GRAND Addiction Recovery Center

The Face of Addiction Recovery

GRAND Addiction Recovery Center

12&12 Addiction Recovery Center has formally merged with Grand Lake Mental Health Center Inc. to form GRAND Addiction Recovery Center. “Our collective 80-plus years of expertise in mental health and addiction treatment creates a unified force like no other,” CEO Larry Smith says. “At GRAND Addiction Recovery Center, our single focus is to deliver an entirely new model of care that centers on two critical bedrocks: easier access to treatment and better long-term health outcomes.”

As the largest Comprehensive Community Addiction Recovery Center in Oklahoma, GRAND Addiction Recovery Center’s complete continuum of care provides multiple levels of treatment in the most suitable — and least restrictive — environments possible. This includes medically supervised detoxification, intensive residential treatment, expanded outpatient services featuring state-of-the-art technologies that afford instant access to licensed mental health professionals to aid in relapse-prevention, transitional living, sober living for homeless veterans in recovery and, coming soon, 24/7 triage care.

GRAND Addiction Recovery Center is certified by the Oklahoma Department of Mental Health and Substance Abuse Services and holds Behavioral Health Care accreditation from the Joint Commission. When you’re ready to get real, get real recovery at GRAND Addiction Recovery Center.

The Face of IT Services

JMARK

For over 30 years, JMARK has provided award-winning information technology and cybersecurity solutions to help organizations increase the velocity of their success. With all that experience comes extensive expertise. JMARK's strategic services help businesses leverage technology to be more secure, productive and profitable. "We understand the challenges that modern businesses face and help them maintain continuity and efficiency, even amid the continual changes occurring in technology needs and expectations," Principal Owner and CEO Thomas H. Douglas says. "Our mission is to ensure that every organization has the right technology to support its vision and goals."

JMARK offers comprehensive IT services designed to enhance operations and increase business success. "We have teams dedicated to specific verticals, which means that they know the software, needs and technology trends of those industries and that their teams can cross-collaborate to share expertise and experience gleaned from one industry to create innovative solutions for another," President Chris Huels says. JMARK also has functional teams who focus on particular IT functions, such as cybersecurity, network management, servers, backup, disaster recovery and continuity, help desk, cloud solutions, telecommunications, business intelligence and more. This allows those teams to stay aware of the latest developments in those areas and conduct research and development to continually refine JMARK's offerings to create better value for its clients.

"We take a proactive approach to IT, with a focus on being a complete business support partner to our clients," Chief Growth Officer Andy Whaley says. "Of course, we solve technology problems as they occur, but we also work closely with our clients to learn their business — their workflows, impediments, processes, as well as their short-term and long-term goals — so we can help them leverage their technology for improvements, innovation and growth."

JMARK puts people before technology. "Everything we do, and every service we offer, is a reflection of our 'People First, Technology Second' philosophy," Douglas says. This people-first approach to technology strategy empowers individuals and teams to be more dynamic, innovative, connected and efficient. "We love technology," Huels says, "but we also understand IT is a tool that is most valuable when it helps people achieve their potential by doing their best work. That work facilitates business growth, increases opportunities, changes lives and accelerates success."

The Face of Tree Service We B Trees

For 27 years, Tulsans have trusted the expert service of We B Trees for their professional tree care.

"We are a full-service tree company for Tulsa's urban forest of established trees," says Tim Nall, an ISA-certified arborist who owns and operates the business with wife Barbara. "We always do what is best for the tree and fits the homeowners' desires for the tree."

We B Trees offers fertilization, insect control, pruning, removal, stump grinding and more to the greater Tulsa area. The company's subdivision, B Haulin', provides a roll-off container and dumpster service.

We B Trees began with Tim, one crew member and one truck. Today it's a thriving family-operated business. "We have seen many changes and had many people to help build us into the company we are," Barbara says. "Trust and honesty are at the roots of our existence and always will be."

The company is fully insured and qualified to do any type of tree work. "Over the decades, we have seen fluctuations in the economy," Barbara says, "and we encourage all customers, especially today, to ensure their tree service provider is fully insured and qualified to tackle the job." The We B Trees crew holds decades of knowledge and experience to provide unmatched quality regardless of the size or complexity, from pruning to tree removal.

"We have a passion for trees and a passion for Tulsa," Tim says. "It has been our family's greatest honor to provide quality tree care to the region for more than a quarter of a century. We plan to continue caring for Tulsa's urban landscape for many years to come."

+ImageNet Consulting

The Face of Audio-Visual Technology ImageNet Consulting

ImageNet Consulting has been at the forefront of every technological step in the modern workplace since our start in 1956 servicing typewriters out of a home garage. The Audio-Visual Division continues this tradition by providing innovative and creative solutions in a post-pandemic business environment.

ImageNet's Audio-Visual Division has the expertise to implement effective technology into an office, classroom, or conference room. From our in-house cloud-based digital signage platform—Wallboard—to a large indoor and outdoor LED video wall solutions and simplified conferencing solutions, ImageNet's consultative approach allows businesses of all sizes and verticals to successfully execute their technology goals to increase the business's bottomline in the new era of business strategies and increasingly hybrid work environments.

"Our Audio-Visual team loves consulting with each individual client to help assist in planning, budgeting, dreaming, designing, installing, and maintaining professionally-designed and engaging technology solutions. With our agnostic approach and long list of manufacturer relationships, each project is fully driven by the client's unique use cases, budgets, and needs," says Kyle Kempf, the director of ImageNet's Audio-Visual offering.

"We provide our clients with cutting-edge technology and expert service that empowers their business to reach new heights," says Andrew Newell, Tulsa sales manager. "A holistic solution that solves every business challenge is nearly impossible to imagine, but we've come close."

"Whether you need to wow your audience or engage your employees, our Audio-Visual solutions are custom fit to your style, needs and budget," says Alan Webb, Oklahoma Market president. "Our engineers, technicians and consultants want to become your trusted business partner and help transform your organization."

Bill Christiansen with sons

The Face of Aviation

Christiansen Aviation

Christiansen Aviation of Tulsa is one of the great business success stories in the general aviation industry. Founded in 1972 by Bill Christiansen in a small, rented building on the grounds of Jones Riverside Airport, the company is now a diversified enterprise offering flight training, aircraft rental, aircraft leasing, and maintenance.

"Renting that small building at Jones Riverside back in May of 1972 was one of the great decisions I've made in my life," said Christiansen. "It was easy to see Tulsa was an aviation community...with Spartan Aeronautics, American Airlines, Flight Safety and now NORDAM based here".

Today, in year 50 of the company, Christiansen Aviation is a diversified, full-service fixed base operator (FBO) offering a flight school and Cessna Aircraft sales, rental and leasing, and maintenance services at its footprint at Jones Riverside Airport in Jenks that includes a 60,000 square foot hangar and 16,000 square foot office building. Jones Riverside is now one of the most active airports in the United States.

The founder remembers business was good in the early years for the company, but things truly "took off for us in 1974 when we affiliated with Cessna Aircraft Company of Wichita".

"The most important thing Cessna had going was the company produced small single-engine planes and also manufactured multi-engine corporate aircraft," Christiansen noted. "Cessna covered the whole gamut of general aviation airplanes. When I became a dealer for them in 1974, it was my first real hope that our company would be a long-term business." The aircraft sales and leasing business, started in 1985, has been good for Christiansen Aviation and the company is now one of the largest single-engine Cessna owners in the country with clients that include universities and proprietary flight schools nationwide. "We own every aircraft in our fleet which enables us to offer some of the lowest prices in the country,"

Christiansen says. The company currently owns over 300 aircraft that are leased, and has sold planes worldwide from Kenya to Australia.

Bill Christiansen's interest in aviation was created by learning to fly while a high school student in his native New Jersey. "I loved it and wanted to become an airline pilot," he recalls, "but my mother insisted that I needed to go to college. So, I selected the University of Oklahoma because OU had a flight school." He and wife Veretta met at OU and are proud graduates. After college graduation and service in the U.S. Marine Corps, Christiansen selected Tulsa as the place he wanted to live and work. "In addition to Tulsa having that great aviation heritage, our city has a low cost of living, a great quality of life, and great people," he said. "It was an easy decision to come here. And I very much appreciate OU to this day for attracting me to the university which ultimately enabled me to plant-my-flag in Oklahoma".

Christiansen is a proud supporter of Tulsa's Air & Space Museum and served as its board chair for two years. "The museum is a great place to learn about Tulsa's interesting history in aviation," he emphasizes.

Today, Bill Christiansen is joined in the business by his two sons, Bryan and Ken Christiansen, who manage the fixed-base operation, fuel services and hangar facilities. "I could not have grown the business without the help of my two sons," he emphasizes, "they have been a key to increasing our business over the years." Bryan is a graduate of OSU while Ken is an OU grad. "And, Veretta is our family's hero because she taught kindergarten for 24 years in Union and Jenks schools before her retirement."

The Face of Commercial Real Estate

McGraw Commercial Properties

McGraw Commercial Properties, was founded in 2008 and focuses on specializing in each of the main areas of commercial real estate including: office, retail & restaurant, industrial, land and multi-family.

MCP's Brokerage & Property Management divisions work together to deliver comprehensive commercial real estate solutions, leverage of a large vendor database and several other benefits for the buyer, seller, tenant and landlord.

"This multi-tier approach allows us to form successful long-term relationships with our clients rather than one-off transactions," Neil Dailey of McGraw Commercial Properties says. "Our longevity, reputation and experience make McGraw Commercial Properties a prominent commercial real estate brokerage and property management choice for a wide variety of clients. We currently help top Fortune 500 clients, co-broker transactions with other national firms to provide specialist-level knowledge of our region to assist their clients, as well as help the individual investor or business owner to profitably expand their portfolio."

McGraw Commercial Properties' Multi-Family Sales Division has experienced exponential growth since the 2019 merger with Winfield Property Management.

The merger provided the Multi-Family Sales Division the ability to offer investors a reliable means of rent collection, accounting and asset protection after the acquisition.

McGraw Commercial Properties, based in Tulsa, has enjoyed success putting commercial customers together across Oklahoma for years. Now, we look forward to doing the same thing as our company has grown to Arkansas, Colorado and Texas.

First Oklahoma Bank

Leaders of First Oklahoma Bank are laser focused when it comes to serving customers and understanding their financial needs.

They know that building strong banking relationships requires active listening, treating people with respect, fairness, and expediency. During the COVID-19 lockdowns, First Oklahoma bankers worked around-the-clock to help hundreds of small businesses survive the pandemic by providing loans through the government's Paycheck Protection Program.

Today, they continue to work tirelessly to help customers pursue financial dreams of buying a new home, expanding or starting a business, and building their wealth and savings.

Rest assured, whenever you call First Oklahoma, you will be greeted by a person (not a pre-recorded message) who can answer your question or direct you to the right banker. First Oklahoma bankers know the heartbeat of the community, understand its economy and make all decisions locally. Deposits made with First Oklahoma Bank stay within the community and help it grow.

Established on Nov. 4, 2009, with the vision of creating a "better bank," First Oklahoma yearly has surpassed benchmarks to become the fastest-growing new bank in assets.

We invite you to "Move Up to Better Banking" and discover what so many others already have experienced.

The Face of Family Law

Bundy Law Office

For over 15 years, Bundy Law Office has focused on family law while always emphasizing customer service and the client experience.

The family law firm offers an easy-to-use intake process powered by artificial intelligence, text notification updates for clients, automatic document generation and free guest wifi — services offered by professionals in other fields but overlooked by many law firms.

“We offer a great deal of information, so our clients understand the process and timeline for their situation,” founder Aaron Bundy says. “We show them we are giving them our all in our office, during negotiations and if needed in the courtroom.”

The firm’s work is primarily in family law, with a special criminal defense practice in Oklahoma’s tribal courts. Aaron Bundy is ranked in the leading directories of professionals in the Private Wealth space, including the 2022 Chambers Family/Matrimonial: High Net Worth and the Spear’s 500 Family Lawyers Index, which showcases the top providers of legal services to High Net Worth individuals.

While keeping busy on client matters, the firm’s attorneys continue their growth and help others.

“We are dedicated to our craft and our own professional development, and we give back to the legal community by mentoring and teaching other attorneys,” says Bundy, who currently serves as the president of the Oklahoma Chapter of the American Academy of Matrimonial Lawyers.

M&M's Sean Stevens and Whitney McKellar-Stevens with Jim McKellar

The Face of Lumber M&M Lumber

M&M Lumber in Tulsa has been a leading provider of quality wood products for the residential and commercial construction industries since 1964 when the company was established by Jim McKellar, Sr. and partner Ernest Miller. At the time, there were 42 other lumber yards in Tulsa.

McKellar, Sr., a Seabee in the U.S. Navy, had gained experience running a lumber mill while serving in Guadalcanal. After discharge, he returned to Oklahoma and worked at several lumber yards.

Today M&M Lumber is located on 9 acres at the corner of 47th Street and Mingo Road and is locally owned by the McKellar family. It is a full-service retail lumber yard focusing their inventory towards the need of the contractor, as well as the homeowner.

The company proudly offers a broad selection of products including Western Red Cedar, Treated Yellow Pine, Douglas Fir, wood siding, insulation, windows, doors, hardware, and a full line of nails for your pneumatic tools. High quality Western Red Cedar products manufactured by Western Forest Products (WFP) is one of their specialties, by offering cedar dimensional boards as well as Free of Heart Center cedar timbers.

By having a complete door shop, M&M can take care of your specific door, moulding, millwork, and special-order needs. They also have specialty items such as marine plywood, fire treated lumber and plywood, poplar, red oak, maple and alder boards. Hours of operation are Monday through Friday, 7 a.m. to 5 p.m., and Saturday, 7:30 a.m. to noon.

Arrowhead consultants act like “personal trainers” for organizations but instead of working on arms, legs and core, they provide solutions to strengthen a company’s people, processes and tools.

STEP 1: GET ON TRACK WITH AN ORGANIZATIONAL HEALTH ASSESSMENT (OHA)

Arrowhead Consulting eliminates the confusion and frustration stemming from not knowing where to start by providing a data-driven plan that focuses on the right improvement efforts.

STEP 2: TAKE YOUR RESULTS TO THE NEXT LEVEL Once the prescriptive plan is developed from the OHA, Arrowhead provides custom consulting solutions to achieve your strategic goals.

STEP 3: SCHEDULE AN APPOINTMENT Arrowhead offers a free 30 minute consultation to discuss the OHA, training options or other consulting needs that you might have.

The Face of Mortgage Lending Waterstone Mortgage

The local housing market today has become so competitive among active buyers, Waterstone Mortgage has developed a Platinum Credit Approval (PCA) program to enable its customers to confidently present a compelling offer to avoid losing “our perfect home” to another buyer.

The PCA involves a Waterstone Mortgage underwriter reviewing a customer’s credit, income and other documentation to determine the mortgage loan amount the customer is financially capable of repaying. The loan is then fully credit underwritten before the customer begins to make offers on homes. The process provides a competitive advantage because the only remaining items left to accomplish after loan approval are the appraisal and title work in advance of closing.

“Our mortgage loan customers like the Platinum Credit Approval process because it enables them to know how much house they can afford before starting the home search process,” said Kerrick Draper, branch manager for Waterstone Mortgage in Tulsa.

The PCA program also enables home buyers to shop with more confidence because it is nearly as strong as an all-cash offer.

“With a PCA from Waterstone Mortgage, a customer has the ability to lock-in an interest rate before shopping around for a home,” Draper noted, “and because the loan will be fully credit underwritten prior to your accepted offer, the entire loan process will proceed more quickly and the buyer can get into their new home sooner.”

To learn more details about the benefits of the Platinum Credit Approval program at Waterstone Mortgage, call 918-236-2951 or visit Waterstone-Tulsa.com.

The Face of Pet Boutiques Dog Dish

Question: You recently moved the store. Tell us what's new about Dog Dish!

"The pandemic made it clear to me that I needed to examine the business and—for the future—try to make it as stable as a retail store can be. So, we purchased property at 2803 South Harvard and converted a former gas station into our new store. We opened in January, 2022," said Emily Bollinger, owner.

"Our new store has a fenced backyard that is a dream come true for us... we've been utilizing it in various fun ways such as sharing it with pet rescue organizations, pet professionals, and pet parents. You can usually find pet adoptions taking place every Saturday, dog water play on the weekends, workshops with other businesses here and there, and we've also started renting out the yard for pet birthday parties—or any kind of pet get-together".

"The newest addition inside the store is a dog Frozen Yogurt machine enabling us to make fresh, limited ingredient fro-yo on Friday, Saturday and Sunday. We also offer it as an 'add-on' for our dog parties!"

"And speaking of Sunday, the store is now open 12-5 for Sunday Funday adventures with your dog. Tulsans can follow us on social media to get up-to-date info on what's happening at Dog Dish: Facebook and Instagram: @DogDishTulsa."

The Face of Residential Real Estate McGraw Realtors

Tulsa-based McGraw Realtors has been proudly serving the real estate needs of Northeast Oklahoma for over 84 years and has become one of the nation's top ten fastest-growing real estate companies.

"I am excited that I will see McGraw celebrate 100 years during my career," says Bill McCollough, company president. "It is truly rare to see any company succeed in business that long, especially one that stays true to its principles over the years." McGraw Realtors has twenty-one offices across Oklahoma, Arkansas, and Colorado, including seven in Northeastern Oklahoma.

"The company has always been an industry leader in terms of recruiting and retention, adaptation to technological advances, and providing our associates with the tools they need to give clients a stress-free and memorable real estate experience," McCollough added.

"I am honored to be associated with the finest real estate company in Oklahoma," says founder Joe McGraw. "The contributions of so many have made the business successful since our beginning in 1938. I am proud of our culture which inspires enthusiasm, innovation, devotion and a strong regard for the honor of all."

McGraw Realtors has been embedded in the Tulsa community for more than 84 years and the company's commitment to helping clients succeed in the Real Estate process continues to be the company's driving force into the future.

Tulsa Regional Tourism is a nonprofit organization designed to help elevate and market the region's businesses and entities, which help make Tulsa a leisure and business travel destination. It is an initiative of Tulsa Regional Chamber and works in an official capacity with the City of Tulsa, serves on the Route 66 Commission — and is heavily involved within the attraction, dining, film, hotelier, music, venue and volunteer communities.

It is comprised of four pillars: Visit Tulsa, which promotes leisure travel to/within Tulsa and the region and facilitates Tulsa's Visitor Center, which is the official visitor center in Tulsa. Tulsa Convention and Visitors Bureau, which proactively wins, secures and services meetings, conventions and other professional events for Tulsa and the region. Tulsa Sports Commission facilitates and operates Tulsa Run as well as amateur and professional sporting events for Tulsa and the region.

Promoting Tulsa as a music, film and creative destination through programs like Film Tulsa and Play Tulsa Music and serving as the official film commission through Tulsa Office of Film, Music, Arts and Culture.

Tulsa Regional Tourism is Tulsa's only official and Northeast Oklahoma's premier accredited destination marketing organization. Its involvement is beyond local, as its national and international involvement includes SportsETA Board of Directors, Destination International Committee Membership, American Bus Association Membership, Association of Film Commissioners International and more.

The Womble Co./ Pella Windows and Doors of Oklahoma

In celebration of their 100th anniversary this year, the Womble Co./Pella Windows and Doors of Oklahoma is donating $100,000 to local charities and nonprofits such as Revitalize T-Town, City Rescue Mission, Infant Crisis Center, Veterans Community Project, Cavett Kids, Positive Tomorrows, Susan G. Komen and Rebuilding Together.

"The idea is to create different opportunities to give to different charities that either mean something personally to us or personally to someone at our company," says Ainslee Crum, who co-owns the company with husband Andy. Serving its employees and the community has been the foundation of the company since 1922, when her great-grandfather, Murry R. Womble, an orphan, started the Womble Co. in Tulsa.

"What drove my grandfather, what drove my uncle and my dad — and what drives us — is basically the idea of service above self," Ainslee says. "The whole idea is not only service and serving our customers, but also serving our employees and their families."

The Womble Co. has more than 40 years of experience with Pella's full portfolio. With a dedicated service and installation department, sales consultants, as well as residential, commercial and architectural support teams, Womble can do it all.

This fall the company will move into a new state-of-the-art showroom to showcase the different Pella products it offers.

Barracuda Staffing & Consulting

Kevin Burr founded Barracuda Staffing & Consulting in 2009 amidst one of the biggest economic crises of our time. The resulting success was achieved because of his belief he could build a higher quality staffing and consulting agency to serve the Tulsa business community. Barracuda has grown to a full-service staffing and human resource consulting business serving clients and placing contractors nationwide.

The company trademarked “a Four-Dimensional Matching process that allows owners and managers to focus on team building and development instead of dealing with costly turnover.”

Burr says Barracuda Staffing & Consulting thrives in an environment that fosters team members to “push each other to raise the bar, seek out creative solutions, and strive to consistently improve our service delivery model. At Barracuda, our belief is: “good enough is never good enough,” and our company motto is: “Expect More. We do.”

Barracuda has been listed twice on the “Inc. 5000” list of America’s Fastest-Growing Privately-Held Companies,” and recognized on Inc. Magazine’s “Best Places To Work” list.

The company has supported the work of many local organizations over the past 13 years, including Soldiers Wish, Tulsa Christmas Parade, Tulsa Pop Kids, and Big Brothers Big Sisters of Oklahoma.

The Face of Sushi

Sushi Hana

Kenny and Shirli Chan moved here from New York with lots of fresh ideas. If you haven't been to Sushi Hana in Brookside — now is the time. They are part of the local scene, raising three girls and making it easy to support this local restaurant with great food and atmosphere. The patio is open and a full bar is available. Kenny and Shirli love helping diners find their new favorite roll. Everything is made fresh with a New York twist that Tulsa has come to love. Step out of your comfort zone and try something new. You'll be glad you did!

After a year-long restoration project, Jackie Potter opened event venue Station 13 in January 2020. The former fire station was built in 1933 and designed by prominent Tulsa architect Albert Joseph Love featuring art deco zigzag design. Potter and her husband, Chad, bought the building with many of its original firehouse features still intact. "There's no other fire station event venue in town," she says, "and we're located just a few minutes from downtown Tulsa." The property is on the National Register of Historic Places.

"With 2,200 square feet of intricately designed indoor event space and over 18,000 square feet of beautifully landscaped outdoor space, Station 13 is able to meet the needs of a sizeable wedding reception, as well as an intimate dinner party," Potter says.
