State law requires the district to adopt a policy and procedure that do the following: (1) incorporate the office of the superintendent of public instruction's rules and guidelines developed under RCW 28A.642.020 to eliminate discrimination in Washington public schools on the basis of gender identity and expression; (2) address the unique challenges and needs faced by transgender students in public schools; and (3) describe the application of the district policy and procedure prohibiting harassment, intimidation, and bullying to transgender students.

The superintendent will develop a procedure that meets the criteria described above and will designate one person in the district as the primary contact regarding that procedure.
