ISU students celebrate nationwide legalization of gay marriage

“ For me, it’s been crazy to see in the past decade. One by one, each state was given the right and then finally, on that special day, June 26, same-sex marriage was legalized in all 50 states. I woke up to texts from my family and friends. My dad texted me, ‘Go Supreme Court! We did it!’ I am finally given the right that I deserve.”

Jacob Weiner
Senior accounting major

“ I was crying happy tears when I first heard the news. It’s so wonderful. Our children are going to live in a world where it’s a totally normal thing to be able to love and marry who you want without any questions. And that is a beautiful thing.”

Cory Anderson
Senior health education major

“ I’m so happy my brother is finally allowed to get married. I just want him to be happy, so this is a huge deal for our family. I think it’s so important for everyone to have the same rights for both personal and financial reasons. I hope that [...] people will realize how ridiculous it is to judge somebody just because of their sexual preference.”

Katie Nielsen
Junior elementary education major
