

A world-class education is within reach

With roots anchored in over a century of academic excellence, Principia School has fostered a life-long sense of purpose in students since 1898. Located in Town and Country, Principia is an independent, co-ed day and boarding college prep school offering innovative programs for preschool through grade 12.

Principia provides a future-ready, innovative, and inspirational education for students across its 360-acre campus and is a place where a student's light can shine its brightest. From focused and explorative academics to experiential learning, curriculum-based trips, global travel, intensive STEM, and competitive athletics, Principia instills a deep sense of wellbeing, worthiness, and preparedness that equips students for a lifetime of purpose.

Principia is an inclusive, nurturing community that is open to all faiths and built on Christian Science principles that honor each student as valued and limitless in their potential. With a student body that draws from the greater St. Louis area and worldwide, students are community minded and globally focused. They benefit from accomplished teachers, coaches, and staff, beautiful learning spaces, and state-of-the-art athletic facilities.

At Principia, students gain the support and confidence they need to explore and imagine possibilities that spark and inspire growth. By learning purposefully, thinking fearlessly, and acting selflessly, Principia students blossom into tomorrow's leaders. And they graduate ready to rise to the demands of the future – in college, in professional and family life, and as global citizens.
