Experience an Unparalleled Lifestyle

Unique. Extraordinary. Exceptional. These words are often used to describe experiences and places that are good – and may even be great. But such praise is most meaningful when it is earned, when the experience in question is truly unlike anything else, far exceeding the norm – when it is, in fact, the exception to the rule.

“We believe the lifestyle we offer at The Gatesworth is truly unparalleled,” says Carrie Montrey, Executive Director of St. Louis’ premier community for active seniors. “And we’re honored that U.S. News & World Report agrees – once again naming The Gatesworth one of the Best Independent Senior Living Communities for 2025. Ultimately, our residents are what make us exceptional, and we’re proud to celebrate that every day.”

Communities like The Gatesworth are rare, in part because of the long list of amenities to match the varied interests of its residents. Some sing in the choir, others work in the garden, and still others enjoy onsite fine dining or movies in the theater. There’s yoga, a spa, heated saltwater pool, educational and cultural lectures and classes, worship services, evening cocktails and art classes. And that’s just the beginning!

Ample parking is available for residents and their guests, as it should be – but so is scheduled transportation with a driver in one of the community’s luxury cars. Fitness and wellness classes are available, as well as customized programs and personal trainers.

What other evidence is there to indicate that a life lived at The Gatesworth is an extraordinary one? Some of The Gatesworth residents have weighed in on this very question.

“It’s amazing how quickly the staff get to know you. They call you by name and truly attend to things that keep you happy.”

“The Gatesworth has everything I wanted: beautiful grounds, lovely people, great food and entertainment – and so much more.”

“The Gatesworth means a happy productive life with new friends and that I never have to be alone again. I love the staff – they make us feel so special!”

“When we’re talking about our community and the lifestyle we offer to residents, we like to say, ‘The answer is yes. What is the question?’” Montrey explains. And that really gets to the heart of the matter. The Gatesworth staff are there to ensure residents get the most out of life, whatever they imagine that life might be.

But what matters most to residents of The Gatesworth is that the community feels like home. Because everyone has a slightly different idea of what home should be, The Gatesworth apartments – which come in one and two bedrooms – can be customized to suit personal tastes and needs. The moving process is customized, too, thanks to their move-in coordinator and her team, who are ready to help with the heavy lifting. They make any move a significantly less troublesome endeavor.

The Gatesworth co-owners, Charlie Deutsch, David Smith and Bob Leonard built the community because they wanted to create a place where, after years of sacrifices made for career and family, seniors could celebrate life as they aged. This “the best is yet to come” attitude is the foundation on which The Gatesworth stands.

The Gatesworth is a community of active seniors, living life the way they define it, filling it with friends, family, new experiences, continuing education, new challenges, favorite hobbies, moments of contemplation and daily beauty – what could be more exceptional?
