

THE UNDERSIGNED

MARSHALL COUNTY EMERGENCY RESPONDERS FIND NO CONFIDENCE IN E-911 DIRECTOR CHRIS FREEMAN

FOR THE FOLLOWING REASONS:

- A dangerously unreliable radio communications network
- Devastated working relationships with the Kentucky State Police Criminal Justice Information System, as well as other surrounding county agencies
- Limited to no discussions with agency heads regarding communications infrastructure and department needs.
- Commandeering radio systems without discussion from agencies involved.
- Emergency responders feel the attitude and performance of Marshall County E911 is at an all-time low which jeopardizes responder safety.
- Exorbitant spending on unnecessary projects despite the desperate need for safe radio communications.

We, the undersigned significant others of Marshall County's Emergency Responders, find no confidence in E-911 Director Chris Freeman for the following reasons:

- A dangerously unreliable radio communications network
- Devastated working relationships with surrounding counties and the Kentucky State Police Criminal Justice Information System
- Limited to no discussions with our responders or agency heads regarding communication infrastructure, department needs, or the concerns of responders brought to E-911 Director Freeman
- The commandeering of radio systems without discussion from agencies involved and impacted by those discussions

The significant others of Marshall County's Emergency Responders feel the attitude and performance of E-911 Director Freeman wantonly jeopardizes the safety of those we love most. Our most precious asset is our family, and the attitude of their safety being worth compromising for exorbitant spending on various other unnecessary projects is both dangerous and insulting. Our responders, our families and our community deserve better.
