

More Americans now have mortgage rates above 6% than below 3%

More than half of all mortgages are still below 4% rates, though, so the mortgage lock-in effect isn't over.

