

Trust and consistency, with attention to detail

Scott Varnum, owner/operations director gutter and window cleaning, pressure washing and even mobile auto detailing, Varnum said.

Consistent care is the key to keeping property values high, preventing more expensive issues and keeping homes clean and safe. That's why Carpet Guy Home Services takes cleaning duties seriously and brings the best tools to the job – down to its Double-O cleaning solution. This solution is a game-changer in the cleaning world, Varnum said. It cleans deep through a tested, ultra powerful formula that is eco-friendly and non-toxic.

Proper training, high-quality equipment and clear communication with customers are central features in the Carpet Guy playbook, ensuring professional and reliable results, all while having a community-minded focus.

"Supporting local families, veterans, educators and first responders – as well as small businesses – is important to us, and we strive to build long-term relationships, not just one-time service calls," Varnum said.

In the future, Varnum said Carpet Guy plans to offer express services for realtors, to accommodate their busy schedules.

"Our goal is to be known as the go-to home services company that people recommend because of the experience they receive, not just the clean they see," Varnum said.

Carpet Guy Home Services has a long family history dating back to the 1990s, and its St. Louis operation built on that foundation with a goal to serve the local community through a hands-on, owner-involved approach.

"We do more than just carpet cleaning," owner Scott Varnum said. "We offer upholstery cleaning, tile and grout, and other home-service solutions that help you extend the life of your investments."

This includes the dirty or specialized jobs, like

(314) 314-5658
carpetguyhomeservicesstl.com