Data Disclaimer

The LMPD (LMPD) produces a CompStat report on a weekly basis. This report represents preliminary information designed to allow commanders to direct officers in the field to respond quickly to emerging crime trends. The report is preliminary in nature. Offenses reported in the CompStat report may not have been investigated beyond the initial report at this stage of the reporting process. The review of the report by an investigating detective or officer may find additional or supplementary information that was not known or available at the time of the initial report. For instance, a citizen may have reported an item of property as stolen, only to discover later that it was misplaced in their home. Crimes may also be reported as one type of crime but determined upon investigation to be another type of crime. For instance, a citizen may have reported their vehicle as vandalized; however, they later discover that property was taken. The use of preliminary CompStat data allows commanders to plan responses in the most expedient manner possible.

Crimes are officially reported through stringent federal Uniform Crime Report (UCR) and National Incident Based Reporting System (NIRBS) guidelines. LMPD reports crimes to the Kentucky State Police (KSP). The data is then reported from the KSP to the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI). The use of the federal system allows for consistent crime reporting throughout the United States. A crime, such as burglary, in one state may be different than the crime in another state. The federal guidelines ensure the offense reported is the same across the jurisdictions.

When a report is taken, it goes through a multi-process of approval. The reports are reviewed by the officer taking the report, the officer's commanders, and the Data Integrity Unit. The Data Integrity Unit is a team of civilian employees who are experts in the federal guidelines and the LMPD records management system. The Data Integrity team holds LMPD strictly accountable for meeting the reporting guidelines. In addition to the checks and balances in the review process, reports are reviewed by investigating detectives, commanding officers, and crime analysts.

Data Disclaimer

LMPD is committed to transparency with the public we serve. LMPD publishes crime data for citizens to review in several ways. LMPD participates in the Police Data Initiative and publishes raw crime data to the public via Louisville's Open Data Portal. Citizens can access this data and more at:

<https://data.louisvilleky.gov/>

<https://www.policedatainitiative.org/>

LMPD also publishes crime data via our crime mapping platform where citizens can view crime in their own neighborhoods. This can be accessed the LMPD website or via:

<https://www.crimemapping.com/map/agency/211>

LMPD give the public additional views of data via our Transparency Page. This page allows the citizens to obtain reports of varying crime issues and trends that affect our community.
