beginnings and endings

THE POSHARD POETRY TOUR

In a one hour reading of his own poetry as well as that of his favorite poets, Glenn Poshard explores life's beginnings and endings. All of the poems Poshard shares evoke in us the most powerful human emotions and challenge us to grapple with life's deepest questions about love, courage, faith, passion, joy, and finally, about death itself. The music he sings only gives greater depth to the poetry he so powerfully shares. You cannot go away from this reading without feeling the spiritual ebb and flow of life's embrace. You will be moved. It is a cultural event that you will never forget.

Glenn Poshard has been working his entire life to support the needs of poor and hungry children, starting with his work in a Korean orphanage when he was only 18 years old. Hunger is rampant among so many children in southern and central Illinois. He has a goal of raising $500,000 for local food pantries by Christmas. The money will be used to purchase fresh fruits and vegetables for hungry children.

"I would be honored to have you join me in this effort to feed hungry children."
