Navigating the network of senior living centers can be overwhelming. Certified Senior Advisor Nancy McClure, owner of CarePatrol of Greater St. Louis, can help.

Nancy assists family members in finding the best fit for their loved one's emotional and physical needs by matching that person to a local independent living, assisted living, memory care or skilled nursing facility that best meets the senior's needs and cost considerations while ensuring their best possible quality of life.

Nancy personally screens each and every community, tours each facility with the family and checks back regularly after the senior moves in. Plus, all of her services are free.
