

A father-son carpentry team you can trust

In 2005, Larry Schonert and his son, Josh, opened LS Painting and Carpentry in Ellisville. The father-son team represents the company's second and third generations, which span more than 35 years in the industry. Larry's father also was in the contracting business.

"LS is focused and detailed, fast and efficient, clean, reliable and trustworthy, using old school and new school methods," Larry said.

The company's services include all forms of home renovation from custom cabinetry and carpentry to painting and tile installation.

"We can do a total gut and renovation of a bathroom or paint a three-story foyer," Larry said. "Want high-end finishes? We can accommodate whatever our customers want with a wide range of choices."

"Our price is unmatched," Larry said. But it is the duo's talent and expertise that drives their business, which thrives on the positive recommendations of its very satisfied customers.

With housing inventory low, many people are realizing that it makes more financial sense to renovate rather than buy. Retiling the bathroom, getting new cabinets and painting a few rooms is less expensive than purchasing a new home but can certainly feel new.

Larry said the three words that best describes LS Painting and Carpentry are "adaptable, considerate and intuitive." In other words, customer service and satisfaction are high priorities.

It's not surprising that their customers describe this team as "meticulous, caring, innovative and professional." Give them a call to see how Larry and Josh can assist you.
