

Innovative, personal real estate guidance

Today's real estate market is nothing short of competitive, especially in sought-after areas of West county. Holly Even, a full-time REALTOR® with RedKey Realty Leaders, is a dedicated agent based in Town & Country with experience in both the St. Louis and St. Charles area markets. Holly was born and raised in St. Louis, giving her an extensive knowledge of municipalities, subdivisions and local school districts. Holly combines a unique, customized approach with innovative marketing strategies to provide top-notch customer service, from listing to closing and every step in between. This includes help for clients navigating complicated contracts and access to her vendor toolbox – a network of helpful home improvement professionals to help make every home perfect.

Her goal is to make each transaction a comfortable, low-stress experience.

"I want to build that relationship with clients," Holly said.

She also assists with staging and professional photography to create an online listing that captures the curiosity of potential buyers and draws them in for an in-person look.

"My job is to get them in the door," Holly said.

A designated Luxury Collection Specialist, Holly has additional certifications that have given her experience in selling and marketing high end properties. She has retained the qualifications and has the successful sales to have held onto this title since 2017.

Holly also offers private marketing presentations to individuals who want to know more. Don't risk putting your dream home on hold. Call (314) 616-9431 to schedule a meeting with Holly today and Discover the Difference!"
