

Unique décor, uniquely yours

Carrie Keipp and Lori Lofton

This year The Foyer is moving to a new location at 1332 Clarkson Clayton Center in Ellisville. Along with the move, The Foyer is setting its sights on what it does best – giving you the power to find the right artwork and decorative accents to make your house a reflection on you.

At The Foyer, owner Carrie Keipp and her team welcome guests with one goal: “We want your home to be not only unique but uniquely yours.”

“Just a few trendy pieces placed in the right position in your home, or paired with something you already have, will make a statement,” Carrie said.

She and designer Lori Lofton offer free in-store design consultations. If your home needs that little nudge from stylish into sensational, make an appointment.

“We help guests find what’s fresh and new, fits their style and meets their interest,” Carrie said. “One way to do so is with unique or traditional florals. Our lit florals add a nice touch to a tablescape or mantle.

“Design pieces go home with customers the same day, so all the homeowner has to do is confidently recreate the decor arrangement or custom piece placement in their own home.”

Guests looking for home-centric gifts can find stylish table runners, coasters and other items that serve as the perfect accent to any room in a home.

Now is the perfect time to get a jump on gift shopping and home decorating for spring. After all, Valentine’s Day, Easter and Mother’s Day are right around the corner.

“Whether you’re looking for statement pieces you won’t find anywhere else or fun gift ideas, come see us,” Carrie said. “We have it all!”
