Good afternoon Jaclyn. I understand the Governor's time is very limited, but I don't believe you can address this problem without seeing it first hand. Is the Governor planning any trips into Louisville over the next two months?

Thanks,
Mike

Mayor Moore,
Checking back in to see if a virtual option is an option. Governor Beshear has limited availability in the coming weeks but is open to a discussion. Are there any times on Monday, August 3 that would work for you?

Good evening Jaclyn. I appreciate you reaching out, and certainly respect the Governor's time, but I really think an in person meeting in the area directly impacted by any change that may be made, is warranted.

Thanks,
Mike

Mayor Moore,
Thank you for sending the attached letter. I will call Christy first thing tomorrow to schedule a time for a zoom meeting with Governor Beshear.

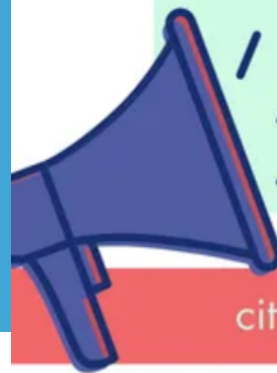

Thank you,

MAYOR MOORE REQUESTS RESPONSE FROM KYTC

Jeffersonville Continues to Seek Answers on Proposed Clark Memorial Bridge Lane Changes

Jeffersonville Indiana

FOLLOWING UP | The City of Jeffersonville continues to advocate for our community regarding proposed lane changes on the Clark Memorial Bridge.

In March, Mayor Mike Moore sent a letter to the Kentucky Transportation Cabinet (KYTC) expressing concerns about reducing southbound traffic to a single lane and offering alternative recommendations, including exploring toll reductions on other bridges and restricting large trucks from using the Clark Memorial Bridge.

As of today, the City has not received a response from KYTC. Mayor Moore has sent a follow-up letter reiterating that Jeffersonville's position has not changed and that the City strongly objects to reducing southbound traffic to one lane. The City has requested an update from KYTC regarding its position on Jeffersonville's recommendations.

We know many residents rely on the Clark Memorial Bridge every day, and we will continue advocating for solutions that prioritize safety and access for those traveling between Southern Indiana and Louisville.

Mayor Moore also invites Kentucky Governor Andy Beshear, Indiana Governor Mike Braun, and Louisville Mayor Craig Greenberg to Jeffersonville City Hall for a collaborative discussion on this critical regional transportation issue. Working together, we believe we can find solutions that better serve drivers on both sides of the Ohio River.

We will share updates as soon as additional information becomes available.
