

Video Editor

Video editors assist video producers in the post-production process. They are responsible for ingesting footage, editing content and packaging said content. Video editors report to video producers and are encouraged to pitch ideas to the video producers.

Video editors must have a strong sense of what makes a good cut. A keen eye for detail and pacing is an asset. Familiarity with Premiere Pro is essential.

The roles and responsibilities of these positions will depend on the skills of applicants. Applicants for these roles are expected to have some knowledge of the Adobe editing suite, however they are not required to have strong proficiency in video production.

This is a part-time position, meaning that a video editor is required to be in the office three days a week 9:30 to 5:30 outside of class hours.

These responsibilities are subject to change by Front Office's discretion. Other duties as assigned.

Responsibilities:

- Must be comfortable working with Producers
- Strong video editing skills
- Some knowledge with Adobe Premiere
- Familiarity with Adobe After Effects is an asset, but not essential
- Strong sense of Gazette branding
- Ability to work on short deadlines
- A willingness to work with a team and to learn

Application Requirements:

- Please provide up to three video samples that showcase your editing abilities. Note: Because video samples tend to be large, we recommend you create a pdf with links to your videos
- Feel free to include a link to your online portfolio if applicable
