"I was pleased to be able to coordinate with people at Walmart and the Exeter Township School District superintendent to provide this new opportunity for local residents to receive the COVID-19 vaccine," said state Rep. Barry Jozwiak (R-Berks). "The COVID-19 vaccine is only helpful if people are able to get the shots. The vaccine will help people protect their health while also enabling more people to return to work, earn a living and provide for their families."

"The Exeter Township School District is proud to partner with Walmart to serve our community," said Dr. Kimberly Minor, Superintendent.

Walmart is holding vaccine events in locations that prioritize access for those deemed most vulnerable, as well as operational capabilities. The team factored in demographic information, local health needs, staffing and medically underserved data to identify initial locations where the company thinks it can make the greatest impact in increasing vaccine access.

Walmart pharmacies will continue to support states, jurisdictions and the federal government to help increase the accessibility and availability of COVID-19 vaccines.
