Amy Florida

Over the past 10 years, Amy Florida has made a name for herself as an annual multi-million dollar-producer and solo agent in the St. Charles and West County markets. In addition to having a reputation for contagious positivity and the ability to make real estate fun, Amy has a passion for aligning client goals with their outcomes. She works with buyers, sellers, and investors to strategize on how best to position themselves to build real estate wealth and knock their real estate goals out of the park. Just meeting client expectations isn't enough; she guarantees a luxury and unforgettable experience to all clients she serves.

Four years ago, with the addition of her twin girls, she quickly realized that support for her existing clients was essential to keep her business thriving, so she formed Amy Florida & Co. Led by Amy, this team consists of top-tiered Agents and a Director of Sales that together have formed a powerhouse of what they call "Moms that Hustle." They are fun, engaging, and love this wild industry! Amy Florida & Co. takes great pride in each transaction and has a reputation in the industry as being knowledgeable, upbeat and professional. They enjoy partnering with other agents to create win-win scenarios one deal at a time.

With extensive knowledge of the St. Charles and the St. Louis Markets, local builders large and small, investment real estate, and all things houses, Amy and her team are the group you want on your side!

The Susie O. Johnson Team

The Susie O. Johnson Team is on the cutting edge of the real estate market today with a technology driven team that exceeds expectations.

"Our team of 10 licensed agents pride ourselves on delivering results, exceeding our clients' needs and providing an exceptional experience unmatched in the real estate industry," said Susie Johnson.

Susie and her daughter Lindsey Jacobs are the managing partners. Susie began the team 25 years ago, and Lindsey began working with her mother when she was a sophomore in high school, more than 20 years ago.

Susie said with Lindsey's influence, the team has young agents that know how to use technology to its best advantage and keep the team relevant in today's market.

The team's longevity, however, gives it the broad knowledge of experience.

"We have successfully negotiated thousands of real estate transactions and our promise to our clients is that we won't be out worked and will guide our clients through a smooth and successful transaction, while having fun along the way," said Susie.

Susie is well known as a top agent in the industry. The Five Star Agent Award, an honor given through client nominations, was started 17 years ago in St. Louis. Susie has been granted this award for 17 consecutive years.

The mother-daughter pair are so in tune, they sometimes finish each other's sentences, Susie said. They also share the same work ethic, are creative and love problem-solving. They never stop working to ensure their clients home buying and selling dreams become a reality.
