

Chaos Ensues at Harbor Meeting

BY ROGER GITLIN
Country Media, Inc.

Havoc prevailed at the last Crescent City Harbor Meeting, interrupting the conducting of business.

A single individual who shall remain anonymous has a long history of defying rules of behavior in shouting out from the audience seat and when addressing commissioners, levies comments which allege corruption, lying, slanderous statements, pejorative language, exclaiming, "... the Harbor is going bankrupt and you're all going to jail," demonstrating anti-social, disruptive behavior.

Though warned to cease this disruptive, petulant behavior by the Commission's Chairman, Gerhard Weber, the aberrant behavior has ensued over several months if not years. The attacks on newly-appointed Harbormaster Mike Rademacker, calling for his dismissal are non-stop and cross over acceptable inter-facing with the Harbormaster and the five commissioners. In a past meeting the individual, during

The California Behavioral Health Continuum Infrastructure Program (BHCIP) announced the Yurok Tribe was selected to receive a $26.4 million grant to build the urgently needed Yurok Tribal Health and Wellness Center. The Tribe originally received an initial grant of $15 million which allowed the project to begin the infrastructure project.

Yurok Chairman Joseph L. James praised the grant. "The Yurok Health and Wellness Center will significantly strengthen tribal and non-tribal communities in our rural region. More importantly, it will lives."

Gov. Gavin Newsom and

State Department of Health and Human Services staff announced the distribution of $3.3 billion for 124 behavioral health-related projects which included the Yurok Tribal Health and Wellness Center. The funding will increase access to mental healthcare. The funds will create 5,000 in-patient beds and 21,800 out-patient slots.

The long-planned Yurok Health and Wellness Center comprises a 24,000 sq.ft building with 53 beds, including 23 for men and 20 for women.

Services offered include primary care, behavioral health services to Yurok Tribal members and the surrounding community. Services will range from infants to elderly.

On the West Coast, the national opioid epidemic started in Humboldt and Del Norte Counties, ranked 1 and 4, respectively in per capita, in drug-involved overdose deaths.

In March, 2024 voters approved Proposition 1, an initiative aimed at transforming the State's behavioral health system.

Opinion & Letters

GUEST COMMENTARY - Opinion by Samuel Strait

Harbormaster Mike Rademaker is in Charge: Now What?

Likely most who live in Crescent City could care less who runs the Crescent City Harbor and why should they? For starters, decades of poor Harbor Commission leadership and a successive list of dysfunctional Harbormasters have dug a financial hole, no new Commission or current Harbormaster can possibly climb back to financial security without a large infusion of cash.

The long list of harbor missteps in just the past few years have led to a scenario where the harbor is in a very tight window to remain financially viable without a serious turnabout with its revenue stream. The current commission has elected to promote interim harbormaster Mike Rademaker to the position of Harbormaster. As such, the task of righting the Harbor's ship must commence immediately.

The harbor's financial health is dependent on a rapid infusion of revenue. No amount of "trimming the fat" will vanquish the incompetence of past commissions and harbormasters, who saw to the elimination of revenue from both harbor RV parks, and the lack of harbor dredging which led to Fashion Blacksmith's closure and a multimillion-dollar judgement against the harbor. Currently the revenue source from the commercial fishing fleet is struggling due to onerous regulation, gear restrictions and seasonal closures.

This portrait of the hill the harbor must climb needs an all hands-on deck approach which does not allow for the current circuses which occupy the commission's meetings. It should be clear to anyone with a pulse recriminations and finger pointing will not save the day. While the commission's choice to promote from within was not the best of decisions, it is done, and time to move forward quickly, yet with a certain amount of prudence.

The harbor must balance their approach with an eye towards supporting the revenue stream from our commercial fishing fleet as well as searching out ways to resurrect a boat repair facility, fish processing, and commercial fishing support facilities. It must also make the harbor into a welcoming site for new business opportunities as well as resuscitating both former RV parks. While a commercial salmon season appears to be off the table, efforts should be made to promote recreational fishing from the harbor as a way of offsetting some of the loss of revenue from the commercial closure.

Efforts to attract large scale projects and its associated revenue must come at the end of extreme caution. Commissioners and the harbormaster should keep in mind bad actors in the mold of Alex Lemus who spun fantasies about harbor development without the money to turn ideas into reality are out there.

Most who have much to lose if the harbor were to fail financially are naturally going to be resistant to change going forward due to the harbor's recent track record, and rightly so. With time being short for at least some signs of a harbor turnaround, and there are a few, patience and support should be the direction for those the health of the harbor is critical to their personal futures.

The most recent version of the Harbor Commission meeting was not one of constructive solutions, but the outcry of petulant children, who do not appear to have any notion of what needs to be done to rescue the harbor. For better or worse Mike Rademaker is Crescent City Harbor District's harbormaster going forward. For the rest of those who find arguing about who should be the new harbormaster, I did not see any person in that room offering to take the job.

I see very little room for a successful resolution to the current harbor's state of affairs, but I will give credit to anybody who is willing to try to fix things. No one can predict the future with any certainty and Rademaker may not be the solution going forward. We, the citizens of Del Norte County, can do the easy thing and continue to quarrel over who should be the harbormaster while nothing gets done. Rademaker has been made harbormaster. Until he succeeds or fails and is fired, the local community should support any and all evidence of success going forward.

I repeat, Mike Rademaker is the Crescent City Harbormaster. So, buckle up. Now where do we go from here?

~~~ CORRECTION ~~~

In the April 30 Triuplicate in a report about a Crescent City visit by Assemblymember Chris Rogers, the Triuplicate erroneously reported that no Democrat had won a Del Norte County election in 30 years. The statement was incorrect. Congressman Mike Thompson prevailed in Del Norte County in 2008, 17 years ago. The Triuplicate apologies for this error.

GUEST COMMENTARY - Another View by Kevin Hendrick

Setting Sam Strait

Sometimes I think that the Triuplicate is trying to goad me into writing my column again by printing an editorial by Sam Strait every week. Sam's column on May 14 was more overt. I disagree with almost everything that Sam says, but until now I have declined to respond.

I laughed when I read that Sam assumed when he started writing for the Triuplicate, that the opinion page would take on "the form of polite discourse." This is not how I would describe his approach. While others may agree with his opinions, once a person resorts to insults and name calling, they have lost the debate.

I have learned not to argue with a wall. There are conversations that will not result in an honest debate when one person is irrevocably committed to biased talking points and unsubstantiated conspiracies.

It has been 10 months since my last column. People have told me that they miss my writing, and some have canceled their subscription. They won't debate Sam, they will simply stop reading what he writes.

Sam said one thing that I agree with, "The Triuplicate's importance as a purveyor of news has declined." One problem with a weekly newspaper is the delay. If there is a news story or if someone wants to respond to an article, it can be two weeks before it is published. At best this is a slow motion debate.

The only reason I'm responding to this peculiar editorial is that Sam attacked me personally. He queried whether "the Kevin Hendrick clones are unwilling to be exposed." WTF!

The last thing we need are Kevin Hendrick clones! However, this exemplifies a common lazy habit. Any time someone says that all Democrats are this or all Republicans are that, this exposes their simplistic attempt to understand the world that we live in. People are more complicated than that.

I can tell you that the diversity of opinions from Democrats on any given subject is almost unlimited. All Democrats are not the same and it is erroneous to assume that we all agree on every issue.

This is something that I remind myself when I am speaking with or about Republicans. Even if I disagree with a Republican on a particular topic, it is important to provide space for that person to change. If I allowed myself to hate all Republicans, that would be counterproductive.

I have found in Del County that it is possible to find common ground and occasional agreement with my Republican neighbors. I've always been open to working across the aisle to achieve a common good.

Lately I have met a number of former Republicans that have re-registered to be Democrats because they are disillusioned with the Republican Party. This reinforces my belief that if I am respectful, compassionate, and patient with people who disagree with me, they may eventually come around.

I still think that there is a need for a local community newspaper, and Sam is correct that the opinion page would be more interesting if there is more diversity of opinions expressed. Anyone can do this.

But for now, this will have to be someone else. I've done my time.

Is PBSP on the Chopping Block?

BY ROGER GITLIN
Country Media, Inc

Governor Gavin Newsom must cut $12B from the May revision of the $321.9B 2025-26 California State budget... and on the Newsom ax is the closing of yet another California Department of Corrections and Rehabilitation prison... the closing, effective October 2025-26 will be the fifth since

Gov. Newsom sharpened his ax.

Will Pelican Bay State Prison be the next one to go? Unknown but unlikely, if one would conjecture its future.

The costs to operate PBSP are actually lower than many of the 30+ institutions up and down the Golden State. Its remoteness in the far north of California is advantageous in separating the inmates.

Proposition 36 is expected to increase inmate population. During the 24-25 budget crunch. The Governor closed 46 housing units within 13 prisons.

Inmate population peaked in 2006, when California locked up 165,000. With a bevy of programs, the effects of Covid 19, federal court intervention, California's prisons house about 65,000 inmates, today

The closed prisons include Deuel Vocational in Tracy, California Correctional Center in Susanville, Privately-held California City Correctional Facility and Chuckwalla Valley State Prison near Blythe. The City of Blythe hired a Public Relations firm and has brought a federal lawsuit against CDCR to stop the closure.

the meeting, threw an object at the Harbormaster.

Here are some examples of this individual’s outbursts at the most recent meeting:

- Yelling out from the audience to close agenda item Public Comments in micro managing the Chairman.
- Yelling out, “That’s a lie.” “ Oh, My God.”
- While on the dais, asked the Harbormaster about his education background, a non- sequitur on the Agenda subject being discussed.

In past meetings, the subject individual has cast slanderous comments about a Harbor employee’s difficulty in establishing relationships and a further allegation of a grant writer operating in a corrupt manner, while providing no supportive evidence for either allegation.

Former Del Norte 4th District Supervisor Gerry Hemmingsen also spoke at the dais. Hemmingsen complained he was being surcharged an electrical energy fee with no explanation. The Harbor office clerical staff responded, “ Gerry Hemmingsen was assessed a one-time surcharge of $30 after buying the Pollux (vessel) back in January. Mr. Hemmingsen called and placed his electric bill on autopay and the harbor removed the fee and has not been charged a surcharge fee since.”

Hemmingsen also expressed his disappointment with the decision to hire

Rademaker who complained he (the harbormaster) was not aware of the many problems associated with previous poor management. Hemmingsen called for his dismissal. Said comments followed the actual appointment.

In defense, Rademaker shared with the public his accomplishments since he was hired as Interim harbormaster and now as the permanent harbormaster. “ I’m very proud of my record as Interim and now permanent harbormaster” and cited some of his accomplishments:

- Extreme cost control (reduced executive positions from three to one, saving over $300,000 per year).
- Renegotiated contracts (30 percent savings on IT services, 25 percent less on legal fees (new law firm contacted and is local.

- Eliminated landscaping contract.
- Recruited Ocean Gold to re-open the ice plant and bring shrimp across the docks to increase revenue.
- Recruited a new hagfish and crab buyer (Dandy Fish Company, based on Bodega Bay).
- Renewed focus on revitalizing the two RV parks (new partnership with the Elks Lodge, remodeled the laundry facility, improved electrical and water service in the park and also implemented a new online reservation system with online marketing.
- Established new partnership (now have a full-time Del Norte Deputy Sheriff at the harbor, now providing office space for the Sheriff and Dept. of Fish and Wildlife officers at Whaler Island).

- Secured and $8M U.S. Maritime grant that was in jeopardy of , having only a one percent change of survival.

Harbormaster Rademaker retorted, “some of the fishermen spoke negatively because the Harbor has brought in new competition, like Dandy Fish Company. I make decisions on what’s best for the Harbor and the public.

These accomplishments were initiated and moving toward completion within six months.

In other business. The Harbor announced the appointment of Ryan Plotz as the new General Counsel. Plotz is partner of the Mitchell Law Firm, LLP, out of Eureka. Mitchell Law has extensive marine and Harbor experience.

Plotz, esq and Mitchell replaces prior legal counsel Best, Best and Krieger, from Sacramento. The legal rates established for fees was fully 25 percent less expensive that BBK. The Strategic shift reflects the District’s on going focus On fiscal stewardship.

The Harbor meets the second and fourth Wednesdays, each month. The next Harbor meeting is May 28 at 2pm, 101 Citizens Dock Rd, at the Harbor.

Mental Health Impacts ALL OF US

BY ROGER GITLIN
Country Media, Inc

The Board of Supervisors recognized May as Mental Health Awareness month and a group of mentally ill individuals who appeared en mass at the May 13 Board meeting.

Many carried signs declaring NO STIGMA associated with those afflicted with mental illness. The Dept. of Health and Human Service told supervisors that one in eight people live with a mental health disorder, according to the World Health Organization. Further, 8.4 million across the United States report taking care of a love one who suffers with a mental illness or emotional health issues resulting in an average of 32 hours a week for caregivers.

Del Norte served 1530 individuals last year in Behavioral Health, 336 being children, noting that 50 percent of all lifetime mental illness begins at age 14.

The suicide rate is the second leading cause of death among 15-29 year old. Drug use and mental illness go hand in hand.

The Board commended DHHS Behavioral Branch and community partners for its stellar effort in helping those with mental illness.

Del Norte Ambulance

Courtesy photo
Del Norte Ambulance staff was honored by the Board of Supervisors, earlier this month

BY ROGER GITLIN
Country Media, Inc

The theme for 2025 National Emergency Medical Services Week, May 18-24 was “We Care for Everyone.”

The Del Norte County

Board of Supervisors recognized and honored Del Norte Ambulance for its 40 plus years of “Caring for Everyone” at a recent Board meeting. The Crescent Fire Department has lobbied a slim majority of supervisors to re-evaluate DNAMB’s Agreement by hiring a consultant to shop the market for alternative emergency services. The incongruity of supervisors seeking to replace the service with another provider has yet to be articulated in making the case to supplant this provider of emergency 9-1-1 service.

End Point Consultants has been contracted to conduct a complete evaluation of emergency medical services in Del Norte. To date, $97,000 from the Department of Health and Human Services Emergency Fund, without a declaration of the nature of the emergency. The cost to conduct the EndPoint evaluation is anticipated to exceed $150,000 over the next three years. In a letter signed by City Fire Chief Kevin Carey, and co-signed by the other four area chiefs, the group has displayed opposition to the granting of an Exclusive Operating Agreement (EOA) in 2028. Allegations of opposition to the EOA have not been articulated or substantiated.
