate in any way shape or form. Now end the legal gymnastics, Commissioner Nehmer, and do the job you were elected to accomplish, turn the harbor’s situation around. Act and behave like the commission is actually in charge, not as what we have seen thus far.

This is not an objective article but an opinion piece. I find when an adult initiate legal preceding’s against themselves to make a questionable point, there is more to the story. Until the story is complete, the adult cannot complain if a few stones are thrown. If there is no more to the story, then the children should leave the room.

Commissioner Nehmer either get over yourself or explain away. No bias intended.

Is the Planning Commission Kicking the Digital Can Down the Road?

BY ROGER GITLIN
Country Media, Inc.

The Crescent City Planning Commission posted an interesting item, on the Thursday Last meeting.

A Public Hearing to consider a zoning ordinance amendment to allow digital signs was discussed.

The amendment was applied for by Dr. John Kirk, principal of Tsunami Lanes.

Following all the rules, Dr. Kirk was previously approved to allow the 4ft by 8ft sign at Tsunami Lanes, 101 South, but the City suspended the previous approval for zoning restrictions.

The signage includes advertising and public service announcements.

The Planning Commission had three options: Approval, Denial or Continued Study.

The Commission chose Continued Study, expressing the impact of lighting (called NITS) off the 101.

Audience members expressed approval of the digital signage; nonetheless, Commissioners voted unanimously voted to study the matter.

The sign continues to operate with no public complaints.

The Planning Commission meets again Thursday, August 14 at 5:30pm at the Crescent City Waste Water Treatment Plant.

Pacific Power Foundation Awards Over $300,000 in Grants to Advance Education and STEM Initiatives

E. SCHWARZ
For Country Media, Inc.

The Pacific Power Foundation has announced the allocation of more than $300,000 in grant funding to 89 nonprofit and community organizations across California, Oregon, and Washington. These grants are dedicated to expanding access to quality STEM (science, technology, engineering, and mathematics) education and strengthening learning opportunities in the communities served by Pacific Power.

The Pacific Power Foundation, operating as the charitable arm of PacifiCorp in the western United States, has a longstanding history of supporting local organizations and initiatives. Since its establishment in 1988, the foundation has awarded over $80 million to nonprofit organizations, underscoring its enduring commitment to community growth and vitality.

Ryan Flynn, director of the Pacific Power Foundation and president of Pacific Power, emphasized the foundation’s ongoing mission: “The foundation is delighted to support local organizations that uplift the next generation of STEM professionals. We are truly inspired by the communities’ efforts in opening doors for the next generation of innovators, problem-solvers, and leaders.”

This most recent round of grant funding, totaling $313,000, is part of one of four annual grant cycles. The foundation’s focus on STEM and educational initiatives reflects a recognition of the vital role these fields play in preparing young people for the challenges of the modern workforce.

Among the organizations receiving support are:

Tolowa Needash Society here in Del Norte County. Funding will help build the Xwii-t’ii-dvn (People’s House) and a storage unit at Nii~lii~chvn-dvn Ne’sr-dash-dvn (Dance Place). This project provides the Tolowa Dee-Ni Nation with an upgraded space for community gatherings and cultural events.

Mt. Shasta Museum Association in Siskiyou County. The grant will enable the museum to offer expanded STEM activities during its Science Saturdays program, encouraging families to engage in science learning together.

The Pacific Power Foundation typically awards grants ranging from $2,000 to $10,000 per recipient, with most grants falling between $2,000 and $5,000. However, the precise figure for Del Norte County’s allocation in this grant cycle has not been disclosed

The foundation’s history of charitable giving demonstrates a consistent focus on education, youth engagement, and community enrichment. Over the years, previous grants have supported a diverse array of programs, including:

- After-school STEM clubs in rural school districts, providing resources for hands-on learning and mentorship.
- Scholarship programs for underrepresented students pursuing degrees in science and engineering.
- Community science fairs and robotics competitions, helping foster interest in technology and innovation among young learners.

• Teacher training workshops aimed at equipping educators with the tools to inspire and educate future generations in STEM fields.

These investments have contributed to increased access to educational opportunities, particularly in underserved and rural areas, and have helped build a foundation for long-term community resilience and growth.

The Pacific Power Foundation is one of the largest utility-endowed foundations in the United States. Its mission, through charitable investments, is to support the growth and vitality of the communities served by Rocky Mountain Power and Pacific Power. The foundation operates in six states, serving over two million customers as Rocky Mountain Power in Utah, Wyoming, and Idaho, and as Pacific Power in Oregon, Washington, and California.

By offering four grant cycles each year, the foundation ensures a steady stream of support for organizations addressing a wide range of community needs. The latest round of grants, with a strong emphasis on STEM and education, reflects the foundation’s understanding of the transformative power of knowledge and opportunity.

As communities continue to navigate the evolving demands of the 21st century, the Pacific Power Foundation’s support of educational and STEM initiatives remains an important resource.

The foundation believes that investing in the next generation of leaders, innovators, and problem-solvers, the fit is helping to lay the groundwork for a more equitable and prosperous future.

At the heart of the Del Norte County Fair is its mission: to serve as a hub for community connection, agricultural education, and youth opportunity. Under the leadership of CEO Kimberley Floyd, the fair has embraced modernization and inclusivity while holding fast to its roots.

Floyd’s tenure has seen expanded youth programs with more opportunities for local youth through scholarships, competitions, and leadership roles. During her tenure community partnerships have expanded, collaborations with local schools, nonprofits, and businesses which broaden the fair’s impact. She has initiated sustainability initiatives and efforts to reduce waste and improve fairground facilities for future generations. Her vision is said by many to have revitalized the fair, ensuring its relevance and vibrancy in a changing world.

Over the past decades, the Del Norte County Fair has evolved in response to both challenges and opportunities. Many facility upgrades have been made - to the grandstands, livestock barns, and exhibit buildings have improved accessibility and safety. The fair has weathered reductions in state funding by increasing community support, volunteerism, and creative fundraising. Another change has been the entertainment lineup which now includes extreme sports, contemporary music, and multi-cultural events, reflecting the county’s growing diversity.

PET OF THE WEEK

Zander

Zander is a big, goofy lovebug craving outdoor exploits and constant companionship. Unfazed by cramped crates or long drives, he chills, snoozes, then hops out ready to explore. He shone at grooming and adoption events, greeting dogs and strangers politely, and he aceed the kid test. Cat interest is being retested. Leash manners are improving fast.

You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call (800) 280-2832 for information regarding the trustee's sale or visit this Internet Web site www.auction.com - for information regarding the sale of this property, using the file number assigned to this case: TS#181941. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Web site. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. NOTICE TO TENANT: You may have a right to purchase this property after the trustee auction pursuant to Section 2924m of the California Civil Code. If you are an "eligible tenant buyer/" you can purchase the property if you match the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. If you are an "eligible bidder," you may be able to purchase the property if you exceed the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. There are three steps to exercising this right of purchase. First, 48 hours after the date of the trustee sale, you can call (800) 280-2832 for information regarding the trustee's sale, or visit the internet website www.auction.com or auction.com/sb1079 for information regarding the sale of this property, using the file number assigned to this case TS#181941 to find die date on which the trustee's sale was held, the amount of the last and highest bid, and the address of the trustee. Second, you must send a written notice of intent to place a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 15 days after die trustee's sale. Third, you must submit a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 45 days after the trustee's sale. If you think you may qualify as an "eligible tenant buyer" or "eligible bidder," you should consider contacting an attorney or appropriate real estate professional immediately for advice regarding this potential right to purchase. child who suffered severe injuries. Investigation by emergency responders and law enforcement attributed the explosion to the illegal distribution and unsafe storage of dangerous explosives.

Following a joint investigation led by the Del Norte County Sheriff’s Office and state fire authorities, Levi Howand-Wayne Mills, 33, and Megan Rae Warner, 32, were identified as responsible parties. Arrested on July 11, 2024, both were charged initially with an array of felonies, reflecting the seriousness of the incident and associated risks to public safety.

Both Mills and Warner were originally booked on the following felony counts:

- Possession and sale of illegal explosives
- Selling or distributing dangerous fireworks
- Willful cruelty to a child
- Selling and using unclassified fireworks

- Possession of fireworks without a permit
- Discharging fireworks likely to cause injury
- Obstructing or resisting a public officer (amended in subsequent proceedings)

Mills posted a $50,000 bond on July 15, 2024. Warner’s release was delayed due to unrelated warrants despite the same bail amount.

Mills entered guilty pleas to multiple felony charges on May 22, 2025, thereby accepting responsibility for his role in the illegal storage and sale of explosives that led to the mass-casualty event. He remains out on bond pending sentencing, which is scheduled for July 28 before Honorable Judge Darren McElfresh. Mills faces a possible prison sentence reflecting the gravity of the incident and the extent of injuries sustained by the victims.

Warner’s case was resolved through a plea agreement approved by Honorable Judge Karen Olson on June 27. Under the negotiated deal, Warner entered a no contest plea to a single misdemeanor count of possession of a destructive device. As a condition of the agreement she will serve one year probation, five days in county jail, and be fined $70.

This agreement resulted in the dismissal of all original felony charges and special allegations against Warner.

The Del Norte County District Attorney’s Office and local law enforcement have emphasized the risks posed by illegal fireworks, using this case to highlight the need for robust regulation and community education regarding banned explosives. The South Beach explosion not only led to substantial injuries and legal repercussions but also prompted increased demands from community members for stricter fireworks enforcement, particularly during public holiday events.

OBITUARY

Clyde Eller

September 6, 1935 – July 8, 2025

Clyde Eller, the “Mayor of Fort Dick,” passed away peacefully the morning of July 8, 2025, at his home in Sacramento CA after a long and courageous battle with Alzheimer’s disease.

Clyde was born on September 6, 1935, in Eureka, CA and spent his childhood years in Fieldbrook, CA where he met his lifelong love, Dawn Anker. Clyde and Dawn grew up together in Fieldbrook and spent their lives together. This September would have marked their 70th wedding anniversary.

Clyde attended elementary school in Fieldbrook in a one-room schoolhouse with the same teacher for all eight years. He said when the school acquired too many students, a wall was built down the middle of the room making it a two-room schoolhouse: just with less room to move. Clyde continued his education at Arcata High school where he excelled in basketball and track and field. Some of his track records remained unbroken a full 30 or more years after his graduation and could be seen recorded on the Arcata High school gymnasium walls.

In 1953, Clyde joined the United States Army and performed duties as an Air Defense Artillery technician.

Seeking ways to further his career, Clyde transitioned to military intelligence where he enjoyed tours in Taiwan, South Korea and Germany as well as several state side postings. While stationed in Tiawan, Clyde served on the Special Advisory Group to Generalissimo Chaing Kai-shek, the leader of the Nationalist government in free China. He received a personal award from the General for his efforts. In Helsinki, Finland while on Foreign Embassy Duty, Clyde covered the Strategic Arms and Limitation Talks (SALT); Clyde also served Special Security duty in Germany, where he was the personal intelligence briefer to General George S. Patton IV during the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia.

Midway through his military career, Clyde earned his Bachelor of Science degrees in business and psychology from Campbell College in Fayetteville, NC. He furthered his education at Northern Colorado University earning a Master of Science in Psychology. He also completed postgraduate work at the University of Arizona in Public Administration.

Toward the end of his military service, Clyde took advantage of his education and transitioned to the Army Medical Corps serving as a psychologist and practiced in the Army’s Mental Health efforts. He was the only enlisted member in the Army at that time with the education and credentials to serve as a clinical psychologist on active duty. He retired from the Army in 1975 and continued his psychology and counseling practice for the state of Arizona until 1979 as the state Child Abuse Prevention Coordinator, the first of its kind for the state of Arizona. In 1981, Clyde decided it was time to leave his private counseling practice when he and Dawn purchased the Fort Dick Market from his older brother Bud and moved the family “home” to Northern California. Clyde and Dawn entered the grocery business unaware but unafraid. For nearly 40 years, they operated a successful local grocery store, Eller’s Fort Dick Market by placing strong emphasis on the needs of the community. Clyde continued counseling and giving sage advice from behind the counter to those who would listen.

Having come from humble beginnings, Clyde extended his hand and heart to those who needed him. Even when he was taken advantage of at times, he would smile and know it helped someone who needed it more than he did. You will never know a more honest man who tried more to help his community.

Clyde’s community postings and accomplishments include serving two terms as the Del Norte County Supervisor for District Four, he served on the Del North County Grand Jury, the Del North County Planning Commission and on the Fort Dick Fire Protection District Board of Directors. Clyde loved politics but always approached it from the lens of making things better. A needlepoint plaque given to him by members of his district hung on the wall of his County Supervisor office and quoted Abraham Lincoln, “Government of the people, by the people and for the people.”

Clyde is survived by his wife of nearly 70 years, Dawn Eller, Daughter Lenneé Eller, Son Gary “Mac” Eller and his wife Donna, Kenny Eller and his wife Rose. He had five grandchildren and nine great grandchildren. He was preceded in death by his parents, George and Lessie Eller of Fieldbrook and his siblings Claria Wagle, GC “Bud” Eller, Ralph Eller, and Donald Eller.

The dash between two dates on a headstone (birth-death) is not the sum representation of a person’s life. In Clyde’s case, that dash contains a life full of many joys: service to others, determination, focus, love for his family, caring and nurturing others; making that “dash” as full as it could be.

For those in the Humboldt and Del Norte County communities, Clyde would much prefer you to celebrate his memory with a glass of wine and great stories shared by family and friends. His most voiced words of wisdom ring truer now than ever, “Nothing is ever good or bad, only thinking makes it so.”

To our Husband, Dad, Grandfather and Great Grandfather, we do not say goodbye, for he lives in our hearts and minds. Our family carries his legacy of wit and wisdom. We consider ourselves the fortunate ones as we were blessed enough to have been loved by such a magnificent soul. His children could not have wished for a more loving and caring dad.

In lieu of flowers, donations can be made to the Fort Dick Fire Department and the National Alzheimer’s Foundation.

Poet Jodie Hollander

Brings Forest-Focused Workshops to Del Norte

Acclaimed Poet to Lead “Poetry in the Parks” Series in Redwood National and State Parks

E. SCHWARZ
For Country Media, Inc.

This August, internationally recognized poet Jodie Hollander will bring her celebrated “Poetry in the Parks” workshop series to Del Norte County, California, in partnership with the Redwood Parks Conservancy. The three-part series will be set amid the ancient redwoods and encourage participants to explore Hollander’s concept of the intersection of poetry and place where she draws inspiration from the towering forests and wild landscapes of our region.

Hollander, originally from Milwaukee, Wisconsin, is known for her lyrical, emotionally resonant poetry, intensely influenced by her upbringing in a family of classical musicians. Her debut collection, My Dark Horses, and her second book, Nocturne—listed for the Laurel Prize in nature writing—have established her as a major voice in contemporary poetry. Her work has appeared in leading journals such as The Poetry Review, The Yale Review, and The Harvard Review, and she has received prestigious fellowships, including a Fulbright and a MacDowell Colony Fellowship.

A defining feature of Hollander’s recent work is her focus on the natural world, particularly forests. In interviews, she has described nature as a space for healing and refuge, especially in the aftermath of personal trauma. Her poems often use the landscape—storms, trees, and the quiet of wild places—as metaphors for emotional journeys. This forest focus is central to her upcoming workshops in Del Norte, where participants will be encouraged to “translate their most powerful impressions of the natural world into a polished, musical poem”.

The “Poetry in the Parks” workshop series will take place at the Prairie Creek Visitor Center along the Newton B. Drury Scenic Parkway, deep within the redwoods. The first session, titled “Nature Poetry,” will guide attendees in crafting poetry inspired by the forest’s sights, sounds, and atmosphere. The workshops are open to all, regardless of experience, and are designed to foster a deeper connection to the land through creative expression.

The Redwood Parks Conservancy, which organizes the event, emphasizes the importance of fostering “understanding, enjoyment, and stewardship” of public lands. Hollander’s workshops align closely with this mission, offering a unique opportunity for both locals and visitors to engage with the landscape in a new and meaningful way.

While Hollander’s poetry has long explored themes of nature and refuge, this marks her most significant engagement with Del Norte County and its iconic forests. The collaboration with Redwood Parks Conservancy and the National and State Parks is a natural extension of her “Poetry in the Parks” initiative, which she has led in other national parks across the United States. Her arrival in Del Norte is anticipated to deepen her connection to the region and inspire new work rooted in the redwoods.

Jodie Hollander’s presence in Del Norte this August is more than a series of workshops; it is an invitation to experience the forest through the lens of poetry. By merging her personal history, artistic accomplishments, and passion for the natural world, Hollander hopes to inspire others to find solace and meaning among the trees.
