THE PROPOSAL: At the bride's father's house after getting permission from both her parents.

SEPT. 4, 2021

PHOTOGRAPHER: Bryan Bartlett, Bcreative Tulsa.

BRIDE'S HOMETOWN: Tulsa.

GROOM'S HOMETOWN: Salt Lake City.

LIVE IN: Tulsa.

COURTSHIP: As students the pair dated off and on, but it wasn't until sophomore year at the University of Tulsa that they rekindled for the long term. They dated for seven years, including a stint of long-distance dating.

WHAT SHE LOVES MOST ABOUT HIM: His relentless optimism and positivity.

WHAT HE LOVES MOST ABOUT HER: She's always striving to make the most out of life.

WEDDING DAY WEATHER: Hot and humid Labor Day weekend with a threat of summer showers.

ATTENDEES: 120.

FAVORITE DETAILS: Passionate about their Tulsa community, the couple did their best to hire only local vendors. They worked with a local designer to create a wedding monogram. Matthew isn't a big fan of sweets, so Premier Popcorn sent guests home with a salty snack in lieu of a groom's cake. In a nod to the venue, seed packets for native plants were used instead of table numbers. Caitlin and Matthew displayed wedding photos from their family members dating to the 1930s. The day was full of gorgeous blooms and swarms of monarch butterflies, and the threat of summer showers even left them with a rainbow over their ceremony.
