New space in Mid Rivers Mall

For 44 years, Jerry Roberts and his team at Midwest Music Electronics Services, Inc. have helped local musicians, churches and schools reach new musical heights. A master in the world of organ and piano restoration and repair, Jerry has built a solid reputation across the Midwest in instrument sales, service and rentals. Under his leadership, Midwest Music Electronics Services also provides professional consulting services for on-site sound system design, training and maintenance.

In-store customers will find new and used American-made pianos and organs in addition to beautiful handmade guitars, keyboards, amplifiers, sound system equipment, Hammond classic and jazz organs, Leslie speakers and all related accessories. The company's new showroom in Mid Rivers Mall has ample space to showcase it all. The company's staff includes professional audio/video experts who are available for consultation and sound and video system installations.

"We recently moved from the (doomed) Chesterfield Mall into an upscale location in the Mid Rivers Mall. We have been well received by everyone who has visited the store since it officially opened early in November. We are looking forward to serving our new neighbors as well as welcoming our established customers to this exciting new location," Jerry noted.

True to its name, Midwest Music Electronics Services also offers full service for electronic instruments (guitars, keyboards, amplifiers, church organs and digital pianos) as well as sound systems in churches, schools and other venues.

"We represent a variety of instrument manufacturers both foreign and domestic," Jerry said, inviting new customers and old friends to drop in and check out the company's new showroom.
